READY TO SUBMIT NEW MONEY PLAN

Vreeland Committee Prepares a Measure Which Will Be Considered in Republican Conference.

FOWLER HAS NEW BILL.

Question of Reserve Likely to Prove Only Stumbling Block; Members Approve "Tribune's" Suggestions.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—[Special.]—Preparation of the new currency bill which is to be presented to the conference of house republicans tomorrow evening for its approval was completed today.

The committee, consisting of Representatives Vreeland of New York, Burton of Ohio, Weeks of Massachusetts, McKinney of Illinois, and Knowland of California, which was appointed at the republican conference last Wednesday night and instructed to draw up a bill recognizing commercial paper through clearing house associations as a safe and logical asset for emergency currency, worked steadily today and produced a measure which will be put in print tomorrow and distributed to members of the conference.

Fowler Has New Bill.

Coincident with the action of the special committee it may be stated that Representative Fowler of the "insurgents" and chairman of the committee on banking and currency will have out a new bill tomorrow with which he will make his final plea for the adoption of the currency ideas he has been advocating. Copies of this bill, along with a personal letter from Mr. Fowler, will be sent to no less than 6,000 banks throughout the country.

The measure completed by the special committee today will resemble in a great measure the latest bill introduced by Representative Vreeland. Some of the chief additions are the mention of the lawful money reserve for emergency issues provided in the bill and provisions keeping the clearing house associations in contiguous territory and limiting each city to one association.

The bill provides that national banks, not less than ten in number, having an aggregate capital and surplus of at least $5,000,000, may form voluntary associations, and through such associations may render available as a basis for additional circulation any securities, including commercial paper, held by the National Banking association.

Currency Controller to Decide.

The securities are to be transferred in trust to clearing house associations, and associations in behalf of the banks interested may make application to the controller of the currency for an issue of additional circulating notes not exceeding 75 per cent of the cash value of the securities or commercial paper deposited. The controller of the currency, becoming satisfied that the lien in favor of the United States on the securities deposited and on the assets of the banks composing the association will be amply sufficient for the protection of the government, is allowed to direct the issue of additional notes.

The question of providing in the bill for the establishment of a lawful money reserve for new issues gave the committee considerable trouble to decide. One of the main contentions of Chairman Fowler and his small following of insurgents concerning the impracticability of the Vreeland bill has been that it provided no reserve and that without it the newly authorized notes would go out of circulation almost as fast as they entered the channels of trade, the public acting on the knowledge that no specific reserve had been provided against them. The Vreeland followers have maintained that the existing laws relating to reserves cover the proposed new issues.

Accede to Fowler's Wishes.

The committee of the conference, after discussing the question fully today, concluded to accede to the wishes of the Fowler contingent and insert in the bill a reserve provision which shall conform to the provision for the lawful money reserves in the present banking law, which provides that banks of large cities shall at all times have on hand an amount equal to at least 25 per cent of the aggregate amount of its deposits, and that the country banks shall have a reserve of at least 12 per cent.

The answers to a list of questions sent to every republican congressman during the latter part of the week enabled the committee to arrive readily at decisions concerning other important features of the bill. The committee members, however, ran counter to what a large majority of their colleagues prescribed as to the limit on the authorized issue of notes, placing it at $500,000,000 instead of at $750,000,000, the amount generally agreed upon as the proper figure. The question as to whether the members of the clearing house associations should be limited to contiguous territory was generally answered by "yes."

Accordingly the committee stipulated in the bill that there shall be, generally speaking, a grouping of the banks that enter the associations, so as to prevent banking concerns in large cities like New York and Chicago from constituting themselves heads of clearing house associations of banks in distant and widely scattered localities. It was also in response to the will of the majority of republicans that a provision permitting but one association in a city was put in the bill.

Makes All Banks Liable.

One section of the new bill makes the banks of all associations jointly and severally liable for all the notes issued by the associations.

It is generally felt that the bill, as finally arranged by the committee today, will be adopted by the conference tomorrow evening with few if any changes. However, the reserve provision is likely to go up against a few hard lines of fault finding on the part of those who can see in it an unnecessary hardship imposed upon those banks which take out emergency issues. In many quarters there is a belief that the requirement for money reserves is practically doubled, and that if the present law is to be blanketed over all notes of circulation, the limit of value of new securities to be authorized for the deposit should be increased considerably.

The redemption clause of the bill may, therefore, find it rough going in tomorrow night's conference. The apparent effort of the committee to placate the insurgents in connection with the lawful money reserve went to such lengths that the word "gold

COMPANY SEES BAD FAITH

President Roach Accuses the Employes' Organization of Dodging Arbitration Compact.

The strike vote taken by the north and west side street car men resulted in a practically unanimous vote in favor of a walkout. The balloting, which closed at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, marked the largest vote ever cast in the history of the street car men's union in Chicago. Approximately 4,500 members of division No. 241, embracing the men employed on the north and west side street car lines, voted. Of that number fewer than 200 votes were cast against a strike.

The matter now goes to a meeting of the union for further action. Whether a special meeting is to be called will be decided today by President John H. Larkin of division No. 241. At that meeting the exact result of the balloting will be announced and the question of an actual walkout decided. It is probable that before a strike actually is called a committee will be appointed to seek a conference with President John M. Roach of the Chicago Railways company.

Officials of the union, however, and the men themselves are determined on quick action. They declare they want the question of "closed" or "open shop" settled once for all on the north and west side lines. That is the point around which the entire difficulty revolves.

Leave Union; Trouble Follows.

Nineteen members resigned from the union several months ago and since then have refused to pay dues. Repeated conferences between the union committee and President Roach have been held in regard to the matter, but all negotiations failed to reach a settlement. President Roach took the position that he could not force dissatisfied members back into the union. The officers of the union answered that nonunion men could not retain their positions on the lines, according to the agreement between the company and the union.

President Roach declared the strike vote is an attempt on the part of the union to ignore the arbitration clause in the contract, in which it is provided that all differences arising during the existence of the contract shall be referred to a joint arbitration board.

While the men are determined to have the question settled without delay the chances of an actual walkout are remote. Failure to reach a satisfactory agreement, however, may result in a call to strike. In that event the entire north and west side systems of the Chicago Railways company will be tied up unless the company resolves to employ nonunion men.

Such a course would bring about a repetition of the riotous street scenes witnessed in Chicago during the street car men's strike on the lines of the Chicago City railway company in the fall of 1902.

Tunnel Still Used.

In spite of threats made by a few tunnel "strikers" that the tunnel employés' strike would grow to large proportions during the day, it didn't grow to such a size that either the tunnel company or the postoffice officials could notice it.

Tunnel men asserted there were nearly 200 men out on strike, and they predicted the bores would be tied up completely this morning. General Manager W. J. C. Kenyon of the Illinois Tunnel company said a normal force of men was at work in both the day and night shifts and that every train was running on schedule time.

"There is no strike," said Mr. Kenyon. "A few men have quit the service, but that doesn't make a strike. We have a full force of men at work and there is no trouble of any sort."

A meeting of tunnel strikers was held in the evening at 10 South Clark street, with an attendance of 173 members of the union. Steps were taken toward opening negotiations with the company for a settlement by the appointment of W. W. Clark, a newspaper man, as mediator for the union.

It was reported at the meeting that thirty men had quit work after 4 o'clock in the afternoon and that the service was crippled.

Some of the "strikers" said the tunnel company had missed fifteen mail train connections during the day, and that a forfeit of $2 apiece would have to be paid on twenty-seven mail pouches which the company failed to deliver on time.

"The mails have not been delayed," said Night Supt. McGrew of the postoffice. "If there had been any trouble with the delivery of mail we would have been the first to complain. The tunnel mail service has been as prompt today as it ever was."

Work Under Police Protection.

The R. F. Conway company, paving contractors, will begin work today under police protection. Work will be taken up on contracts at Milwaukee and Ashland avenues and at Belmont and Lincoln avenues. A number of other paving contractors with strikes on their hands also are expected to begin work this morning.

The truck drivers' union met in the afternoon and voted unanimously to reject the offer of the employers to renew the old wage agreement. The wage committee was instructed to seek another conference with the team owners and report results at a special meeting called for next Thursday evening at 145 Randolph street.

CHILDREN HIDE DYNAMITE; WHOLE CITY IN TERROR.

Boys Steal Ton of Explosive to Blow Up Las Vegas School Buildings—Citizens Fear Disaster.

Las Vegas, N. M., May 10.—[Special.]—The whole city is terrorized by the knowledge that an unknown quantity of dynamite and dynamite caps is in the possession of school children of the city. The explosive was stolen from a warehouse.

Enough of the explosive was taken to blow the city off the map, but much of it has been recovered.

The only results thus far are a great scare and the wrecking of several stores by dynamite caps placed in fuel. It is believed that fully 200 pounds of dynamite are still scattered about the city.

HE'S NEARLY GOT HER.

60,000 FIRMS TO FIGHT 'DRYS'

Concerns Which Furnish Brewers' Supplies Will Form League.

BEER MAKERS HOLD ALOOF.

Farmers May Join Raising the Total Membership to 100,000.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 10.—[Special.]—Simultaneously with the convention of the United Brewers' association here on June 8 to 10 a new organization of the allied trades, with a membership of 60,000 big business concerns, will be formed. The main object of this league will be to combat the prohibition wave.

The brewers will not be leaders in this move, although they may join it. The members of the new league will be maltsters, manufacturers of special brewing machinery, dealers in brewing supplies, real estate men, contractors, builders, wagon makers, glassmakers, insurance men, and perhaps even the agriculturists who raise the barley from which the malt is made.

The new association will be, in effect, the joining together of the local organizations which have been formed in various parts of the country. The executive officers of the local clubs will meet here to perfect the national organization.

Brewers Withheld Selves Long.

These allied tradesmen, especially the dealers in hops and malt, have tried for some years to persuade the brewers to organize all the allied trades to aid in the war on prohibition, but the brewers threw cold water on the proposition, being timid about inviting the more numerous supply men to join their own ranks.

While the brewers held aloof, however, the maltsters formed an association of their own under the title of the United States Maltsters' association, and the hop growers in the more important producing centers have done the same. At Chicago th merchants and manufacturers formed an independent club, which includes all firms that do business with the breweries.

As an outcome of these spontaneous movements in various parts of the country the leaders of the allied trades concluded to organize a national allied trades movement on a practical basis. At the suggestion of these men the United States Brewing association's organization department sent a letter to the brewers asking for the names of all persons with whom they did business. The responses proved unexpectedly large, and there is now a list comprising 60,000 names.

Thirty Clubs Already Formed.

At all the principal brewing points local and state manufacturers' and dealers' clubs are being formed, there now being about thirty of these organizations. They have all taken an enthusiastic interest in the campaign against prohibition and local option. The success of these local clubs, however, has brought the necessity for a national organization more clearly into view than ever as a means for coördinating the work of the local associations.

The sixty thousand prospective members of the national association do not include the farmers, and it is expected that these and other additions will make the membership 100,000 by the time the new organization is ready to be launched. The main significance of this movement lies in the fact that it was started entirely independent of the breweries.

NIGHT IN JAIL SHAKES RESOLVE.

Rich Bachelor Decides to Pay Fine for Alleged Revel Rather than Work It Out.

Belleville, Ill., May 10.—[Special.]—One night in jail was enough for Ewald Siebert, Belleville's $60,000 bachelor. Rather than pay a fine of $10 and costs assessed on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, Siebert, who is 60 years old, declared he would work it out in the county workhouse. After spending last night in a cell he decided to pay the fine.

SIX PASSENGERS ARE INJURED IN TROLLEY CAR COLLISION.

Two Coaches on Evanston Avenue Line Come Together at Newport Avenue—Brakes Fail to Work.

Six persons, passengers on a south bound Evanston avenue electric car, were injured early this morning when the car was struck by another one going in the same direction at Newport avenue. The first car stopped to take on passengers when the second crashed into it because of a failure of the brakes to work. Those injured are:

ROBINSON, ISAAC, sergeant in the vehicle department, both cheeks cut. Robinson lives at 1222 Roscoe street.
SIMEK, W. J., 29 years old, 1439 Lakeside avenue, left knee bruised.
CARPENSTROM, MRS. J., 29 years old, 1531 Oakdale avenue, right knee bruised.
REIGER, MISS ROSE, 26 years old, 189 Clifton avenue, both legs bruised.
LUBRANDT, MISS MAY, 22 years old, 1688 Cornelia street, left shoulder bruised.

WOMAN BY STUDYING PLANT FINDS A WAY TO GOVERN SEX.

Mrs. Calhoun Writes Book Relating Her Discovery, Which She Says Will Vastly Benefit World.

New York, May 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. C. E. Calhoun declares she has discovered the secret of sex. After thirty years, devoted largely to studying the subject, she asserts she has proved by actual demonstration that parents can have boys or girls at will, that stock breeders and ranchmen can produce cow or bull calves as they see fit, and that horticulturists can grow male or female plants at will.

The last of her own family, she maintains, was made to order. After three girls had come along she decided to change the sex of those that followed, so she put the discovery at work and had four boys. Now she is a widow and her children are grown, so she proposes to give the whole world the benefit of her discovery in a book she is writing and expects to publish it within a month.

As a household article, Mrs. Calhoun is sure her discovery will be popular. A boy or girl baby at will is bound to give joy. What her process is she is withholding until her book comes out.

LOCKS CHILDREN IN HOME; BURNS HOUSE; FIVE KILLED.

Negro of Montgomery, Ala., Attempts to Slay Entire Family and Almost Succeeds in Purpose.

Montgomery, Ala., May 10.—Jim Kennedy, a negro, locked his seven children in his house tonight and then set the house on fire. Five were burned to death.

Two of the children were so badly burned it is not believed they can recover.

Kennedy escaped and a posse is searching for him with the avowed intention of lynching him.

NIGHT RIDERS DIG MAN'S GRAVE.

After Destroying Tobacco Beds, They Leave Sword, Matches, and Note of Warning.

Aurora, Ind., May 10.—A band of marauders, supposedly from Kentucky, ruined the tobacco beds on the farm of Henry Keiser, five miles below here, early this morning. They dug a grave, put in an old sword, a box of matches, and a note warning Keiser that if he attempted to raise any more tobacco he would occupy the grave. The farmers expect more trouble.

BOMB TO SILENCE WITNESSES

House Occupied by Italian Families Dynamited; All Unhurt.

SEQUEL TO RECENT MURDER.

Rear of Building at 81 Gault Court Wrecked by Explosion.

What appears to be an attempt to assassinate Vinyenzo Vivirito and Pietro Mosotto, and their families at 81 Gault court was made early this morning.

A dynamite bomb was exploded under the stairway leading to the apartments of both families. The attempt to kill the families, the police assert, was made to prevent them from appearing as witnesses against Antonia Mariel and his son, Vito, who are to be tried in the Criminal court this morning on a charge of conspiracy to commit murder.

Joseph Concilio, who was shot and killed Feb. 2 by Batiste Scardini, had lived at the house which friends of the latter and Mariel, so the police suppose, attempted to blow up last night.

Blackmail Plot at Start.

Scardini and Mariel when, according to the police, their letters containing threats failed to intimidate the victim enough to cause him to leave $500 in a certain spot for them, decided to kill him and, it is alleged, the former shot and killed the Italian and escaped.

Vivirito and Mosotto live on the first and second floors of the two story brick building, respectively, and were preparing to retire about midnight when the bomb was exploded. It tore away a large part of the rear wall of the structure and wrecked the stairway.

No One Hurt by Explosion.

None of the persons in the house was injured, but all were thrown into a panic at the explosion. They left the structure by the front stairway, and notified the police of the Chicago avenue station. No one was seen in the vicinity of the house, although both the police and the occupants of the building believe the explosion to be the work of friends of the two men who are to be put on trial today.

Vivirito and Mosotto were both subpœnaed to appear in court today and testify against Haricin and his son. An indictment of murder has been returned against the fugitive Scardini, whose escape received much publicity at the time.

Entire Colony in Alarm.

When the police reached the building they found the entire Italian colony in alarm and most of the residents of this quarter were on the streets in fear that a similar experience would befall them if they remained indoors.

Half a dozen policemen were placed on watch to guard the structure from further damage, while more than a score of policemen and detectives searched the neighborhood in a vain quest for those who had committed the deed.

RIDE TWELVE MILES TO WED.

Charles C. Pardee and Ida Florence Nelson Go in Street Car to Evanston for Marriage Ceremony.

Ting-a-ling and several more ling-a-lings went the telephone in Justice J. F. Boyer's office at Evanston yesterday noon. The justice put the receiver to his ear and heard:

"Hello! Is that Justice Boyer?"

"Yes," was the answer.

"I am Charles C. Pardee. I am at the Palmer house in Chicago.

"Do you perform marriage ceremonies on Sunday?"

"Certainly," replied the justice.

Mr. Pardee then asked how he could reach Evanston without being noticed. He was told to travel by street car.

Shortly before 2 o'clock he arrived at the justice's office with Miss Ida Florence Nelson. The justice married them with the ring ceremony.

The marriage license was issued on May 4 at Chicago. Mr. Pardee, who is 43 years old, was formerly a resident of Evanston.

MAKE PLAYGROUND OF GUNNESS FARM

15,000 Morbid Visitors Romp at Scene of Tragedies; Women and Children Riot to See Bodies.

SOME HUNT MISSING MEN.

Chicagoans Tell How Brother, Employed at Laporte Place, Disappeared; Other Clews Received.

DEVELOPMENTS IN GUNNESS MURDERS.

Fifteen thousand seekers after the gruesome flocked to Gunness farm and made holiday at scene of tragedy; women and children rioted to see victims' bodies.

Officials prepared to resume today search for bodies which was prevented by Sunday rush of visitors; cellar will be first objective point.

Olaf Lindboe, 610 La Salle avenue, Chicago, told sheriff his brother Thomas disappeared three years ago while working on Gunness farm.

Letter written by Richland Center, Wis., man to Mrs. Gunness, in answer to matrimonial advertisement, received by authorities.

Former neighbor of Mrs. Gunness told of box dumped into lake two years ago which may contain another victim's body.

Sheriff learned Mrs. Gunness had moved barn and suspects it may have been done to cover graves of victims.

One accident, several robberies, and arrests for violation of order to close saloons enlivened day.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Laporte, Ind., May 10.—[Special.]—The grim Gunness farm, still laden with the grewsome evidence of one of the greatest murder mysteries of modern times, today resounded with the laughter of children, the quips and jests of country swains and sweethearts, the jargon of postcard sellers and "streetmen," and the loud disputations of souvenir hunters.

It is estimated that at least 15,000 persons poured into Laporte on special excursion trains, interurban cars, automobiles, and all sorts of vehicles to attend an organized feast of the morbid and curious, believed to be without parallel in the United States.

Had an admission fee of 50 cents a head been charged enough money might easily have been raised to defray the expenses of employing an additional corps of detectives to work on the case. To have done so would not materially have increased the commercial aspect of the place of butchery today.

Women Riot to See Bodies.

Sheriff Smutzer and Deputies Marr and Anelius stood guard all day to prevent the débris in the cellar of the house from being carried off by the baghul.

Digging for more bodies was out of the question. The sightseers would have swamped all attempts to conduct excavations. As it was, women clawed at the little red carriage house which has become the repository of the dismembered bodies.

They stuck their fingers in the cracks and wrenched in an attempt to pry them apart far enough to see inside and feed their curiosity.

Men boosted each other to the window in the end of the structure and gazed at the bodies until others behind pushed them from their places to make room for other gazers.

Several times during the day the doors were opened and the spectators filed "in line" past the door, through which could be seen the bodies, and from which exuded a terrible stench.

Rich and Poor, Old and Young.

Psychologists would have been at a loss to designate the spectators as belonging to any given rank of society. There were women in smartly tailored gowns who came all the way from Chicago with their husbands in costly automobiles, old men and old women who hobbled in from their homes on crutches, and hired men galore from all the farms in northern Indiana, apparently.

Members of churches mingled with the demimonde in struggling for views of the pits from which the bodies were taken last week, and babes of a few months sat neglected in their little carriages, while fathers and mothers bought postcards bearing pictures at which Doré might have stood aghast.

And over all flowed revelry and merriment suited to a country fair or a summer amusement park. It was a perfect day and under fruit trees showering vari-colored petals of bloom bevies of country maidens sat and ate their lunches.

Ball Game Under Eclipse.

A ball game was in progress at the local ball park, but the fearsome attractions of the Gunness place proved overmastering rivalry in point of attendance.

The chance to take home a brick from the Gunness place was considered preferable to such an every day opportunity as that of a mere ball game. It was considered big enough to draw people all the way from Chicago, Indianapolis, Goshen, South Bend, Michigan City, Elkhart, Mishawaka, New Carlisle, and a hundred villages and hamlets.

Back and forth through the crowd walked "Uncle Ben," a simple old negro from the country armed with a forked willow "divining rod" with which he assumed to detect hidden graves of murder victims.

"Thirty-seven in all," he announced solemnly to the superstitious.

Post Cards for the Morbid.

"Is there a dance down at the pavilion tonight?" called a country boy with a bunch of lilacs in the buttonhole of his Sunday coat.

"You bet," responded a Hoosier girl, with her mouth full of chewing gum.

"I'll be there with bells on," responded the lad, gleefully, just as a postal card man started to drown him out with stentorian shouts of "Here's where you get your picture postal cards of the Gunness family, 10 cents each, or three for a quarter; better take a half a dollar's worth and make a good selection."

"Postals of Helgelein's body all gone," announced another vender. "Sold 'em all, but I got some good ones left of the other bodies."

"This is just the way this body laid," announced another man with a bundle of horrible pictures. "You see the head there, the trunk there, and the limbs are Mrs. Gunness sewed them up in the gunny sacking."

"Ice cream, 5 cents; ice cream, 5 cents," piped a man with a white wagon at the edge of the road just as a surrey, converted into a candy wagon and manned by white coated men pulling white cream dashed by, shedding dust over the cornucopias of cold sweets for dispensation to waiting customers.

"Awful, isn't it?" observed Sheriff Smutzer, mopping his brow. "There does not seem to be any horror in it to these people. I never saw folks having a better time."

"More people here than there was at the fair, ain't there, sheriff?" observed an urchin on friendly terms with the arm of the law.

"It's all the fuperal that Mrs. Gunness' victims air goin' ter git," observed a somber old woman in rusty black who had brought her sandwiches and some of her crabapple jelly with her. "I've watched funerals off an' on fer fifty years an' this is the biggest an' liveliest one I've seen yit."

"Git away from that barn; hain't you got yer eyes full?" shouted a farmer's wife of her 10 year old son, who was looking through the window at a sight that he may dream of for nights to come.

"There'll be a lot of folks in northern Indiana afraid to go to bed in the dark tonight," amended a man who seemed to know what he was talking about.

Special orders had been given to saloonkeepers to forego their not unusual custom of keeping back doors open. One firm of saloonkeepers, Carl & Carl, were charged with having transgressed and an arrest was made.

The only accident worthy of note occurred when Mrs. Benjamin Zanel, of Laporte had her arm broken by the overturning of a carriage.

Chicagoans Hunt Missing Man.

When the confusion of the day had given place to comparative quiet at night, Sheriff Smutzer recalled that two brothers from Chicago, one named Olaf Lindboe, 610 La Salle avenue, had approached him on the grounds and said they were hunting for traces of a missing brother, Thomas, who left Chicago three years ago to work for Mrs. Gunness. Olaf said Thomas, in the last letter they had from him, said he was to marry his employer.

Olaf wrote to Mrs. Gunness a little later and she replied that Thomas had gone to St. Louis and that she had had no word from him. Olaf viewed the unidentified corpses, but was unable to find any likeness to his brother in the decayed bundles of bones and flesh.

A letter from J. T. Queealy, Blair, Trempealeau county, Wis., in answer to a matrimonial advertisement, also has been received here.

Another report of a man missing came from Richland Center, Wis., but did not contain the name of the man. A letter in reference to the matter was from William Fries of the Wisconsin town.

The letter from Richland Center was written regarding a man whose name was not given, but who lived in Medina, N. D. It said:

"I have been trying to find a friend of mine who was last heard from in Chicago in February, 1907. Since reading of the terrible tragedy in Laporte I cannot help believing that he might have been one of the victims. He was about 40 years old and crippled in both feet, the right foot, I think, being turned more than the left. This fact ought to make the identification possible. He was a bachelor and might have answered one of Mrs. Gunness' matrimonial advertisements."

Others Give Supposed Facts.

A letter to Mayor Lemuel Darrow, which that official classified as "the work of a lunatic," was startling. The only identity admitted in the missive was that the letter had been written by "somebody." It was as follows:

"Drag the lake or pond some distance from the Gunness farm for the body of Mrs Gunness. It lies near the shore and clutches with tight hands something on the bottom of the lake. The feet are pointed toward the shore. The head of the woman whose body was taken from the ruins of the home will be found near the body of Mrs. Gunness.

"Lamphere is not guilty. Other valuable information will be forwarded as soon as the body is found."

A third letter, received during the day by Coroner Charles S. Mack, was unsigned. It bore an Indianapolis date line and was signed "yours truly." Its contents set forth a system of weights and measurements to be applied to the bodies taken from the burned house which would either prove or disprove them the bodies of Mrs. Gunness and her children.

Matrimonial Trap Laid Bare.

Some new information as to the extent and continuity of Mrs. Gunness' matrimonial campaign was afforded by the discovery that two letters addressed to her had reached the Laporte postoffice since her death. They were opened, but their contents, beyond an explanation that they showed the correspondence had been begun through answers to her advertisements, were kept secret.

The first one, received on April 29, the day after the fire which destroyed the Gunness home, was from Carl Peterson, Waupaca, Wis., who already has given public expression to his gratitude for a timely escape from her clutches.

The other was from a man hitherto unmentioned in the chronicles of the oft betrothed Norwegian woman. It came to Laporte five days after she is supposed to have been burned to death and was signed, as nearly as the signature could be deciphered, by J. T. Queelleay, Blair, Trempeleau county, Wis. It showed t the courtship by mail was in its incipient stages and that the writer was hopeful of adding the widow's little fortune to his worldly wealth.

Box May Hold Victim.

Casual questioning among the visitors to the farm during the afternoon revealed at least three persons who were able to give some assistance to the men investigating the widow's history.

The "tip" regarded as of the most importance was given by Frank Lapham, a young man whose home until about two years ago was upon one of the farms adjoining that of Mrs. Gunness.

He declared that a wooden box from which passersby had noticed foul odors floated had been dumped from the latter place into the shallow waters of Fishtrap lake about two years ago. He thought that it still was in the same place, and a deputy sheriff will be sent with him to inquire into its contents, if it can be found.

Sheriff Smutzer states this evening that all will be ready in the morning for the operations of Louis Scholtz, the mining expert, who is to have charge of the "washing" of the ashes left in the ruins of the house in search of traces of the $300 worth of gold which ornamented Mrs. Gunness' teeth.

Will Hunt Other Graves.

In addition to this method of investigation, the sheriff said, more explorative digging may be carried into such sections of the farm that have not been touched hitherto. The services of an assayer may be required if gold is found and it becomes doubtful if it is dental gold from Mrs. Gunness' teeth.

Sheriff Smutzer has been informed that about three years ago Mrs. Gunness, for no apparent purpose, had her barn moved about 6 feet back. It is suspected that bodies were buried beneath it, and that the work was done to hide the graves. This is one of the theories of the many remaining to be investigated.

Mayor Lemuel Darrow, a law partner of H. W. Worden, who is defending Ray Lamphere, said today that the defense will start an investigation of the Pine Lake cemetery, an old burial ground about a mile from the Gunness farm.

It is the theory of the defense that Mrs. Gunness killed her children, placed the body of a large woman near them, set fire to the house to cover up her crime, and then fled. If it is discovered that any of the graves in Pine Lake cemetery have been disturbed recently Mayor Darrow thinks that this theory will be more or less substantiated.

RAY LAMPHERE A BIGAMIST?

Pittsburg, Pa., May 10.—[Special.]—Ray Lamphere, Mrs. Bella Gunness' farmhand, is a bigamist several times over, according to George H. Roman, a real estate agent in this city, but formerly a detective. Lamphere formerly lived in Allegheny, but left when a woman he married there discovered he had wives elsewhere.

SEARCH FOR AUSTIN VICTIMS.

Digging at Mrs. Gunness' Former Residence in Alma Street May Be Begun by Police Today.

Chicago officials today probably will begin digging in and about the premises at 620 Alma street, former home of Mrs. Gunness, in search of supposed victims.

Assistant Chief Schuettler and Coroner Hoffman will talk the matter over at 10 o'clock this morning and decide just how far they ought to go. In several of the twenty-six anonymous letters which Schuettler has received he is urged to excavate at the other houses the woman occupied in Chicago.

J. Nellis, owner of the Alma street property, says he will permit the police to make the excavations provided they put everything back as they find it. Coroner Hoffman promises to meet half the cost from his funds, and the police will provide the rest. Personal friends and strangers still continue to give tips to Schuettler regarding Mrs. Gunness, and his office telephones are kept busy.

John R. Larson, 992 Francisco avenue, nephew of Mrs. Gunness, is positive that she perished in the ruins at Laporte.

"My aunt was bad enough, and we are not trying to shield her, but I think they are accusing her of a little too much," said Larson. "I went to Laporte with my sister, Bertha, and my mother for the purpose of identifying the corpse. On the way we met an old friend who knew my aunt well, and as soon as she said there was a big scar across the chest of the corpse we concluded there was no doubt about the identification.

"We all knew of that scar, and so did the people whose children she nursed. I think that fellow Lamphere is more to blame than my aunt, and I believe he alone can explain how Mrs. Gunness and the children met death."

Something may result from the investigations by postoffice officials. Postoffice Inspector Fletcher is back from Laporte with an intercepted letter from Mrs. Gunness to a Chicago man, and the Cincinnati department has one directed to a man of that city. They are said to be answers to letters she received through her advertisements for a husband.

Relatives of Mrs. Gunness, interested in her estate, have planned to prove that she is dead beyond doubt. She carried no life insurance, but left an estate supposed to be worth $15,000.

The story that Edward Canary, 10 years old, met death on the farm of Mrs. Gunness, is not bearing up well. Levi T. Regan, principal of the Sherman school, residing at 609 West Sixty-sixth street, is a cousin of Canary, who mysteriously disappeared two years ago.

"While we have not heard from Edward for two years, it hardly seems possible that he became a victim of Mrs. Gunness," said Prof. Regan. "Edward worked for Herman Biejen, a farmer near the Gunness place, and left for parts unknown after a disagreement with Biejen. Edward's mother has an idea Mrs. Gunness could account for him, but I take a different view of the matter, and would not be surprised to hear that he is alive."

TWO SHOOT THEIR FATHERS TO PROTECT THEIR MOTHERS.

Iowa Girl Uses a Rifle and New York Boy a Revolver, Badly Wounding Parents.

Dubuque, Ia., May 10.—[Special.]—Defending her mother with a rifle, Miss Maude Fleming, 20 years old, shot her father, Mont Fleming, in the head. He is not expected to live. Fleming, according to the young woman's statement to the police, was about to attack her mother when she fired. She was arrested, but released on her own recognizance. The sympathy of the community is with the young woman.

Shoots Father to Protect Mother.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 10.—Norman White, 15 years old, according to his story to the police, had seen his mother abused by his father ever since he could remember. Yesterday he spent his savings for a revolver and when the elder White threatened to strike his wife the boy fired five shots, one bullet penetrating his father's right lung.

PENNSYLVANIA FLYER SAVED FROM TRAIN WRECKERS' PLOT.

Shifting Engine, Which Outlaws Had Not Counted On, Goes Into Ditch—Clew Expected to Lead to Arrests.

Washington, Pa., May 10.—The passing of a shifting engine which the would-be train wreckers had not counted upon averted disaster to the east bound flyer from St. Louis to Pittsburg on the Pennsylvania, between here and McDonald, late last night.

An obstruction was placed on the tracks in such manner, experienced railroad men say, that nothing could have saved the fast train had it not been discovered. The switching engine ran into the obstruction and was ditched. A piece of rail was laid across the track and firmly wedged in position.

Railroad detectives are working on a clew which is expected to result in arrests. The flyer is one of the most important on the road in passenger and express traffic.

FIRE DRILL BEFORE CAMERAS.

Moving Pictures Are Taken to Advertise Show for Benefit of Widows and Children.

A company of Chicago firemen with one of the new engines—No. 32—and hook and ladder No. 22 gave an exhibition before moving picture machines in Michigan avenue and Washington street yesterday afternoon.

The pictures will be used to advertise the show that is to be give on Oct. 5-18 at Dexter park by the Firemen's Benevolent association. The proceeds will be devoted to the widows and children of dead firemen who are not aided by the pension fund.

The Wallace circus has been engaged for two weeks as a feature of the show, which will include fire drills by picked teams from various parts of the country.

FIND BODY; SEE NEW MYSTERY

Cemetery Laborers Uncover Girl's Corpse at Lake Station, Ind.

SEEK FOR CLEWS TO MURDER

Police Believe Burial Was Secret and Without Authority.

Disclosures of three murder mysteries within the last two weeks have startled the little hamlet of Lake Station, just east of Gary, Ind., into wild excitement. Timid women and men are afraid to venture unaccompanied in lonely places at night.

A young woman of about 25 years, 5 feet 6 inches in height, furnishes the latest subject for investigation. Her body was dug from an improvised grave in an abandoned part of Lake cemetery. The corpse is now held in a vault in the hope that some one may yet be able to identify it, though all who viewed the body yesterday said she is a stranger in that neighborhood.

No one has been found to give any clew as to how or when her body was buried there. The entire cemetery is inclosed with fences and the gates are kept locked. The presumption is that she was taken to the rear part of the cemetery in a vehicle and that one of the persons in the supposed plot passed the body over the fence to an accomplice on the inside, and a hole was hurriedly dug and the body concealed.

No Marks on Body.

The officials have found no outward evidences of foul play, but the circumstances seem convincing. The body was never embalmed, there was no sign of coffin or rough box, and the body was clad in ordinary street wearing apparel of white waist and gray skirt. It must have been buried within the last two years.

The body is in a fairly good state of preservation, and it is believed the features would be readily recognized by any one who knew her. She had heavy auburn hair, wore a pearl necklace about her neck, a gold bracelet on her right wrist, and a rosary and cross were found lying upon her breast.

The discovery was made Saturday morning when Samuel Aker, sexton at the cemetery, and David McMichael, a gravedigger, were preparing for the interment of Joseph Schneider, whose body was found in the Calumet river, near Miller's station. The corpse of Schneider's father, Philip Schneider, formerly occupied that grave, but two years ago that part of the cemetery began filling up with water and Schneider's body, together with all others in that part of the cemetery, were removed to dry graves.

Lately the space in the dry part has been used up so rapidly that it was decided that all persons owning ground in the abandoned part should use it for new graves. The Schneider family never gave any one permission to use that grave, and the cemetery records show the place marked "vacant."

Hunt for Clews.

After the first excitement over the discovery old residents recalled that previous to five years ago there was no fence at that end of the cemetery and that a wagon road ran through it from the river. The suggestion was that some one, too poor to buy a grave, merely took possession. The fallacy of this theory was shown by the cemetery's map and the survey of the land in possession of Philip Schneider Jr.

All those directly concerned are sure beyond doubt that it is the identical spot where the elder Schneider's body formerly lay. The good clothes on the corpse do not indicate that the woman was in poor circumstances; the absence of coffin and rough box, the unmarked grave itself, and the fact that there was no funeral unaccounted for, convinces Town Marshal Klots, Coroner E. M. Shanklin, and the cemetery officials that the plotters had hoped to keep the grave secret. The regular vehicle entrance to the cemetery leads right past the sexton's house.

Other Mysterious Deaths.

Two weeks ago the body of an unknown man was found in the woods at the Knickerbocker sand pit. His pockets were turned inside out, and beside him lay a little heap of ashes, which Klots believes is the remains of a fire made of the man's papers to destroy all traces of his identity.

On Friday there was taken from the Grand Calumet river at Millers the body of an unknown man about 30 years of age. The clew was furnished by a suit of clothes upon the bank. Though there were many footprints about the clothes, indicating the presence of several persons, and a possible struggle, it was considered a plain case of suicide until after the inquest began and the clothes were discovered to be the size for a 16 year old boy, far too small for the 150 pound corpse.

FOUR HURT BY STREET CARS; SWITCH ENGINE CRUSHES MAN

Bicycle Rider's Skull Fractured and Several Passengers Slip from Platforms and Are Crushed by Wheels.

Reports of street car accidents in Chicago continued to come in yesterday. Following the killing of one man and serious injury of a boy on the State street line Saturday night, four men were injured in similar accidents on Sunday. In addition another man was killed by a switch engine. Following are the victims:

DALESS, FRANK, 25 years old, employe of L. Wolff Manufacturing company; struck while riding bicycle by east bound Ogden avenue car No. 4797 and thrown in front of west bound car at Randolph and Market streets; skull fractured; taken to county hospital.

GREENER, ENGLEHART, 50 years old, 254 Blackhawk street; foot crushed when he slipped from platform of Clybourn avenue car.

RILEY, JOHN J., 24 years old, 52 Lewis street; also slipped from platform of a Southport avenue car; right leg crushed.

SWOBODER, FRANK, 45 years old, 77 Harrison street; bruised when he stepped from moving Ashland avenue car.

SHOT IN RELIGIOUS DISPUTE

Frank Chmiel Is Slain by Saloonkeeper After Short Quarrel.

ASSASSIN FLEES AND HIDES.

Boy Is Wounded by Man for Whom He Refused to Buy a Drink.

A religious argument was the cause of a murder last night at the saloon of Frank Kamokowski, 4507 Marshfield avenue. The victim was Frank Chmiel, 4542 Paulina street. Witnesses to the killing told the New City police that Kamokowshi, the saloonkeeper, shot Chmiel and then fled, hatless and coatless.

The murder occurred early in the evening, when the saloon was filled with customers. What the argument was about the police were unable to learn further than it was a religious discussion. The saloonkeeper opposed Chmiel and ordered him from the place. On his refusal to go, Kamokowski, it is said, snatched a revolver from behind the bar and fired at Chmiel, the bullet striking him in the abdomen.

It is thought the saloonkeeper is hiding with friends in South Chicago.

Robert Garvey surrendered himself to the police early in the morning. He is accused of killing Matthew Kernick at Thirty-eighth street and Armour avenue on Saturday. Kernick lived at 621 West Forty-fifth street.

Police are seeking Adam Tobias, 20 years old, who is said to have shot John Wardzynaska, 15 years old, for refusing to buy him a drink. Wardsynaska was wounded in the left hip. He lives at 24 Chapin street. Tobias, who lives at 81 West Division street, fled after the shooting.

VESSEL DISABLES A BRIDGE.

Many Persons on Ninety-second Street Span Frightened When the Steamer Yale Strikes It.

The steamer Yale, while going up the river to Hedstrom's coal dock at South Chicago yesterday, crashed into the Ninety-second street bridge, breaking the shaft and knocking the structure off its bearings.

Many persons were on the bridge at the time and there was great excitement, but all escaped without injury. The bridge will be out of commission two days.

While repairs are being made the steamer Eagle, formerly used as a tender for the gambling ship City of Traverse, will be used as a ferry for the use of the street car passengers. The steamer was not injured.

Authority in Decoration

THE more exact and extensive your knowledge of fine furniture and furnishings the greater will be your enthusiasm at the decorative service offered by this organization.

The less you know in detail of these things the greater is your need of the organization that does know, that has in its own stocks the best the world affords, and that can be depended upon to give you genuine service, at the right price and at one profit.

Our decorative materials and period furniture are now assembled in the new "Cowan Galleries."

The Galleries occupy our entire fourth floor, which has been divided into a series of permanent specimen rooms completely decorated and furnished in the styles of the best periods—French, English, Italian, Colonial, etc.

It is a simple statement of fact to say that these Galleries constitute the most complete exposition of period decoration to be seen in America. They are also sufficient evidence of our decorating facilities and efficiency.

We respectfully request the careful attention of owners and architects.

"One hundred dollars a pair"

"would not be too much for the right shoes—your shoes—if I could not get them for less," said one of our regular patrons.

He did not mean that we could possibly put into a pair of shoes one hundred dollars in value—what he meant was that no price could overstate the value which one gets out of shoes that are so carefully and so truly fitted that one is not conscious of having them on unless he looks at them.

That is what correct shoe-fitting means.

We do it.

FAIRBANKS GUEST AT POLISH SCHOOL

Vice President Assists in Dedication of St. Stanislaus' New Building.

OPPOSES NEW ARMAMENT

Urges Spending Money for Education Rather than for Battleships.

St. Stanislaus' Polish Roman Catholic parochial school, the largest in the United States, if not in the world, was dedicated yesterday while between 20,000 and 30,000 residents of the parish, the Sixteenth ward, marched through the immense new building. Vice President Charles Warren Fairbanks was the guest of honor at the dedication, which was the greatest religious and national demonstration of Polish-Americans ever held in this country.

Archbishop Quigley, assisted by Bishop Muldoon and Chancellor Edward M. Dunne of the Chicago archdiocese, conducted the religious ceremonies following the parade of the societies of the parish from the Auditorium Annex to the cathedral and parochial school at Noble and Ingraham streets. The church, schools, and the streets surrounding the institution were crowded by Polish Catholic members for hours after the ceremony was concluded.

Speaks at Banquet.

Following the dedication exercises a banquet was held at which Vice President Fairbanks was the principal speaker. In his address he deprecated the request of President Roosevelt asking congress that four battleships be built by the United States, asserting this money should rightly be placed in schools, and declared any steps towards centralization of power should be strenuously objected to by citizens of the country. He said in part:

"I have violated a rule to which I have ever adhered when I accepted an invitation to assist in the dedication of this mammoth school.

"The great Christian churches are expanding in power and in strength. They were never more determined to drive sin out of the world nor were they ever a more potent and beneficent influence in our civilization than they are now. The edifice which was dedicated today is but one of the numerous evidences of the effort of one of the great Christian churches to contribute to the betterment and exaltation of mankind.

Says World Grows Better.

"Statistics tell us of the magnitude of our trade, of the investment in factory, mine, and field, railroad and ships, in schools, colleges, universities, churches, and charities. The vast cathedrals, the churches, their missions and hospitals, schools, and colleges which we find in every city furnish the conclusive answer, we are growing better. Vast armies of men and women are consecrating themselves to this grand work, that of making the world better.

"We hear much of the need of a large navy and a large army. We all agree that we should provide adequately for the national defense. The money necessary to this end should be freely expended, but beyond our reasonable needs we should not go.

"Our national tranquillity is not menaced from without nor is our domestic peace threatened from within. The skies beam benignantly above us. Our people are enamored of their institutions and are eager only to win the trophies that are to be found in the fruitful fields of peaceful industry.

Speaks for Education.

"I would rather see the people spend their money in building up great schools, colleges, and universities than see them spend it unduly expanding armies and navies.

"The armies of young men and young women trained in schools are the armies destined to win the victories of the future which shall meet dignify and glorify American achievement. They are the armies of peace and in the final analysis the armies and navies of our enduring national security. War appeals to the heroic. We have looked upon its honorable scars and know well what it is. The annual pension roll of a hundred and fifty million dollars tells something of the suffering and havoc which war has caused.

"Christian civilization is laying the foundation of domestic and international tranquility and soon an appeal to the reason of men will make unnecessary an appeal to the sword.

"Keep Government Close to People."

"Teach the new generation the peril of undue centralization of power. Teach them the necessity of keeping the government close to the people, for power in the hands of the people will not be abused.

"Teach the new generation the pernicious effects of socialism. A propaganda is maintained to teach its so-called virtues. Socialism levels down instead of leveling up. It is subversive of the whole purpose of republican government. It is a sort of procrastination principle of society, and puts a handicap upon genius, ability, and thrift.

"This land was dedicated by our fathers to the development of men and women of brains and heart and soul. Take away from men and women the stimulus which individual initiative affords and industrial and political progress is at an end. It is a credit to the Catholic church that it has no sympathy with socialism.

Hits at Socialism.

"There has been transplanted to our soil an enemy to our institutions. It is a protest against republican government. Yes, it is a challenge to all government. Anarchy is un-American and un-Christian. Anarchy is at war with our best traditions and fondest hopes. The church and the schools must fill the minds of men with a true conception of this arch enemy.

"This occasion will have failed of its purpose if it does not increase our faith in our political institutions. Let us resolve from this hour to do more than we have heretofore done to provide for the welfare of our fellowmen and to safeguard the nation, so that though the rain cease and the floods come and the winds blow, it will stand, for it is founded upon a rock.'"

Archbishop Arouses Enthusiasm.

Archbishop Quigley declared that before he had ever seen a Pole his reading of Polish history had made him love and sympathize with the Polish people and had made him ambitious to fight and die in their cause. He roused them to the wildest enthusiasm when he continued by bitterly denouncing the present policy of the Prussian government in Poland, and urged the interference of the United States. After pointing out the evil of socialism and the efficacy of parochial school training in combating it, he said:

"But there is one form of socialism about which we hear but little protest, though it is a manifestation of socialism that is blighting the hopes of a nation. The policy of the Prussian government in Poland in expropriating the lands of the Polish people is socialism of the most radical kind. This kind of socialism, governmental socialism, a socialism which has deprived the Irish people of everything but their nationality, and which threatens equal oppression for the Polish people, should be hit and hit hard.

Asks Nations to Protest.

"Why do not the nations of the world rise up and protest against this infamy? Why do we protest against the commission of lesser evils in other countries while a government at the point of the cannon is robbing a people of its land and its language? It is because a great nation is the oppressor that the other nations are dumb.

"But as surely as these people are being oppressed so surely will the vengeance of God light upon the oppressor, and as surely as you and your compatriots, my Polish brothers, are being persecuted so surely will a just God bless you. Unscrupulous tyrants may depopulate Poland, but you will multiply in this land as the children of Israel did in Egypt. You have the privilege of mingling all that is best in your race with all that is best in other races and form on this continent the flower of history, God's own nation."

The archbishop was emphatic in his declaration that only through the moral training of the young could the integrity of the nation be preserved.

Praises Parochial Work.

"You, in building a great parochial school like this," he said, "are doing a wonderful work of practical Christianity and patriotism. You are laying deep in the hearts of future generations a foundation of sound principles which cannot be shaken by the storms of anarchy or the poison of socialism.

"I am glad to have the representative of temporal power in the United States here to confirm what I say, to have him speak out as he has done, and say that the safety of the nation lies in the education of the child morally as well as mentally and physically.

"There are those who believe in no hereafter and who would therefore seek to make this a place where they can gratify their every wish and appetite even at the expense of their fellow citizens, by robbing others of all their natural rights. The absence of faith in God is at the root of all socialistic beliefs. We must raise generations of children in the firm faith that their bodies and the satisfaction of animal passions is not the supreme end of life. We must instill in them a faith in something higher, greater, better, an eternity of infinite happiness."

The Rev. Father Gordon Speaks.

Walter Schrojda, in behalf of the Kosciusko club, the citizens' club which gave the banquet, introduced the toastmaster, after which an address of welcome was made by the Rev. Father Francis Gordon. He expressed his gratification at having the second highest official of the United States government as their guest.

"There are more Poles in Chicago than in any other city in the world, excepting Warsaw," said the speaker, "and this is said to be the largest parish and the largest parish school in the United States, enrolling over 4,500 school children. The school just dedicated is a grand structure and a great landmark. The building of it shows the spirit of devotion of sacrifice of Polish-American of this parish for their religion, which animates our people."

At the banquet liquors were served. Vice President Fairbanks barely touched the rim of the glasses to his lips.

Many Polish-Americans Take Part.

It was estimated that between 20,000 and 30,000 Polish-Americans took part in the celebration. Headed by a carriage in which were seated Archbishop Quigley and Chancellor Dunne, followed by a carriage containing Mr. Fairbanks and Anthony Czarnecki, who was master of ceremonies and toastmaster at the banquet, sodalities, Polish societies, and Polish branches of Knights of Columbus, led by five bands of Foresters and the Seventh Regiment band, marched down Ingraham street to the church. Here the vice president was met by the Very Rev. Francis Gordon, C. R., pastor of the church, and escorted into the sisters' home. Mr. Fairbanks stood at a window and waved his hat and smiled as the thousands passed by and saluted him.

Following the short dedication ceremonies, the vice president, Archbishop Quigley, Bishop Muldoon, and Chancellor Dunne watched the 4,500 pupils of the new school as they marched before them carrying Polish and American flags.

Committee Receives Vice President.

Vice President Fairbanks arrived in Chicago at 8:40 o'clock yesterday morning and was met at the Union depot by a committee consisting of August Kowalski, Charles Watchtel, Anthony Czarnecki, Adam Block, Bernard Matz, Dr. D. Klarkowski, Walter J. Schrojda, and other members of the St. Stanislaus church. He took luncheon at the Annex with Patrick O'Donnell, Mr. Czarnecki, Judge Haney, and John A. McGarry, members of the Irish Fellowship club which recently entertained him in Chicago.

SAVE DEAD FROM CHARITY

Army of Pythians Marches to Graves with Four Bodies.

DIED WITHOUT RELATIVES.

But Every Lodge in Chicago Shows Fraternal Loyalty.

Four funerals in one, without a single relative to mourn the dead, but 5,000 brothers and sisters of a fraternal order to escort the bodies, ended in Elmwood cemetery. The thousands stood about the open graves during the services. Such were the conditions of the Knights of Pythias parade and funeral yesterday afternoon.

The remains laid to rest were those of:

CRIPPS, ALFRED E., of Lake lodge No. 119, and member of the Chicago Waiters' association, who died at the county hospital last December, and whose body was recovered from the potter's field last Friday.

IRONS, MRS. JENNIE, 72 years old; widow of Col. C. D. Irons, who twenty years ago was keeper of records and seal of Summit lodge No. 54, Truckee, Cal.

PATZNER, JOSEPH, of Little Prince lodge, Moundsville, W. Va., who died in Chicago without relatives in America.

SCHLEUTER, MRS. LOUISE, widow of a member of World's Fair lodge No. 382, who lived in Morgan Park.

Every Pythian Lodge in Line.

The cortege formed at 1 o'clock at Castle hall, 157 Washington street. Every Pythian lodge in Cook county was in the line. The Chicago Waiters' association marched as an escort of honor at the sides of the four hearses. Led by a platoon of mounted police and a band playing a funeral dirge, the procession, with the uniformed rank of the order, under command of Col. R. M. Bamford on the right, moved to the Union depot, where special trains to Elmwood were in waiting.

At the cemetery the march was resumed to the graves, where the funeral rites of the Pythians were performed.

After prayer by Prelate Freak and the Pythian sisters' ode, Past Grand Chancellor John J. Brown spoke of the high principles of the order, saying it gave its members something to live for beside themselves.

No Grave Paid for by Tax.

"If misfortune should come to any of us," he said, "here before our eyes are pledges that we shall not be allowed to go to a goal paid for by taxation. No brother knight and no Pythian sister shall ever be buried by the cold hand of charity."

Grand Outer Guard Joseph M. Omo spoke on "Charity, Pythian Charity." When he had finished his address Mr. Omo was informed of the death of his own sister that morning, a fact which had been withheld from him.

HURLS BABIES FROM WINDOW

Woman Crazed by Illness Attempts to Kill Her Children.

BROTHER SAVES HER LIFE.

Skull of Infant Five Months Old Is Fractured by the Fall.

Suffering from the effects of a long illness Mrs. Emma Lofgren, 327 North Albany avenue, while temporarily insane, threw her two little children from the second story window last night and was prevented from leaping after them by her brother, Jefferson D. Burke, who was attracted by the cries of one of the children.

Edward Lofgren, the husband, is a molder employed by the Griffin Car Wheel works. With his brother-in-law, he was sitting in his dining room when Mrs. Lofgren, with the two children, Arthur, aged 3 years, and Julia, aged 5 months, retired to the front room. Lofgren then went to the kitchen, and Burke was alone in the dining room when he was attracted by the screams of his little nephew.

Woman Fights Her Rescuers.

He ran into the room, closely followed by the husband, and caught Mrs. Lofgren just as she was about to leap from the window. Mrs. Lofgren fought viciously and it took the combined strength of her husband and brother to hold her. The children were picked up by Emil Stone and John Leaf, who live on the first floor, and taken into the house.

Dr. J. J. Meaney, 1766 West Chicago avenue, was called in. He found the baby had received a fractured skull and would die. The boy was injured internally. They were taken to St. Ann's sanitarium, Forty-eighth avenue and Thomas street, and the mother was taken to the detention hospital.

In Ill Health for Six Months.

"Mrs. Lofgren has been suffering from extreme nervousness for six months," her brother said. "Though at times she seemed to lose control of her faculties, she never was considered dangerous. The screams of the child attracted me and I nearly lost control of myself when I opened the door and saw my sister about to leap from the window. The doctors will have to explain the case, I cannot."

Mrs. Lofgren is 28 and her husband is 30 years old.

Lodge of Moose Order Is Formed.

Chicago lodge No. 43, Loyal Order of the Moose, has been organized with 100 charter members. It is the first lodge of the order in this city. Fred Van Vorst is past dictator, C. H. Lamson is worthy dictator, and William Fitzgerald is secretary. A class of 100 members will be initiated next Friday night.

PASSENGERS IN STREET CARS ARE VICTIMS OF THIEVES.

Dr. E. N. Wood Loses $500 Diamond Stud and Pickpockets Take $48 from P. W. Rowland.

Pickpockets were unusually busy yesterday afternoon on the north side street car lines. The police were notified of a number of losses in money and jewelry.

Dr. E. N. Wood, 617 La Salle avenue, was standing on the crowded platform of a North avenue car when a $500 diamond stud was stolen from his shirt front.

P. W. Rowland, 891 Evanston avenue, reported that $48 was stolen from his pocket while he was standing on the platform of a Fullerton avenue car at Southport avenue.

George Carter, 6 Cottage place, was attacked by two highwaymen in front of his residence and robbed of a gold watch and $14. The men escaped after a chase in which several pedestrians joined.

John Hanson, 1454 Grand avenue, was attacked by two men at Grand avenue and Noble street. After beating him they were attempting to rob him when Policeman Michael Berry came to the rescue and arrested them. They gave the names of William Kenny and William Lewis.

JEALOUSY CAUSE OF FATAL SHOTS.

Martin Schleyer Opens Fire on Divorced Wife Without Warning at Kenosha.

MAN WOUNDED FATALLY.

Physicians Hold Out Little Hope for Recovery of Woman; Attacker Surrenders.

Martin Schleyer shot and seriously wounded his divorced wife, Martha Schleyer, at Kenosha yesterday afternoon. He then turned the weapon upon Herman Koehler and inflicted mortal wounds. Koehler, who lives at Kenosha, was visiting Mrs. Schleyer at her home. Jealousy and drink are declared to be the cause of the shooting.

Schleyer died after a struggle with Koehler in which he was disarmed. He took refuge in a nearby boarding house, but at 7 o'clock gave himself up to the police.

Mrs. Schleyer was shot through the abdomen and right thigh. Physicians hold out little hope of her recovery. Three shots were fired at Koehler, one of which pierced his lung and another shattered the bone in his wrist.

Formerly Lived in Chicago.

Schleyer is said to be a member of a well known family at Rochester, N. Y. He and his divorced wife lived in Chicago until eight years ago.

The trouble between the two Schleyers was of long standing. Last Septembr Mrs. Schleyer was granted a divorce and the court turned over to her property valued at $10,000. On the following day Schleyer arrived in Kenosha from Portland, Ore., and at once made a demand on the court that the judgment be set aside on the grounds that he had no notice of the proceedings. The judgment was set aside, but Mrs. Schleyer retained deeds to certain property. Saturday night Schleyer met his former wife and Koehler on the street, and the police believe he at once made arrangements for the shooting. At his rooms all of his clothes were packed and ready to be sent away.

Shoots Without Warning.

He had been drinking before he arrived at Mrs. Schleyer's home. He gave no warning to her, but immediately opened fire. The woman screamed for Koehler, who went to her rescue. A hand to hand struggle followed, in which Schleyer was disarmed. The revolver was empty when it passed into the hand of Koehler, and the hammer struck on empty cartridges when he attempted to prevent the escape of Schleyer.

CHICAGO'S DEATH RATE LOW IN SPITE OF BAD WEATHER.

Milk from Dairy Farm in Morgan Park Suspected of Causing Typhoid Epidemic at West Pullman.

Chicago's death rate last week, in spite of unfavorable weather conditions, was the lowest recorded since Nov. 30, 1907.

It was nearly 28 per cent lower than the rate of the corresponding week of last year and more than 13 per cent below the May average for ten years. The total deaths—531—were 186 fewer than the compared week of last year and five less than the week preceding.

Concerning a local epidemic of typhoid fever at West Pullman the health department bulletin says:

"Practically all of the typhoid victims derived their milk from the same source—a milkman who in turn received his supply from a certain dairy farm in Morgan Park.

"The distributing milkman was immediately notified that he could no longer sell this milk and the supply he had on hand was confiscated and destroyed. The day following this action the milkman came down with typhoid fever."

BURGLARS FLEE; LEAVE LOOT.

Frightened Away by Return of Occupants of Two Apartments After Piling Up Valuables to Carry Off.

Burglars who had entered two north side apartments and piled up goods valued at hundreds of dollars, which they expected to carry off, were frightened away last night by the return of the owners, who had been automobile riding. The occupants of the apartments were:

M'CORD, ALVIN C., 600 North State street, president of the Western Stock Car and Foundry company.

STICER, ELGIN B., Lessing apartment building, Evanston avenue and Surf street.

Night Watchman Mortally Injured When Ladder Strikes Hammer of the Weapon.

H. M. Faes, a night watchman employed at Fifty-first court and Central Park avenue, was shot and fatally injured when a revolver in his pocket was accidentally discharged while he was at work. Faes, who was 49 years old and lived at 3456 West Fifty-first street, just had started to work Saturday morning and while taking down a ladder it struck the hammer of his revolver and discharged it, the bullet striking him in the abdomen. He died yesterday at St. Bernard's hospital.

MONTGOMERY WARD IS BETTER.

Reports from Pasadena, Cal., Show Aged Patient Is Winning Back His Health.

Montgomery Ward, reported seriously ill at his home in Pasadena, Cal., is troubled merely with a mild case of neuritis in one of his arms, according to Charles H. and William C. Thorne, his business representatives in this city. This is the aftereffect of a severe attack sustained by Mr. Ward last winter. His advanced age, 70 years, caused some of his friends to be apprehensive. The latest news received by the Thornes, they said yesterday, indicated that he was recovering.

MITER RUMOR A CLEVER GUESS.

That Is What Churchmen Say About Reported Promotion of Bishop Muldoon and Father Rohde.

The rumor that the Rt. Rev. P. J. Muldoon had been appointed bishop of Rockford and that the Rev. Paul P. Rohde of St. Michael's church, South Chicago, had been selected by the pope to succeed him could not be confirmed yesterday. High officials in the diocese declared the report could be nothing but a "clever guess."

SOCIALISTS SEEK EX-POPULIST VOTE

National Convention Opened Amid Red Flags with Impassioned Speeches.

WHOOPS GREET HAYWOOD

Comrades J. G. Phelps Stokes and Robert Hunter Present, but Have Little to Say.

Surface indications of a desire to win over the followers of the moribund populist party developed yesterday in the opening session of the socialist national convention at Brand's hall. After a long debate the gathering decided to consider a plan of appealing to the farmers of the country.

The debate was among "agrarian" socialists of the middle west. The eastern socialists were merely spectators. Comrade J. G. Phelps Stokes, the millionaire New York socialist, and his wife, Comradess Rose Pastor Stokes, occupied seats at the extreme rear of the hall and took no noticeable part in the proceedings. Comrade Robert Hunter of New York also was present, having arrived on a late train, but he did no talking.

The police had a reserve of twenty patrolmen at the Chicago avenue station, two blocks away, in readiness for trouble at the convention, but there was no occasion for their intervention. The gathering was orderly and good natured. The hall was decorated with red flags, which the police would not allow the socialists to carry in their parade to the meeting place.

Delay Getting at Business.

The proceedings of the temporary organization lasted all the afternoon. It was not until a few minutes before adjournment at 6 o'clock that the convention found itself permanently organized and ready for business. Today it will elect a platform committee and by Thursday, if business is expedited, it is expected that the convention will reach the nomination of candidates for president and vice president.

If a popular demonstration may be taken as an indication, William D. Haywood, the expelled officer of the Western Federation of Miners, who was acquitted of the murder of Gov. Steunenberg of Idaho, is in the lead for the presidential nomination. At the meeting in the Garrick theater in the forenoon somebody in a box called out: "What's the matter with Debs?" One or two voices answered: "He's all right." Then somebody demanded: "What's the matter with Haywood?" Whereat a wild whoop went up from the audience, handkerchiefs were waved, and Haywood was declared not only "all right," but the "foremost undesirable citizen of the republic." Comrade Debs was not present, being detained by sickness in his family, but Comrade Haywood was on hand and received the testimonial with all due modesty.

Hear Impassioned Speeches.

It was at the Garrick theater meeting that the delegates launched the talkfest that will continue throughout the convention. An audience that packed the auditorium from the stage to the last row in the gallery vociferously applauded a program of impassioned speeches in which President Roosevelt and the capitalistic class were roundly denounced and the coming of the socialistic millennium heralded in picturesque terms.

"We shall go marching on over hill and dale and through bog and morass," said Comrade John Spargo of New York, "until the red flag of human brotherhood waves over the capitol at Washington and every city hall in the United States."

Comrade Joseph Wanhope of New York opined that in socialism lies the only hope of saving the souls of men. Just now, he admitted, they were fighting to save the bodies of men "that are so dwarfed by the present inhuman system that even the capitalistic press admits they are not worth saving."

Comrade Wanhope further informed his fellows that he took great pride in being an "undesirable citizen."

Haywood Moved to Tears.

Comrades May Wood Simons, wife of the socialist author, described the murder of children by sweat shop torture with such success that Comrade Haywood was moved to tears. Comrade G. T. Fraenckel of Chicago welcomed the delegates, saying that while the socialists could not officially offer the freedom of the city, they already had the freedom of the jail.

At the close of this meeting the socialists marched over to Brand's hall in North Clark street, near Erie, where the business of the convention was begun. When Temporary Chairman Morris Hillquit of New York called the body to order there were 217 delegates in their seats and the gallery was crowded with spectators. Every state was represented by one or more delegates.

The delegates were seated at long tables behind large pads of "scratch" paper, on which from time to time they jotted down their thoughts and took notes on the thoughts of others.

Heated Debate Started.

The move to launch a campaign for the capture of the agricultural vote came out when Temporary Secretary Seymour Stedman read a recommendation that a committee be appointed to draw up a program of appeal to the farmers. This precipitated half an hour of intense debate. The delegates from the Dakotas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, and other agricultural states were set against any special play for the farmer vote. They believed that unless a farmer recognized the benefit of socialism there was no use going out of their way to get him. So the proposition was defeated.

Then at the last, when the convention debated the adoption of the temporary organization's program, the matter was brought up again. Comrade Stedman thought a serious mistake would be made in not considering the proposition:

"Our growth so far has been in cities," he said. "But there are indications that the farmers are interested in our movement. There were enough of them interested in our ideas to carry through the national grain elevator law in Minnesota."

Comrade Emil Seidel, who came close to being elected mayor of Milwaukee, thought a failure to go after the agricultural vote would be an admission of inability to attract the farmer. The result of this talk was that the former action was reversed, the convention voting to elect a committee to present a farmers' program.

POLITICAL NOTES BY WIRE.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Despite President Roosevelt's several times repeated declaration that he is not, nor will be, a candidate for renomination, California's delegation in all probability will be instructed to vote for him in the Chicago convention.

MILWAUKEE.—Former Mayor Sherburn Becker will announce his candidacy for governor on Monday. He will be the "people's candidate," and has promised to wage war on "political barrels." His balloon campaign has been abandoned.

Diagram Shows Seating Arrangements for Over 11,000 in Republican National Convention in Coliseum.

MAKE WAY FOR CONVENTION

Republican Committeemen Inspect the Coliseum Today.

WORK OF PREPARATION ON.

Elevation of Rear Seats on the First Floor Begins at Once.

Harry S. New, chairman of the republican national committee, reached Chicago for a prolonged stay last evening. He announced he was here until after "the big show," which, in other words, means he will stay until the national convention is over, the candidates nominated, the platform adopted, and, what to some prosaic minds is important, the bills are all paid.

This morning Mr. New will formally open the committee headquarters at the Coliseum building. With Elmer Dover, another active member of the committee, Mr. New will oversee the preliminary work of placing the Coliseum in readiness for the convention.

The first work will be placing the first floor in condition, so the rear seats will be elevated sufficiently to enable their occupants to see over the heads of those in front. Technically speaking, the seats will be "dished."

The Coliseum when it has been transformed will seat 11,270 persons comfortably.

Could Not Make 14,000 Hear.

It would have been possible to seat 14,000 by the construction of another gallery under the present one and by placing a large balcony at the south end, but the committee abandoned these plans, first, because it would be too much trouble, and, second, because it was agreed no speaker, barring some circus announcer, would be able to make his voice reach 14,000 persons.

The speakers' stand will be situated seventy feet from the south end of the center, with the members of the national committee and distinguished guests in their rear.

At the last moment it was decided to carpet all the aisles with a grass matting to deaden the sound. This expedient was resorted to during the memorial services held several years ago on the occasion of the death of President McKinley, and it was found that in consequence the speakers' voices reached to the remote quarters of the building.

"People have a bad habit of moving out when they can't hear in the rear," explained Mr. Spalding, "and this interferes with the hearing of those who are more advantageously placed. With carpeted aisles every one will be able to hear."

Chairs Can Stand Pounding.

Six thousand five hundred chairs, good stout ones, have been purchased by the committee to supplement the opera chairs that now are in the building. The chairs are made with a view of the probability that their occupants will want to stand upon them, and possibly jump up and down during critical moments.

Every convenience for the representatives of the press and for entrance and exit of the administrative force of the convention has been foreseen by the architect and provision has been made also for committee headquarters and rooms for officials.

Mr. New will call a meeting of the subcommittee on arrangements for Friday, when a start will be made on the work of apportioning the delegate seats, and this always has produced an argument, as every state demands front seats. Later a meeting of the entire national committee will be called to determine the temporary roll call of the convention.

Swamped with Ticket Demand.

"I simply am swamped with demands for tickets to the convention," said Mr. New. "It's the greatest any political party has ever experienced and they are still coming to me at the rate of a hundred a day. From the way they are coming in the people seem to believe it will be a long struggle. The sentiment of the whole people is sometimes correct."

Wreckers Scared by Explosion.

An explosion of a five gallon can of gasoline caused sixty laborers employed by L. Krug & Co. to flee last night from the old Midland hotel building at 166 Madison street, which they were razing. None of them was injured, but John Pope, 25 years old, was thrown about twenty feet by the force of the explosion.

NOVEL SATIRE ON POLITICS

"Mr. Crewe's Career," by Churchill, Hits New Hampshire Men.

MIRRORS FIGHT OF 1906.

Some Leaders Let Down Easy, Others Held Up to Ridicule.

Concord, N. H., May 10.—[Special.]—For some time it has been an open secret that in his new novel, "Mr. Crewe's Career," Winston Churchill was to hold the mirror up to New Hampshire politics and politicians of the present day. It is safe to say that tonight there are few party leaders in the state who have not read the book. Many are relieved in the main, some are puffed up over the notoriety given them, and a few are inclined to be angry.

It is probably safe to include in the latter category George B. Leighton of Los Angeles, St. Louis, Mo., and Dublin, N. H., the young man who had the temerity to oppose the re-election of United States Senator Henry E. Burnham in 1907.

The Leighton aspirations furnish at least one-half of the material for "Mr. Crewe's Career." The other half is derived from Mr. Churchill's own experiences while a member of the legislature and while a candidate for the republican gubernatorial nomination in 1906.

Chief Scene State Convention.

The chief scene of the story, the state convention in which Mr. Crewe is beaten for governor by a combination of opposing machine leaders, is a mild account of the republican state gathering of 1906 in New Hampshire.

Hillary Vane, corporation counsel, is like Ira Colby of Claremont in person and like Irving W. Drew of Lancaster or Frank S. Streeter of Concord in power. President Flint of the Northeastern roads corresponds to President Tuttle of the Boston and Maine, but the likeness is far from close. Hamilton Tooting, the comedian of the story, is Conrad W. Crooker, lawyer and editor of Fitzwilliam, erstwhile political mentor of both Churchill and Leighton.

Some of the minor characters are presented without disguise. Manning, division superintendent, who wrote the passes, is George "Ed" Cummings, superintendent of the White mountain division of the Boston and Maine. Elisha Jane, United States consul somewhere, is Gen Paul Lang, United States consul at Sherbrooke, P. Q. Senator Whittredge is United States senator Jacob H. Gallinger; Senator Green is Senator Burnham; Congressman Eldredge is Congressman Currier; and Congressman Fairplay is Congressman Sulloway.

Editor One of the Characters.

George H. Moses, editor of the Concord Monitor, is Paul Padriff, who tells tales of politics at the hotel and then returns to his office to write editorials on the choice of a national flower and the home customs of the Aztecs. His cynical brother, Peter, is supposed to be Henry M. Putney of the Manchester Mirror.

CHURCH SMOKER SCORES HIT

Vaudeville, Sermon, and Cigars Mingle to Congregation's Joy.

MEN OF ALL TYPES ATTEND.

Liberal Ideas of the Rev. Goodman Please Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 10.—[Special.]—Five hundred men packed the new Men's church tonight and puffed cigars and pipes furnished by the Rev. Sydney Goodman during the sermon, which was sandwiched between a special entertainment, also provided by the pastor of new ideas.

Moving pictures, stereopticon views illustrating the parables, and singing by professionals who volunteered from beach front cafés and theaters made by the rest of the program.

"More Good than Evil in Men."

"God never looks on a man as down and out," declared Dr. Goodman; "there is more good than evil in every man, and it is only necessary to give him the proper opportunity to bring it out."

The audience applauded heartily.

The Men's church, for which special quarters have been made in a new parish hall alongside the church of which Dr. Goodman is assistant rector, is two weeks old and promises to equal in popularity the "Men's club," another creation of Dr. Goodman, which has 2,000 members from all walks of life.

Audience Is Cosmopolitan.

The meeting hall has a stage, on which there is a piano, and the contributions taken up pay for cigars, pipes, and tobacco. Conservative members of the church who at first objected to the smoking and the entertainment have been won over by the success of the idea, and larger quarters probably will be obtained to accommodate the crowds drawn by the novel methods.

Bankers, barteders, prominent business men, and laborers rubbed elbows at the service tonight. The happy minister claims he will have audiences that will fill the largest hall in the city at services to be conducted every Sunday night.

KILLED ON SCENIC RAILWAY.

St. Louis Man Tumbles Headlong from Speeding Car in an Amusement Park.

St. Louis, Mo., May 10.—[Special.]—William Fleckinger, aged 30, was killed tonight when he was thrown from a speeding car on the scenic railway in an amusement park. He fell fifty feet to the ground, striking on his head.

SEE TWO SLATES IN LORIMER'S ACT

Refusal to Help Frame County "Organization Ticket" Is Viewed Significantly.

FEARS HE'D AID DENEEN.

Governor of Idaho, in Chicago, Says Taft and Bryan Find Most Favor in the West.

It was taken for granted by politicians yesterday that the refusal of Congressman Lorimer to take part in the framing of the republican "organization slate" means there will be two slates instead of one for the August primaries. For purposes of identification they may be called the "Deneen slate" and the "Yates slate."

The congressman has not yet indicated what his course will be, but no one has evinced surprise at this. It is only natural that he should wish to wait until the county slate is framed by the subcommittee named Friday before putting a rival in the field.

His friends, however, were unanimously of the opinion that the second slate would be forthcoming and the opposing faction acknowledged it was to be looked for. This does not of necessity mean two entirely different slates—the "Yates slate" may indorse some candidates already on the "Deneen slate"—but they will vary enough so the primary voter will understand which one he is voting for.

Fears He Might Aid Deneen.

The reason Congressman Lorimer gave for refusing to enter the republican slate making caucus was that he was for Yates for governor and would not enter into alliances which meant giving any aid or encouragement to Deneen. Nine of the twelve men who are authorized to make up the "organization slate" had previously pledged themselves to support Deneen for governor, and, as the congressman looks at it, if not all at least the greater part of the votes the party committee can bring to its county slate will necessarily be cast for Deneen. That is what Mr. Lorimer wishes to avoid.

Mr. Lorimer did this thing two years ago when he and his friends backed an independent county slate and made a fair showing. At that time Charles Alling, their candidate for county judge, received a plurality of votes, but the law at that time permitted Judge Rinaker to be nominated. This time, however, the candidate receiving the plurality is nominated then and there. No convention has anything to do with it.

Says Idaho Is for Taft.

Gov. F. R. Cutting of Idaho was at the Auditorium during the afternoon on his way to the conference of governors which President Roosevelt has arranged.

"The Idaho state republican convention, which meets at Wallace May 12, will instruct its delegates for Taft," said Gov. Cutting. "There is nothing to it but Taft in Idaho, and the same may be said regarding William Jennings Bryan for the democrats."

DENEEN GOES TO WASHINGTON.

Governor Will Attend Conference Called to Consider Preservation of Natural Resources.

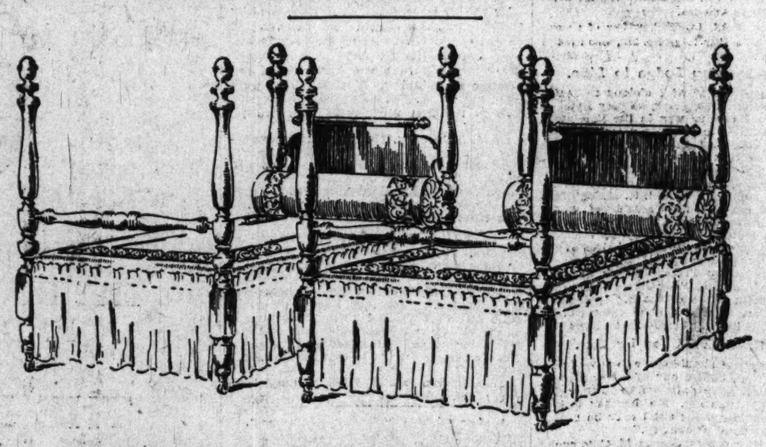

Springfield, Ill., May 10.—[Special.]—Gov. Deneen left Springfield at noon today for Washington to attend the national conference of governors to consider the subject of preservation of the natural resources of the country. He will return to Springfield the last of this week and his reply on the asylum report will be ready to submit to the lawmakers when they return to the city.

SPECIAL—Four-post Mahogany Beds, Colonial design, in full or single width, at $39 each

Prices on beds of this character have heretofore ranged from $50 to $65. As the result of unusual circumstances we have been able to secure (from one of the most reliable makers) a number of beds made of beautiful mahogany, in the design shown above, at a cost which enables us to sell them at the low price quoted, $39.

Mail orders will be filled at this price as long as the stock lasts, no charge being made for packing.

We show many quaint bureaus, chiffoniers, mirrors, and other things in Colonial designs to harmonize with these beds, at exceedingly moderate prices—the lowest at which reliable goods can be sold.

Low Furniture Prices

One-half the enjoyment our visitors experience when they come to view this beautiful array of good furniture is that all of it is so moderately priced. They come, in most cases, feeling that they must "worship afar off"—that this is not furniture for them to own, but rich man's furniture—then they begin to note prices, which are plainly marked on each article—on all five floors. The prices tell their own story.

This is a furniture store for all the people. The men and women who enjoy and demand artistic and well-conditioned surroundings in the home can satisfy their desires here—in assortment, good quality and price. We want to prove this to you.

Honest upholstering, inside and out, is another of our specialties—we pride ourselves on its excellence.

WANT ROOSEVELT TO AID IN RATE WAR

President Likely to Be Asked to Help Prevent Increase of Freight Tariffs.

FIGURES SHOW PROFITS.

Official Reports Reveal That Railroads Are Not Losing Despite "Poor Business."

President Roosevelt may be asked to use his good offices to prevent advances in freight rates.

With the announcement by eastern railroads that rates east of the Mississippi river will be increased an average of 10 per cent manufacturers and shippers have been stirred to action. The reason given by the railroads for advancing freight tariffs is "to enable them to meet operating expenses."

The freight traffic committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce, representing 3,000 business men, will meet today to pass a resolution protesting against the advance. At the same time the National Industrial Traffic league, the largest institution of the kind in this country, will take similar action at a meeting at the Auditorium hotel.

The manufacturers of the west will hold a conference on Friday, called by the Illinois Manufacturers' association. Representatives of the railroads will be asked to attend this meeting.

Out of these three great movements it is considered likely that a strong committee will be appointed to go to Washington to ask President Roosevelt to use his influence with the interstate commerce commission to prevent the freight rate increase.

Omaha, St. Louis, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Detroit, and other western cities already have decided, through their business organizations, that the plan suggested is the most feasible.

Consider Asking Injunction.

In addition to these movements the advisability of applying for an injunction to restrain the railroads from enforcing the increased tariff on shipments is under consideration by the Illinois Manufacturers' association.

By this means it may be possible, if it is decided that the contemplated advance in rates is unreasonable, to give shippers the advantage of the present rates until the matter finally is disposed of by the highest court.

The interstate commerce commission never has had the power to fix rates or to reduce them. It may recommend their reduction, but the railroads may go into court and attack the recommendations of the commission while the rates in dispute continue in effect from one to five years until the case is disposed of by the Supreme court.

Delay Decision Till Friday.

It is not likely that any concerted action will be decided until the meeting of manufacturers on Friday. The legal aspects of the situation will be explained at that meeting by Levy Mayer, attorney for the Illinois Manufacturers' association. If it is considered best to proceed against the railroads through the medium of the interstate commerce commission the same policy that was observed in the fight against the uniform bill of lading will be followed.

Under the new law governing interstate commerce complaints can be presented to the commission on the grounds that the increased freight rates are unreasonable, in which case it will be necessary to consider each classification upon its separate merits.

Members of the Association of Commerce, however they may discuss the contemplated advance in freight rates among themselves, are reluctant to go on record publicly one way or another. It is known that a large element in the association favors visiting President Roosevelt and bringing every possible pressure to bear upon him and the interstate commerce commission in the fight against the railroads. There are others who favor a less aggressive course, believing that a compromise may be effected with the railroads.

Increase Adjudged Illegal.

Four months ago all the railroads carrying cream, milk, and butter into Chicago agreed to increase the rate for carrying a five gallon can from 35 and 37 cents to 78 and 80 cents.

The Beatrice Creamery company, through its attorneys, Mayer, Meyer & Austrian, applied for an injunction against the railroads on the ground that the advance was unreasonable, and Judge Kohlsaat granted the petition. The result is that the old rates are still in effect until the interstate commerce commission has passed on the new tariff schedule.

Since this decision, the first of its kind to be given, half a dozen United States district judges in various states have held the same opinion.

In defense of advanced rates the president of a great trunk line said:

"The public should understand that the month of March was one of the worst months the railroads have known. April, too, was bad, and it is not unlikely that we shall have one or two more lean months. When you remember that there are 400,000 freight cars idle in the United States, all of which are deteriorating and will have to be repaired at a cost, say, of $10 per car, you readily can see that in this single item we will have to expend something like $4,000,000."

Figures Prove Profits.

That the public may better understand the effect of March business, admittedly the poorest month in the year, upon the railroads, the statements of revenues and expenses, which are reported to the interstate commerce commission at Washington, are presented. For some of the principal roads the reports are as follows:

ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE.

Mileage	7,100
Total operating revenues	$ 6,280,620
Total operating expenses	3,528,584
Net operating revenues	$ 2,752,036
Taxes	201,887
Operating income	$ 2,550,149
Capital stock, Feb. 1, 1907	381,486,000
Funded debt	275,484,800

For March, the worst month of the year, the earnings of this road would pay nearly 5 per cent interest.

CHICAGO, BURLINGTON AND QUINCY.

Mileage	9,022
Total operating revenues	$ 6,225,194
Total operating expenses	3,951,767
Net operating revenues	$ 2,303,427
Taxes	201,100
Operating income	$ 2,102,327
Capital stock, June 30, 1906	110,839,100
Funded debt	174,172,000

The earnings of this road for the month of March would pay nearly 9 per cent interest. More than 97 per cent of the capital stock is owned by the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroad companies.

CHICAGO AND NORTHWESTERN.

Mileage	7,630
Total operating revenues	$ 4,885,619
Total operating expenses	2,856,625
Net operating revenues	$ 1,978,994
Taxes	222,000
Operating income	$ 1,756,994
Capital stock, April 30, 1907	124,271,250

Other Reports Are Similar.

The Northwestern's earnings for March would pay nearly 8 per cent interest.

The earnings of the roads named are almost identical with those of the railroads throughout the country. Added to the general earnings of the roads in many instances are revenues derived from other sources which also help to swell the total.

Greeks' Bazaar Clears $2,000.

The Greeks of Chicago yesterday cleared $2,000 through a bazaar held in German hall, Harrison and Green streets, for the benefit of the Greek Philharmonic society, which is a band of twenty-two pieces. C. Cheronis is its president. Eighteen societies support the band. Everything was donated and was disposed of by auction and otherwise by Greek girls.

This Auto Fender as a Life Saver.

Fenders for motor cars is the novel suggestion by a man who signs himself "Tax Payer," in a communication to THE TRIBUNE. The device suggested may be understood from the illustration. It operates by use of an emergency brake, which causes the front part of the fender to drop close to the surface. It swings outward and is easily manipulated, it is stated, so as to give access to the front of the machine.

"The present agitation on the reckless driving of automobiles and the proper method of eliminating the serious accidents in the city will gradually die down," writes the inventor, "and the citizens will soon be up against the same old cry. Why don't the city officials consider safety devices as well as how to curb the 'speeders?'

"As long as automobiles are used there will be serious accidents and many at that, but a large per cent of the serious ones could be eliminated if automobiles were equipped with a good fender of some kind. I am sending you a drawing of a fender that would do more to lessen the number of serious accidents in Chicago from automobiles than anything else that could be done.

"Make these 'man killers' put on a fender and then with proper speed regulation you will reduce your serious accidents to a minimum in Chicago."

HALT SIX AUTOS IN GLENCOE

Police Take Records of Speed with Secret Electrical Device.

TWO WILL FIGHT CHARGES.

Morgan Park's Warning Is Heeded by All the "Scorchers"

Six automobilists were arrested in Glencoe yesterday. After driving carefully through Evanston, where there were police watching on almost every corner, the machines were "speeded up" in the suburbs farther north. An electric device enabled the watchers to catch the time for half a mile without the notice of those who were being watched.

K. R. Winslow of Racine, Wis., was arrested charged with driving twenty miles an hour. He had been to Chicago and was on his way home. He pleaded guilty and wanted to pay his fine, but had no money. Finally Mrs. Kate McClurg of Glencoe furnished the necessary $15 and Winslow went on his way.

Another who was arrested was C. Baron, 459 La Salle avenue.

"I will take this case to the Supreme court before I'll pay a fine," declared Baron.

Then a new obstacle was found. He had no money in the bank and no property. A bond of $200 was required. Baron finally paid his fine of $25.

H. Westlake, 189 Thirty-sixth street, was fined $15 and costs after pleading guilty. E. Gerhart, 602 West Sixty-seventh street, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. Arthur Whipple and J. E. Bartlett, who gave their addresses as Chicago, will fight their cases tomorrow.

One Arrest in Morgan Park.

The speed mania was halted in Morgan Park, which claims to be the first suburb to plan a crusade, then push it through to a successful conclusion.

Only one man, C. M. Clark, was arrested. With him were a driver and two women. Chief of Police Charles C. Stemm made the arrest and asserted that the auto was speeding at a rate of twenty-five miles an hour.

Clark was taken before Police Magistrate D. B. Nichols, who released him on bonds and announced he would hear the case today.

Policeman Saw No Lights.

Victor Pacyna, 740 Fiftieth place, and his chauffeur were placed under arrest last evening following an argument with a south park policeman regarding the absence of lights on an automobile in which Mr. Pacyna and his wife were riding.

"I saw that we were running into the sidewalk," said Pacyna, "and, to avoid a wreck, which would probably injure my wife, I said to the policeman, 'For heaven's sake, let the man stop the car before you grab him.'"

The automobile was driven to the station, where the chauffeur was charged with disorderly conduct and Mr. Pacyna with interfering with a policeman.

While attempting to cross the street Mrs A. E. Johnston, 6008 Wabash avenue, was knocked down and slightly injured by an automobile driven by George Zanta, 1925 Michigan avenue, yesterday afternoon at Sixty-third street and Cottage Grove avenue.

Zanta was arrested on a charge of reckless driving. He was released later.

ARRESTED AFTER AUTO CHASE.

Three 16 Year Old Boys Captured in Austin, Charged with Theft of a Buggy.

Edward Bella, 5116 South Fortieth court; Michael Powers, 1545 Twelfth street; and James Ryan, 2014 Grenshaw street, all 16 years old, were arrested in Austin yesterday following a chase in an automobile.

The boys, one of whom has served a term in the John Worthy school, were identified by M. A. Blanchard, 532 South East avenue, Oak Park, just as policemen were stopping another party they suspected of the theft.

Blanchard's was stolen and he set out to find it in a motor car after notifying the police.

Christian Science Lecture.

URGES ROOSEVELT TO PUNISH CASTRO

France, Roiled Over Venezuela's Expulsion of Subjects, Wants Big Stick Used.

TIME TO ACT, SAYS TEMPS.

Further Evidence of Tension Is Seen in Chilly Departure of American Minister.

PARIS, May 10.—The recent expulsion of eight Frenchmen from Venezuela has served to increase the resentment of French public opinion against President Castro's arrogant treatment of foreigners.

The Temps, reviewing the situation, expresses regret that France did not send ships to bombard Puerto Cabello instead of simply breaking off diplomatic relations when M. Taigney, the French chargé d'affaires, was expelled from Venezuela two years ago. It declares that the time has come to act.

"The United States seems disposed to begin," says the Temps. "Senator Cullom declared that Castro deserved a good spanking. Never was there a more propitious occasion for President Roosevelt to use the big stick, and France is perfectly willing to see him enact the role of peacemaker. Venezuela must be taught a lesson, and it is immaterial whether it comes from Washington or elsewhere, provided it comes quickly."

U. S. Minister Sails for Home.

WILLEMSTAD, May 10.—W. W. Russell, the American minister to Venezuela, sailed from here today on the steamship Caracas for the United States, where he will spend his vacation of two months.

That there is a tension in the diplomatic relations between the United States and Venezuela was shown by the fact that none of the Venezuela officials was on hand to bid Mr. Russell good-by.

TAFT SETTLES DISPUTES; LEAVES PANAMA TOMORROW.

Secretary of War Satisfied with Results of Conferences on Troubles in the Canal Zone.

PANAMA, May 10.—Secretary Taft's conferences with President Amador, Foreign Secretary Arias, Señor Arango, the Panama minister to the United States; Mr. Squiers, the American minister to Panama, and William Nelson Cromwell, legal adviser of the Panama Canal company on topics relating to the treaties which it is desired to negotiate between Colombia, the United States, and Panama, it is understood, have been satisfactory.

The secretary expects to conclude his business relative to the canal administration and inspection tomorrow and will sail for the United States Tuesday morning.

It is stated that a tentative accord has been reached upon important points and that decision with reference to the others only awaits special inquiries now in progress.

PEACE COMMISSIONERS DEPART.

Cruiser Albany Will Take Court of Justice Members to Punta Arenas.

City of Mexico, May 10.—High Commissioners William I. Buchanan and Enrique C. Creel left tonight for Salina Cruz, where they will embark on the United States cruiser Albany, which will convey them to Punta Arenas, Costa Rica, where the court of justice will meet in the interest of South American peace. The Albany will arrive at Punta Arenas on May 20, the date for the inaugural session.

NOTES FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

PARIS.—According to the Florence correspondent of the Journal, Mme. Toselli, formerly crown princess of Saxony, whose scandalous adventures have been the subject of gossip for years, gave birth to a son on Thursday.

BRUSSELS.—A widespread revolt is reported in the Abir district of the Congo Independent state. Natives refused to collect rubber, attacked the whites, and burned several factories. It is said casualties were heavy.

KIEV, RUSSIA.—An epidemic of exanthematous typhoid is raging in the city prison. More than 200 deaths have occurred and practically all inmates are infected.

Willard Hall Noon Meetings.

Willard hall noon meetings this week will be as follows: Monday, Judge Devlin; Tuesday, bible class day, the Rev. W. A. Matthews, teacher; Wednesday, prayer and praise service; Thursday, Christian Missionary alliance; Friday, Mrs. Adjt. Roberts; Saturday, the Rev. Mary L. Moreland.

General Offices and Factory: Fulton, Sheldon and Carroll Ave.

This Is Waist and Suit Day at THE FAIR

IT wouldn't be such an unusual thing if this were reduction time—when the shortness of the season means lessened service for the merchandise—when stocks have gotten down so low and sizes are so incomplete that we ought to drop profit to compensate for unsatisfactory service—but we're underselling now, when you need these goods most—at the one time in the Spring when prices, by every law of trading, ought to be at the top notch and are everywhere else.

10,000 "Royal" Waists Under Factory Cost

WE'VE been telling you about Royal Waists—we've been selling them for weeks, but we haven't offered any of these lots hitherto simply because the Royal makers didn't send them in to us until Thursday. Those groups which were placed on sale earlier were lesser grades—now we offer the fine Royal Waists for sale—the swagger, dainty, exquisite confections.

$3.50 Waists for $1.88

VERY Beautiful White Lawn Waists, made tailor style with one-inch pleats along front in the midst of which is a wide panel of embroidery with collar bands and cuffs to match. Royal waists of this quality have never been sold at less than $3.50. Today and Tues. only we offer them for $1.88

Many other styles at the same price.

$4.75 Waists $2.88

FANCY LAWN WAISTS filled with allover embroidery throughout the entire front—the body material is sheer and delicate—the decoration is exquisite. Made with long sleeves and collars and cuffs to match the front embroidery. Royal waists which never sold at less than $4.75, Mon. and Tues., $2.88

Many other styles at the same price.

$6.50 Waists, $3.88

WHITE Linen Waists, made tailor-way with front panel, collar and cuffs of polka dotted embroidery in black or white or blue. These are creations of a most exclusive character. Under usual conditions the retail price of every one would be $6.50, for Monday and Tuesday only $3.88

Many other styles at the same price.

LINGERIE waists, some of mull fine enough to drape an elf—some of percaline, all fluffed up and inset with the prettiest laces variously arranged and some with medallion decoration. Yoke and fancy panel effects, too. Open back styles. Sleeves are three-quarter length. Are $10 values. Mon. and Tuesday, $4.88

Many other styles at the same price.

A Great Sale of $30 Suits at $19.50

THE lowest price at which you ever bought any suit in this group is $24.75 and you can't match the goods and the making, too, at less than $30. About a thousand garments in this lot—they're the smartest of styles tailored so well that they'll stay in the shapes they have now and there are several groups through which you can let your fancy make play—the values are unusual in every suit and even if your tastes are unusual you'll not be nonplused.

First of all are the Panama Suits in all colors. The jackets have Mikado sleeves and are decorated most ornately with Persian trimming set off by enameled jeweled buttons. The skirt is a two fold fifteen gore style. If you prefer the same suit in a finely made serge you can take your pick of 200 suits out of that material.

Then there's a group of black and white shepherd's plaid worsted suits—mightily smart these. The tailoring is $30 worth and worth $30. The coat has a splendid figure built right into it in case you'd rather have your own bettered a bit. It is ornamented with braid and silk trimming. The skirt is cut very full and is full pleated. Monday and Tuesday will sell all these suits at a FLAT price of $19.50

$12 Prince Chap Coats $7.95

BOUGHT these when a maker thought a dollar was bigger than its right size. He sold them to us so much lower than other folks bought 'em that we were able to put $9.95 instead of $12 (really worth all of it) on our tickets. But just for Monday and Tuesday we'll sell you modified Prince Chap coats of fine broadcloth, made with welt seams, 3 mannish pockets and best satin lining, for $7.95

$18 Heavy Satin Coats $12.95

PLENTY of use for such a garment all spring and summer long. Heavy enough for the colder nights and light enough not to overburden one when its really hot. 36 inches long—made with roll collar and cuffs—new shape sleeve and has four pockets, each with flap—three large buttons—Lined with gray silk. Just for Monday and Tuesday (although always $18)..... $12.95

$15 Lace Braid Coats, $9.95

$15 isn't marked on our tickets, but it is to be remarked in the character of the coats. You can't duplicate coats like them under a ten and a five spot. Beautiful quality lace braid, for such a low price—showing a most elaborate scroll arrangement and made with butterfly sleeves. Has heavy taffeta silk lining. We are now getting $12.75 for these coats and consider 'em mighty big value at that price, but for Monday and Tuesday we'll take $9.95

Taffeta Jumper Dresses, $14.95

AND a good silk it is! One that won't begin to split and pull in the usual taffeta hurry. Some in plain colors and some striped. Piped and trimmed with fancy checking. Never before sold under $19.75. Specially priced for Monday and Tuesday, at..... $14.95

$6.95 Lawn Dresses for $4.95

JUST two dollars less for they'll be on after days. Made in one piece, but beautifully proportioned. Trimmed with lace, tucked a lot, and made with net yoke. In pink, blue and white. Always $6.95, but just this little while..... $4.95

$18.75 Taffeta Coats, $14.75

PICKED these up at a price—we'll let 'em go same way. Had 'em all marked $18.75 (though they're worth $25) when this sale came up and now we'll sell them even so much more closely. They are 50 inches long, double box plaited all around. The collar is deep and cut with seven wide scallops. Heavily embroidered, finished around neck with fancy braid in scroll design. Two rosettes with long tabs hang down the front. The full sleeve has a broadcloth cuff edged with braid. Never before sold under $18.75. Just for Monday and Tuesday..... $14.75

BUSINESS HEADS TO PLAY POLITICS

President of Manufacturers' Association Flays the "Labor Trust."

NO VANDERBILT MAKE UP.

Alfred Gwynne's Mother Fails in Peace Mission, Divorce Proceeds.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, May 10.

Manufacturers' Head Hits "Labor Trust."

The National Association of Manufacturers, with 3,000 members, representing a combined capital of $15,000,000, will hold its thirteenth annual convention at the Waldorf-Astoria, beginning May 18. According to President James W. Van Cleave, who is here arranging plans for the convention, the association will go into politics and combat the efforts in that direction by Samuel Gompers.

"The labor trust," said Mr. Van Cleave, "is well organized for the campaign and has large funds. To offset these forces and to strengthen the hands of honest lawmakers defying the threats of the labor trust and legislating for the entire American people, and to see that these men are not slaughtered by the labor oligarchy it is necessary that the manufacturers go into politics. The business men have got to see no demagogue is elected If two demagogues are nominated, God help the country."

Hearing in the habeas corpus proceedings, whereby Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, seeks to gain his liberty from the state asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan, will be resumed in Poughkeepsie tomorrow.

A. G. Vanderbilt's Mother Fails in Peace Mission.

News has been received from London that Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, who sailed for England on April 23 to try to persuade her son, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, to make an effort for a reconciliation with his wife, has failed in her mission. As a result the divorce proceedings will be taken up again today.

Olga Nethersole Gives Rules of Life and Health.

Miss Olga Nethersole addressed club A of the People's Institute this afternoon on the "Need of Industrial Insurance for Working People"—the kind that Germany has had for twenty-three years. The discussion blossomed into a debate concerning motherhood, childhood, and related amenities.

It appeared when Miss Nethersole was well under way that a body's supreme right is the right to live and that under the present system in America we do not all get it. Among other things she said it isn't right for persons who are sick to have children.

"My plea," Miss Nethersole said, "is for an end to false modesty. It is criminal to bring into the world a child who is maimed or diseased. I plead also for governmental recognition of a standard of health."

Business Men Succeed as Church Workers.

In Christ church tonight took place the commencement of a school unlike any other in America or England. It is the Churchworkers' commons, and was begun last January as an experiment. The exercises and the report accompanying them showed success beyond the expectations of the projectors.

The commons is unique in the assumption that there are business men in New York who, after working all week, are ready on Sundays, and perhaps a week night or two, to conduct religious services in missions too weak as yet to afford the services of ordained men. No pay is offered. The commencement showed there are such men in steadily increasing numbers.

Constable Holds Up Vanderbilt Auto for Speeding.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt and several friends from Manhattan, on their way this morning to dine with friends at Mount Kisco, were placed in a perturbed state of mind when the automobile they were riding in was held up by Constable Townsend A. Hartsdale for traveling twenty-eight miles an hour. Mrs. Vanderbilt said she was in a hurry to reach Mount Kisco where she was going to dine at 1 o'clock. It was then 12:30, but the more she pleaded the more obdurate became the policeman. He took the chauffeur before Judge Glover, who paroled him in Mrs. Vanderbilt's custody on her promise to produce him in court Thursday for a hearing.

One Killed, Three Hurt in Tenement Fire.

In a tenement house fire early today Annie Bates, 19 years old, a domestic, was suffocated and three other persons, one a policeman, were injured. The girl was employed by a family living on the fourth floor of an East Sixty-fifth street tenement. The prompt work of a patrolman in assisting tenants from the burning house saved many lives. Most of the occupants escaped in their night clothes.

Cardinal Logue to Visit Many Cities in West.

Cardinal Logue will leave New York on the Empire State express Tuesday morning and will make the first stop in his American tour at Rochester, where he will spend Wednesday. From this city he will go to Buffalo, spending Thursday there. On Friday he will visit Niagara falls, and from there he will go to Montreal. The cardinal expects to extend his trip to Chicago and other western cities.

Carnegie Aids Hughes in Track Fight.

Andrew Carnegie has backed Gov. Hughes in his anti-racetrack gambling crusade by sending a liberal check to the Albany office of the International Reform bureau for use in stirring up sections of the state where it is inexpedient for Gov. Hughes to go. Mrs. Russell Sage has also sent the bureau a check for the same purpose. The special session of the legislature will convene tomorrow.

OBITUARY.

MRS. ELVIRA LEE died yesterday at the age of 92 years at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Wynne, 320 Erie street, Oak Park. Mrs. Lee, who came to Chicago seventeen years ago, after the death of her husband in New York, is survived by seven children, sixteen grandchildren, and eight great grandchildren. Besides Mrs. Wynne, the other children are: Ralph M. Lee, Norman Lee, and Mrs. J. B. Odell of Chicago; Mrs. Grace L. Cook, Oak Park; Mrs. T. A. Sclover, Cleveland, and Mrs. C. F. Richey of Galesburg, Ill. Interment will be at Galesburg tomorrow.

FREDERIC H. MAY, formerly vice president and general manager of the American Rapid Telegraph company, died yesterday at his home in Newark, N. J. He was prominent in railroad construction in the west and middle west in the '70s, and won renown during the civil war by keeping the Illinois Central north of Cairo open for troops and supply trains for Gen. Grant.

W. J. MURPHY, vice president of the Queen and Crescent route, stricken with paralysis April 30, died yesterday at his home in Cincinnati.

JAMES RADFORD, secretary-treasurer of the United Mineworkers of Illinois, died last night at Springfield.

was placed in the redemption provision so that there might not be the least doubt in the mind of any one that the lawful money of the country should be in reserve.

The letter which Representative Fowler is sending out to the banks of the country makes a violent attack on the Vreeland bill or anything like it, and contains the astonishing statement that its advocates are attempting to saddle $5,000,000,000 of bank debts on the country. Certain congressmen who have seen the letter confess their complete inability to understand the meaning of some of the assertions it contains.

"The Tribune" Urges Action.

Believing that the time had come when all republicans should unite to pass some emergency measure by means of which the banks could obtain an abundant circulation on short notice, if another stringency came, THE TRIBUNE sent out to members from the northwestern states last Wednesday telegrams urging them to get together on the Vreeland bill or something like it. These dispatches were sent in anticipation of the republican caucus, which was held the same night.

At that caucus a committee was appointed, headed by Vreeland of New York, author of the currency measure which seems likely to be passed by congress, and including in its membership Mr. Burton of Ohio. This committee was instructed by the caucus to prepare a simple currency measure which would recognize the principle of circulation based upon general bank assets, including commercial paper as well as stocks, bonds, and other securities. The committee was instructed to report at a caucus tomorrow night, when the house republicans will endeavor to agree on a measure which will prevent all possibility of a money stringency during the crop moving time next fall.

Sent Letters to Congressmen.

To assist in obtaining harmonious action THE TRIBUNE prepared and sent out by special messenger individual letters to more than 100 republican congressmen, including every representative of that party from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. This personal appeal was as follows:

"THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has learned from interviews with business men, bankers, and others in the Mississippi valley that they expect congress to pass some emergency currency legislation at this session.

"We do not believe there will be another serious panic this year, but it would be criminal not to provide for such an emergency. With larger crops, necessitating the use of an unusual amount of cash money, and with a continuing treasury deficit, preventing government aid, ordinary prudence requires immediate provision for an abundant supply of emergency currency.

People Would Blame Republicans.

"Should disaster come within the next six months republicans in congress will surely be held responsible by the people. The loss of the presidency and control of the house of representatives may be the penalty for inaction.

"THE TRIBUNE urges harmonious and prompt action, temporary abandonment of every banking program impossible of execution at the present time, and an agreement by the republican conference on a purely emergency measure as an insurance against a financial and political catastrophe, leaving it to the future to perfect a plan of permanent banking and currency reform.

"THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE."

In response to this many letters, telegrams, and personal notes indicated the sentiment among members of congress that THE TRIBUNE had touched the right chord and that it would be political suicide for congress to adjourn without satisfactory action on the currency question. Representative A. F. Dawson for the Second Iowa district sent in an excellent letter, which is a good type of others equally worthy of publication if space permitted.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT WILL LAY CORNER STONE.

Western World's Desire for Peace to Be Typified in American Republics' Building Started in Washington.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—Twenty-one American republics will unite tomorrow in laying the corner stone of the building which is to constitute the monument typifying the predominant desire of the western world for peace and commercial prosperity. President Roosevelt will officiate. Besides his address there will be speeches by Secretary Root, Andrew Carnegie, who has contributed three quarters of a million dollars toward the building fund, and Ambassador Nabuco of Brazil.

GAELIC SCHOLARSHIPS PLANNED

State Organizations of Ancient Order of Hibernians to Reward Superior Students.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—Supplementary to its indorsement of a Gaelic chair at the Catholic university of America several years ago the Ancient Order of Hibernians has begun a movement for the endowment of scholarships at the university by each state organization of the order. Scholarships will be awarded to students in intermediate schools and colleges who display a superiority in studies and deportment. The course of studies will cover a period of four years, the subjects to include Gaelic language and literature, philosophy, history, and chemistry.

HOUSE COMMITTEE SEES PAPER MILL.

Employes of International Company Are Questioned During the Visit.

RESUME INQUIRY TODAY.

Return to Washington Will Be Followed by Further Hearings in the Case.

Corinth, N. Y., May 10.—After an entire day and night spent at the Hudson River mill of the International Paper company the congressional committee left this afternoon for Washington, where tomorrow it will resume hearings. The representatives spent all their time in learning the process of paper manufacture at first hand and in ascertaining from the employes of the mills the ratio of wage increase in the last ten years.

Most of the committee's work was entirely informal, and it was only at a short hearing that any sworn testimony was taken.

Mann Silent About Trip.

Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, the chairman of the committee, would make no comment on the result of the visit. He stated that the committee had no yet decided if it would visit any other of the mills of the International Paper company and had fixed no time for the completion of the investigation.

In their trip through the mill the representatives were accompanied by Warren Curtis of New York, a director of the company; C. W. Lyman of New York, assistant to the president of the company; and W. A. Whitcomb of New York, manager of the manufacturing department.

The committee was informed by those officials that the company's investment at the Hudson river mill is between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000, and that the percentage of wage increase during the last ten years has been between 66 1-3 and 75 per cent.

The working force at the Hudson river mill is divided into nineteen main divisions of laborers, and these are further subdivided into nearly one hundred others, with an individual wage scale for each class of workmen.

Say Wages Are Larger.

The heads of several of these sections were sworn as to their present wages and those they received for the same class of labor ten years ago. With no exceptions the testimony of the witnesses was to the effect that their wages now were slightly larger than ten years ago, and that their time of labor per week had been shortened from sixty-five and sixty-six hours per week to forty-eight. All of the employes who work under the hour system, comprising half of the force, testified to this effect. The other employes testified to an increase relatively the same.

Charles W. Walker, superintendent of the Hudson river mill, stated in his testimony that he had been superintendent of the Brompton mill in Canada and that, in his opinion, common mill laborers in Canada received 15 cents per hour as against 16½ cents for American laborers.

Tells Conditions in Canada.

He said that skilled employés in the Canadian mills had to be imported into Canada from the United States, and declared that the wages paid those skilled employés was equal to those paid for a similar grade of work in the United States.

He also testified that 90 per cent of the pulp wood used in the Hudson river mills comes from Canada. The present force of the Hudson river mills is 875 men, he said, and the capacity of the plant is 240 tons per day, the greatest in the United States.

Supt. Walker was directed to prepare a table showing the wages per week paid at the Hudson river mill in 1898, 1902, and at the present time. This will be used by the committee in rendering its decision.

STANDS IN COFFIN TO PREACH

Funeral Scene Enacted by Salvation Army Captain.

SHROUD MINISTERIAL ROBE.

"Corpse" Marches in the Parade Through Pittsburg Streets.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 10.—[Special.]—Standing in a coffin and clad in a death shroud, Staff Captain Trevet of the Salvation army preached on "After Death, What?" this evening to a room crowded with people from the slums at the Penn avenue barracks.

Of all the spectacular performances to attract the sinful this evening's attempt outclassed all previous efforts, as Capt. Trevet intended it should.

Before the meeting the Salvation army band, followed by lassies with tambourines, held an open air meeting in Diamond street.

Capt. Trevet, in the garb of a corpse, headed the procession, while the band, instead of playing up to date tunes, rendered mournful funeral dirges. Behind the captain followed six men carrying a coffin on which was a large silver plate, and the whole scene carried one back to the funeral processions of medieval days. A vast crowd followed to the barracks out of curiosity and many more remained on the street than could find place inside the hall.

Salvation army members wore emblems of mourning and groaned as if they had lost their dearest friend by death. The whole performance was mournful, impressive, and even sad. The only jubilant member of the party appeared to be the representative of the corpse, for he had accomplished what he started out to do—attract attention to the cause he represents.

CLEVELAND IS GOING HOME.

Former President's Condition Improves and He Will Leave Lakewood for Princeton This Week.

Lakewood, N. J., May 10.—Reports from the Lakewood hotel tonight were that former President Grover Cleveland had passed a comfortable twenty-four hours and that his condition continues to improve. He will return to his home in Princeton this week.

The Tailored Suit Section Announces Its Great Spring Clearance Sale in Which Radical Price Reductions Have Been Made in Practically All Lines.

The holding of this sale every year at this time is a necessity, and more so this year than ever. The first four months of the year our undivided attention was given to our regular lines, keeping them supplied with the largest representations of the newest and best styles. The small quantities, broken lines and odd suits have been largely held in reserve for this event. They contain the most widely diversified range of highly desirable styles, plain colors and fancy patterns we have ever shown. It is our purpose to reduce to the minimum the time required for this clearance—consequently the worth of the Suits at the prices is deserving of strongest emphasis. This is especially so in a splendid collection of odd lots from our very recent purchases. Sixth Floor.

The heaviest reductions have been made in the lots offered at these four prices—$18.50, $25.00 $35.00 and $50.00.

THE SILK SECTION announces the sale of three varied assortments of qualities, designs and colorings of High-Grade Silks—the lines are not often to be had at such decided savings—yd., 50c, 65c, 75c. Second Floor.

Hand Embroidered Robe Patterns—$10.00, $11.00 and $13.35.

They are samples—it is only this fact that explains the extreme lowness of these prices. While they have been used for this purpose their worth has not been at all impaired.

A variety of the French hand-embroidered designs is offered at each price. The materials are linen and pique. All are bargains which are attracting marked attention at $10.00, $11.00 and $13.35. Second Floor.

The Season's Opportunity in Laces: A Widely Varied Assortment of Beautiful Patterns Marked at Half Regular Prices.

It has been very seldom that our great Lace Section has equaled the values offered in this sale. The character of the designs—many of them the most beautiful we have ever offered in such sales—and the excellence of the qualities readily show the worth of the laces. Those buying in great quantities, such as milliners, dressmakers and blousemakers, can double the purchasing power of their money—women desiring single pieces for any purpose can save half in every purchase. First Floor.

Extensive collections are offered in Appliques, Galloons, Lace Allovers and Valenciennes Laces. Beautiful combinations of blue, old rose and ecru are shown in St. Gall Appliques, Bands and Incrustations.

Bands and Appliques of Princess Point on Brussels Net grounds—yard, 65c, $1.00 and $1.25.

Princess Appliques on Filet grounds—yard, 75c, $1.25 and $1.50.

Cream Chantilly Laces—yard, 25c, 35c, 45c and upward.

Fine French Valenciennes Lace—hardly discernible from the real Valenciennes Lace—yard, 10c, 12½c and 15c.

New Tucked Nets for waists, in white, navy blue, Cuban brown and gray—the latest fashion—yard, $1.75.

Filet Nets, plain and dotted—double width—yard, 95c.

Fine Embroideries: Clearance of a Surplus Accumulation.

Such an opportunity as this is so seldom and the prices so low that hundreds of women will avail themselves of the advantages to provide extensively for their embroidery needs of the entire Summer. First Floor.

Nainsook and Swiss Edgings and Insertions are offered in a splendid selection of patterns and in widths ranging from 4 to 14 inches—yard, 10c, 12½c, 15c, 18c 20c 25c and upward to 45c.

White Lawn for Graduating Dresses, Yd., 35c.

A saving of about one-third—This is one of our own imported lines—a limited quantity is to be had at this price. The weave is of a beautiful fine sheer texture with a finish which makes it especially desirable for graduation dresses. Practically three yards may be purchased at the regular price of two at this reduction—yard, 35c.

Remnant Clearance—Sharp reductions go in effect today in one of the largest and best collections of White Goods Remnants this section has ever placed on sale—they are in lengths and qualities for nearly every purpose, and the saving in each price which will attract marked attention. Second Floor.

Boys' White Russian Blouse Suits, $1.95.

The character of these little Blouse Suits is such that every mother seeking such a purchase will be immediately interested in them. They are exceptionally well made—and the material is of a quality not often to be had at this price. They are box plaited down the front and embroidered with anchor and chevron. A special feature—they button on the side with white pearl buttons. Sizes for every age from 2½ to 7 years—special, $1.95. Fourth Floor.

Attractive Summer Work in Fancy Goods.

Unusual interest will attend the announcement of the new showing of beautiful Pillow Covers, Table Covers and Scarfs. The uncommon patterns—those which will find favor owing to their distinctive features—are widely numbered in each style. Special prices add materially to the merit of many lines. Third Floor.

The artistic colorings and the designs of the New Art Covers make them especially deserving of commendation—Stamped Square and Oblong Pillow Covers, 50c and $1.00; Stamped Table Covers, square and round, 50c; Scarfs, $1.00.

Embroidered "New Art" Pillow Covers, $7.00 and $10.00.

First showing of the New Hand-blocked Hessian Pillow Covers and Table Covers—the patterns and colorings are decidedly unique—Pillow Covers, 75c; Table Covers, $1.75.

Cretonne Pillow Covers in highly adaptable colors and designs for porches and Summer homes—30c, 35c.

Bonaz Covers, 60c, 65c and 75c.

Hand-Embroidered Linen Pillow Covers with ruffle, $1.00.

White and Colored Laundry Bags, 25c and 30c.

New designs in the beautiful washable Hand-Block Printed Pillow Tops, Table Covers and Scarfs—Pillow Tops, 10c; Table Covers, 85c, $1.00, $1.35; Scarfs, 65c.

Remnants of Figured Silk, Figured Satin, English Print and Cretonnes in pillow lengths at a great reduction.

Men's Fine Madras Shirts, Special, $1.50.

Men's plain front Madras Negligee Shirts, in neat figured and striped designs on white ground—made coat shape with cuffs attached, or two pair detached, each, $1.50. First Floor.

THE LOOP.

It is to be hoped that the attempt now being made to bring about a consolidation of the elevated roads will be successful, and that speedily. It will be much easier for the city to get something done about the loop if it shall have only one set of officials to deal with instead of several with conflicting interests. Some of the changes in methods of operation which the city desires would come of themselves if the roads were consolidated. Thus far it has been impossible to secure them because one road has always played the part of the off ox.

Last week the council committee on local transportation had a conference with representatives of the elevated roads. The latter averred their willingness to coöperate with the city in securing better conditions on the loop. The assurances would be more pleasing if there were a certainty that something would come of them. Unhappily there is not. All that was accomplished was to arrange for a conference between the engineers of the roads and Mr. Weston of the board of supervising engineers to discuss the recommendations made in his report and pass on their feasibility.

The committee on local transportation will have to await the result of this new conference. If it shall come to naught, and if the new move for the consolidation of the roads shall be as unproductive of results as past attempts, there will be nothing left for the committee but to act. It could keep on having conferences. The officers of the roads are always as willing to talk matters over as they are unwilling to do anything. But there have been several years of fruitless conferences and it is time for action.

The right of the loop to exist is questioned in a bill now in the courts. The loop, already overcrowded, will be more crowded when the Evanston line of the Northwestern elevated shall have been opened. If nothing is done this summer conditions on the loop when winter comes will be unbearable. It will become a dangerous nuisance. It is the duty of the elevated roads to give good service and enough of it. If there shall be a persistent failure to do so a way to bring them to terms can be found.

RED TAPE AND PUBLIC SERVICE.

The central problem of civil service is to establish the certainty and definiteness which protects the service from the invasions of political interest without too greatly restricting the proper freedom and elasticity which makes for real efficiency.

It is inevitable that every attempt to vest in officials some degree of discretion in choice should be open to and should suffer suspicion. It is proper, indeed, that every such attempt should be keenly scrutinized. It is advisable that it should not be made save in cases of plain need.

Nevertheless, if the merit system is not to fall by the weight of its uncorrected defects this problem of discretion must be honestly met. To its working out the first step is undoubtedly a movement for simplification of methods and a broadening of the principles upon which tests are made. This movement is now the concern of the National Assembly of Civil Service Commissions, which is now holding its annual conference in Chicago.

Certainly red tape is the foe of civil service, which, after all, must be efficient service if it is not to prove itself worse than spoils service, since the latter is from time to time amenable to public opinion, while a bureaucracy wound up in red tape could hardly be reformed short of a revolution.

The difficulty in practice is, of course, to prevent the public service from being loaded down with incompetents, the degree of whose incompetency is not easily defined in rules or ordinances. Often this incompetency is not disclosed until after employment. Often it is not to be ascertained by written tests. It is even difficult to formulate it in charges or prove upon trial. Yet it is there, a charge upon the public service.

Undoubtedly it is well that doubts should be resolved against the opportunities of political subterfuge, masking itself as official discretion and zeal for efficient service. But efficiency must be definitely regarded and every means for preserving it considered. Chief Examiner Fowler's paper on the limitations of the written examination is excellent, and his statement of the drift of policy in his state (New York) should be taken to heart by the jealous guardians of the merit system throughout the country. He says:

> We in New York state have substituted in some instances oral for written examinations. For instance, in choosing attendants at many state institutions, like reformatory schools, character and a love for the work are of prime importance. We found that many applicants who had no difficulty in passing the educational test were still, by reason of temperamental defects, quite unsatisfactory. Oral examinations supplemented with a close inspection of the personal character and experience of the applicants in fully two-thirds of the classes worked admirably. In general, too, I should say that more weight is now being attached to the moral tone and experience of the applicants.

The problem of red tape involves, however, not only the methods of examination, the terms of entrance into the public service, and the conditions of removal but it also involves the larger problem of red tape in public administration. Perhaps this is deemed by the national assembly without their immediate concern, and yet the ultimate efficiency of the merit system is inevitably bound up with the problem of efficiency in public administration. Certainly wherever a blow can be struck for economy, business system, and the allied merits of public service, it is the duty of friends of civil service reform to strike promptly and with all their might.

ASYLUM LEGISLATION.

Is it asking too much of the Illinois legislature to request that it recognize the needs of the state charitable institutions as worthy of more than casual attention? Few citizens of the state at all acquainted with the present asylum system will deny that it can be improved greatly. If the house of representatives considers this the proper time at which to attempt the improvement there will be few to enter objections. There will be a general indorsement of a plan of action which looks to the bettering of the institutions, but there will be many to object to precipitate, undeliberate action. The subject is too important to be made a political question. It is too important to be involved in the complications resulting from the opposition of one faction of a party to another faction. It is too important to be solved by cramming an undigested law through the legislative processes which are devised to procure deliberate action.

When the house of representatives set itself to the task of putting the reorganization bill through in three legislative days with even less deliberation than usually given a measure of minor importance it convicted itself of an impropriety. It gave the senate the only possible excuse which the latter could have for refusing to give consideration to the proposed reorganization.

It should be apparent to the members of both houses that the asylums of the state are not proper subjects for petty maneuvering. It may be that the Shurtleff bill, which combines features of the New York and the Iowa institution laws, proposes the act which this state should have. The member who assembled its parts from the laws of two other states and the members who passed it in the house do not know that it is, and no one else in the state knows it, and no effort has been made to find out whether or not it is.

What the house has done it has done. Its methods will not meet the approval of any one who wishes to consider the legislature a deliberative body, but the work is done. The senate is responsible now for further action which may be taken on the reorganization measure. The upper branch of the legislature has declared its conviction that the time is not a proper one for the consideration of legislation of this importance and has appointed a committee to report to the next general assembly.

It would be better for the state that this delay should occur than that it should be given a law as little considered as the Shurtleff bill has been, but neither course is satisfactory. If the legislature has any desire to do the right thing, let it buckle down to work and produce a law which it has reason to believe meets the need as it should be met. The senate is shirking a plain duty and cannot excuse itself. The general assembly has several months of life which could be profitably devoted to this subject. Senators and representatives should go back to Springfield.

PANIC SUICIDES.

Since the panic in Wall street last October twenty-eight suicides have taken place which have been caused directly or indirectly by it. Even now, six months after that panic, suicides are recorded, one of the last being that of Charles Custer, the New York broker, who, a few days ago, after vainly striving to retrieve losses amounting to a million and a half dollars by operations of a purely gambling character, at last gave up the hopeless game and shot himself. Among these men who took their own lives because of ruinous finance are five prominent brokers, five bank cashiers, and seven bank presidents, showing that some bankers had imperiled their legitimate business and the money intrusted to them by others by illegitimate dealings in stocks or investment in risky projects.

It is a curious feature of this sad record that so many bank officials should have been urged to death, the victims of their own folly and dishonesty. But they are not the only ones. The total list of those who have committed suicide since the 1st of January because of business misfortunes of various kinds is sixty-seven, and some of these cases also probably were due to the October panic. How many more will appear in the records time will show. The significant feature of it all is the rapid increase of this class of suicides. During the last twenty years the number has been small, but during the last two years it has grown with surprising rapidity. This may be due in part possibly to the general increase of suicides all over the country, for they are now increasing much faster than homicides. It may be due in part also to the increased social strain and competition and the mania to get riches measured by millions, for hundreds of thousands are hardly considered as constituting wealth. But in the majority of these cases and in all the cases where brokers and bank officials have been concerned it was the inevitable exposure of dishonesty and illegitimate practices which could be concealed no longer and which threatened the penitentiary and public disgrace.

The infrequency of suicide in past years because of business losses was probably due to the fact that the losses were the result of misfortune or of causes that could not be helped, and aroused sympathy instead of odium.

AUTHORITY OVER PUPILS.

The Supreme court of Wisconsin has just made an important decision of great interest to teachers and boards of education. In it the declaration is made that school authorities have the power to suspend pupils for offenses committed outside of school hours and not in the presence of the teacher, provided that the offenses are of such nature as to have a direct and immediate tendency to influence the conduct of other pupils in the schoolroom. If discipline is set at naught or the authority of the teacher is impaired or he is brought into ridicule and contempt, there is justification for punishment. Without this power order, decency, decorum, and good government within the school are impossible.

The case arose in the high school at St. Croix Falls. Two girls, daughters of a leading citizen, being offended at the strict discipline of the principal, wrote a poem, "Rules of St. Croix Jail," which was printed in a local paper. The faculty demanded an apology before the school as the alternative of expulsion. When the pupils declined to apologize or to pay a small fine assessed under the school rules they were expelled. The board of education sustained the faculty action. The appeal to the courts has been decided as above indicated.

The principle has wide application. If it should be adopted in other states it would settle many disputed points. Just where the authority of the parent ends and that of the teacher begins has long been uncertain. Where there has been no coöperation of parent and teacher much difficulty has arisen. It has been a safe retreat for many an unruly pupil that the offense charged against him was committed outside of the schoolyard and after school hours.

The matter was brought to attention in the recent fight in Chicago against the high school fraternities. The boys who used their "frathouse" as a place for gambling, boisterousness, or other reprehensible conduct were outspoken in their declaration that the school authorities had no jurisdiction. Yet the evidence was overwhelming against these societies as destructive to the effective discipline of the school.

The decision has weight as coming from the highest legal authority of a state. It is revolutionary in its nature. But it will commend itself to the great majority as the proper attitude toward a matter which has long been a disputed point in educational circles.

THE ARMY OF MISSING.

Three lists of names used to greet the anxious folks at home when they looked at the paper after a battle in the civil war time. Those which gave the "dead" and the "wounded" told their own story. In the column of the "missing" life's tragedies found expression. Hope and despair fought for mastery. Perhaps the soldier had been taken prisoner and was on his way to Andersonville or Libby. Perhaps he had been wounded on the edge of the battlefield and had been overlooked and left to suffer alone. Perhaps he had been assigned to a special service and would soon return to his accustomed place. Perhaps his fate never would be known. The records of war are full of the tragedies of the "missing."

It is evident that peaceful times are marked by similar anxieties and mysteries. The army of the "missing" is a large one. When lake or river gives up a body the morgue is visited by many who seek to identify the dead. Now and then a friend is recognized. More often the eager searcher turns away unsatisfied. If a child is reported held by wandering gypsies, claimants appear from every side. Whether adult or child, whether male or female, makes no difference. For every body that is found in lake, on vacant lot, on the railroad track, in "murder yard," or wherever the flotsam and jetsam of life finds lodgment, there is a procession of anxious sufferers who seek relief from the torment of uncertainty which attends the friends of the "lost" and the "missing."

The identity of some of the mutilated bodies taken from the barnyard on the Indiana farm may never be disclosed. The sickening details of investigation in a case like this are spread throughout the country. But for every body found in such a time of excitement there are many more whose fate never will be known. Just how many no one can tell. But the constant search for the "missing" indicates the size of the army of those who have drifted away from home and friends.

PIUS X. has just revived two former orders of knighthood and created a third one. The latter is to bear the name of the Order of St. Thomas Aquino and is destined to reward services of a literary character to the Catholic church and to perpetuate the memory of St. Thomas Aquinas, whom Leo XIII. in his encyclical letter of August, 1874, declared to have furnished by his teachings of philosophy and theology the foundations of all scientific studies of Catholic christendom.

The Order of St. Cecilia, revived by Pius X., was first created in November, 1847, by Pius IX. for rewarding services of a musical character, and its first knights were the officers of the ancient Society of St. Cecilia, founded by the great composer Palestrino in the middle of the sixteenth century. The other order revived by the pope was known as that of the Moor, founded in September, 1806, by Pius VII., and, as in former times, is to be used for the purpose of honoring great painters and sculptors.

There are at the present moment in addition to these three orders five others in the gift of the pontiff. The chief of them all is the Order of Christ, founded in 1318 by King Denis of Portugal and confirmed in 1320 by Pope John XXII., who reserved to the pontiffs the right of conferring its grand cross upon persons of high rank. The pope bestows it upon royal personages and great nobles of the Catholic faith, and, unless I am much mistaken, the late Prince Bismarck was the only non-Catholic statesman ever to have received the distinction.

Then next in rank comes the Order of Pius IX., founded by the late pope in 1847; then the Order of St. Gregory the Great, founded by Pope Gregory XVI. in 1831 and of which there are four classes. It is this order with which a number of American citizens conspicuous for their services to the Catholic church have been decorated. Then there is the Order of St. Sylvester, while of late the pope has likewise assumed for himself the prerogative of conferring the highest class of the Order of the Holy Sepulcher, formerly in the gift of the Latin patriarch of Jerusalem and founded at the time of the crusades.

Americans visiting Rome, by the bye, will find a great change in the appearance of the famous castle of St. Angelo, the history of which dates back to the second century of the Christian era to the reign of Emperor Hadrian. For the bastion constructed in 1641 by Pope Urban VIII. is being torn down by the municipality of the Eternal city in order to admit of the doubling of the roadway along the right bank of the Tiber, where traffic, save on the days of some great festivity at St. Peter's, is extremely small.

England's foreign office has issued a notification which the state department at Washington will do well to copy, and which is to the effect that the British government will in future decline to pay ransom for any subjects of King Edward who have been captured by brigands, either in Morocco or in any other lawless and more or less barbarous countries.

This is a new but yet an extremely sensible departure. Until now as often as Englishmen have been captured by bandits when picnicking on the plains of Marathon or while engaged in shooting expeditions in the interior of Albania and other portions of Turkey, in hunting trips in Morocco, or in geographical explorations or missionary work in China and other parts of Asia and Africa, the British government always has been required to pay the ransom on the risky chance of recovering the amount from the potentate in whose dominions the outrage has taken place.

In many cases the treasury has been unsuccessful in getting back the money in this fashion, which has, therefore, come out of the pocket of the British taxpayers. Now, there is no earthly reason why the taxpayers who stay at home should be called upon to pay ransom for some compatriot who for his own amusement, for his own profit, or through some mistaken sense of self-ascribed duty enters of his own accord a country infested by brigands. If he chooses to run the risk of capture by bandits, a risk of which he is perfectly well aware, he should accept the consequences. Moreover, as long as it is known that the British government undertakes to ransom any of its subjects who happen to be captured by foreign brigands, the latter have a potent inducement to kidnap and hold for ransom lieges of King Edward.

In fact, there would be much less of this kidnaping of Englishmen and Americans by brigands if it were generally known that their respective governments would under no circumstances furnish the ransom, and in proof of this I need only point out that one never hears of any Italian or Greek, Spaniard, or Portuguese being captured by Turkish or Moorish bandits, who know too well that it would be hopeless to expect anything in the shape of ransom from the governments to which their prisoners are subject. England has not only spent large sums of money in ransoms to bandits but has even embarked in wars in order to secure the liberation of British citizens, a notable case in point being the Abyssinian campaign, which cost millions of money.

Winston Churchill, in his capacity as newly appointed minister of commerce and labor in the Asquith cabinet, has just made public the report of the careful investigation by his department into the terrible railroad accident at Shrewsbury in October last, in which so many American lives were lost. It shows that the catastrophe was due to the engine driver, Martin, a perfectly sober, healthy, and careful man, having fallen if not fast asleep at any rate into a doze at his post, which prevented him from seeing the signals set against him. The English papers treat this overwhelming sense of drowsiness by which the engine driver was overtaken, with such fatal results, as something altogether unusual.

History, however, furnishes a number of similar instances. Thus Lord Wolseley is the authority for the story that his comrade and friend, Gen. Sir Pomeroy Colley, one of the most brilliant officers of the English army, who commanded the British forces in South Africa at the time of the crushing defeat at Majuba hill, was in the habit of being overcome at odd and most inconvenient moments with an invincible and altogether unconquerable desire to sleep.

These fits would come upon Sir Pomeroy without warning, and the efforts which he would then make to combat this almost insane desire to sleep would reduce him to a sort of mental stupor, from which it was impossible to arouse him, no matter what means were adopted for the purpose. Lord Wolseley is convinced that Sir Pomeroy had been overtaken by one of these fits on Majuba hill, the sudden loss of his head and of his ordinarily brilliant faculties, which threw his command into disorder at the most critical moment of the conflict, resulting in defeat, being undoubtedly attributable thereto. Sir Pomeroy, as every one knows, met his death during the battle by means of a Boer bullet and hence was never able to furnish any explanation of his momentary aberration, accountable only in the manner explained by Lord Wolseley.

The latter, who is one of the most erudite students of military history, ancient as well as modern, also adds the not generally known fact that the first Napoleon was subject to the same occasional affliction as Gen. Sir Pomeroy Colley, and that his defeats at Leipsic and likewise at Waterloo were attributable to the fact that his mind, practically speaking, had stopped working through overwhelming drowsiness at the most critical moments of the respective battles. It was this, indeed, that led to the wild legends about his being at times incapacitated by drunkenness.

Many of the comrades of Admiral Sir George Tryon are of the opinion that it was something of the same kind which led him to make, while commander in chief of the Mediterranean squadron, the lamentable mistake which caused his flagship, the Victoria, to be rammed and sunk off the coast of Syria, with more than 600 men on board, and the evidence collected during the investigation of the loss of the ocean liner Mohegan, on the Manacle rocks, off the coast of Cornwall, all went to show that the captain, a man of acknowledged abstemiousness, of rare experience, and apparently magnificent health, physically as well as mentally, and the commodore of the entire fleet of the company, had lost momentarily his faculties through this peculiar and ill timed drowsiness, which the Scotch style "dwams" and the French medical men designate by the old French word "petitmal."

CALLS LIQUOR A STRONG FOE

Gov. Hanly Speaks on Local Option at Baltimore Meeting.

PREDICTS DESPERATE FIGHT

Committee Will Hear Cooke's Charges Against Bishops.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Baltimore, Md., May 10.—[Special.]—Gov. Hanly of Indiana evidently regards prohibition, or at least local option, as the coming great national issue. He made the chief address at this afternoon's big meeting in Lyric hall under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal Church Temperance society.

The governor compared the temperance movement with that of the crusade against slavery, saying the same effective argument against the abolition of slavery, that of the property interests involved, was being urged in behalf of the liquor interests. He told of his labors to get a local option plank in the republican state platform of Indiana.

Made Fight in Indiana.

"I told the committee which came to me warning me not to fight for a local option plank in the platform if I wanted to be a delegate to the national convention that they evidently did not know that I was more concerned in the local option plank than I was in being a delegate, although I wanted to be a delegate." The plank, he said, was inserted and he was made a delegate.

Dr. P. A. Baker, national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league; Bishop Luther B. Wilson, president of that organization, and William H. Anderson, superintendent of the Maryland division, who spoke before Gov. Hanly, were disposed to take optimistic views of the future because of the great strides made by local option in the last few years. But Gov. Hanly warned against this tendency at the outset of his address, saying:

Predicts Hard Fight.

"While I rejoice with you in what has been done, the hour of jubilee is not yet at hand. We have a foeman worthy of great strength, and it will require a desperate fight not only to carry on the cause to ultimate victory throughout the entire nation but also to hold what we have already gained."

There was a demonstrative greeting for Mr. Anderson when he was introduced to tell of the work in Maryland, where he has led a vigorous fight for the last year. Mr. Anderson formerly lived in Chicago.

Most of the local Protestant pulpits today were filled by visiting delegates to the general conference, which resumes its session tomorrow morning.

Charges Against Four Bishops.

Charges of maladministration which have been preferred against Bishop Daniel A. Goodsell of Boston, Bishop David H. Moore of Portland, Ore., Bishop Joseph F. Berry of Buffalo, and Bishop William F. McDowell of Chicago will be heard by a committee of which two members are the Rev. Dr. Mathew S. Hughes and Hanford Crawford, both of St. Louis.

The charges are made by the Rev. George A. Cooke of New York. The charges against Bishops McDowell, Berry, and Goodsell are the outcome of rulings in the case against the Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley of New York and Prof. Borden P. Bowne of Boston university.

APPEAL FOR CHILD WORKERS.

Miss Jane Addams and Other Speakers Address National Conference of Charities and Correction.

Richmond, Va., May 10.—[Special.]—Appeals for better laws to protect children who work in factories were made by speakers before the National Conference of Charities and Correction in St. Paul's church tonight.

Miss Jane Addams of Hull house, Chicago, emphasized the sin and misguided policy of parents who would waste the life of their children—who would sacrifice them to build a modest home and buy lace curtains. She pleaded for manual training.

The Rev. A. J. McKelway of Atlanta and Prof. W. H. Stead of the University of South Carolina were the other speakers. The Rev. M. Ashby Jones of Columbus, Ga., preached the annual sermon this morning.

WOMAN'S TRADE UNION LEAGUE GIVES MAYDAY MUSIC FETE.

Planting of Flowers Throughout the City Urged by the Rev. Harry Ward in Spring Sermon.

A "Mayday music festival" was given by the Woman's Trade Union League of Chicago yesterday afternoon in Federation hall, 275 La Salle street. The flower decorations, the piano, the neat and pretty trade union girls, many of them with M. W. hats, presented a strange and pleasing contrast to the aspect of the dingy old hall during meetings of the federation of labor, when the atmosphere is thick with tobacco smoke.

It was the first time music was heard in Federation hall. In addition to that a genuine "spring sermon" was preached by the Rev. Harry F. Ward of the Union Avenue Methodist church. English, Flemish, and Dutch folk songs were sung by a chorus of young women students of the Chicago Kindergarten institute, under the direction of Mrs. Seymour, who furnished the piano accompaniment. Then Mrs. Raymond Robins, president of the league, introduced the preacher, whose subject was "Life and Labor."

Following the sermon solos were sung by Gordon Ericson and several violin solos were given by Miss Belle MacFarland. Several Hawaiian songs were sung by Miss Mary Sprague, director of the "Eight Hour chorus" of the league.

GIRL ILL; PRIEST SHUT OUT.

Young Woman's Sister, Sweetheart, and Two Women Friends Also Denied Admittance.

People of St. Ambrose's Roman Catholic parish were roused to indignation yesterday by a story which their pastor, the Rev. William N. Foley, told at each of the masses.

He told of being notified by phone last Tuesday morning that one of his parishioners, Katie Dundon, had been overcome by gas and was seriously ill at the home of William H. McGillivray, 4528 Oakenwald avenue, where she was employed. He called at the house and was denied admittance by McGillivray. He notified the police, who told him the man need not admit him unless he chose to.

The priest returned to the house and found a sister of the girl vainly trying to gain admittance. Frantic with anxiety the young woman sought the assistance of a physician, her sister's own sweetheart, and two women friends. These five people remained in the rain in front of the house all afternoon and until 11 o'clock at night. At that hour, it is said, McGillivray's son Roy, came home and was seized by the besiegers and held as a hostage until the sick girl was released.

JOHN CRERAR'S WORK HONORED.

Memorial Services Are Held in New Presbyterian Church Named for the Late Philanthropist.

Memorial services for the late John Crerar were held yesterday afternoon in the new Crerar Memorial Presbyterian church, Fifty-seventh street and Prairie avenue. The church was crowded with members of the congregation and friends of the philanthropist.

Lyman Ware presided and introduced the speakers. Arthur Wheeler, who drew up the will of Mr. Crerar, was the first speaker. He told of his long personal acquaintance with his client and friend.

The Rev. Dr. John Balcom Shaw followed and spoke of Mr. Crerar's gifts to religion and charity. The principal address was made by Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus. Mrs. Annie Thacker sang.

This is the impression: Eugene Walters, who wrote "Paid in Full," is a keenly observant young man. He sees and takes note of the things that are happening around him. He meets and classifies the men and women with whom he comes in contact. He follows the theater and the trend of the drama. He reads, intermittently perhaps, the philosophers—from Marcus Aurelius of old to Elbert Hubbard, quite new. He worries more or less concerning social and political economics. And he tries to sift all that he sees and knows and learns through a fine screen of common sense.

His first play of consequence, which was presented in the Grand opera house last evening before an audience that insisted on applauding at frequent intervals when Mr. Walters struck close to home, is the result of his natural gift for observation, his inherent philosophic trend, his conscientious interest in the affairs of the nation, and his dramatic instinct, which is much truer than that disclosed by most young playwrights.

The result is an absorbing story told by four interesting and well defined characters. As a "criticism of life" it is audacious without being daring. Evidently Mr. Walters was not quite sure enough of his ground to be daring. He wanted to call a spade a spade, but he did not want to offend the sensitive judgment of the play producers. Therefore, though the play lacks nothing in the essential qualities necessary to serious modern drama, it would have been more vital were it more direct. There is a certain, though a natural, hesitancy on the part of the author in saying exactly what he wants to say. He does not quibble, but he compromises.

"Paid in Full" is the dramatization of the life of a weakling. And of such weaklings the apartment buildings, if not the woods, are full. The young man of this play is an underpaid clerk employed by a steamship company to collect bills and keep books. He got along well enough on his $18 a week until he married a girl who had been used to more than he was able to give her in the way of comforts and luxuries. After that experience he became discontented.

Assisting him in the cultivation of a perpetual grouch was his wife's family. He felt that she was dissatisfied with him; he knew they were because they told him so. He resented the success of his associate workers. He became a sort of half-baked socialist. He raved at his lot and brooded over the injustice of the world. When his wife sweetly told him she did not care how poor they were he knew she lied. And when, in the midst of a particularly irritable spell, consequent upon his last request for more salary and his employer's refusal to grant it, it was intimated to him that he personally was at fault he "flew off the handle" and declared himself.

After that he became reckless. He refused to be pitied by his friends. He hated the thought of accepting entertainment he could not return. He was stung by the knowledge that his wife's wardrobe had become depleted until she had not a single gown fit to wear in public. And he began taking his employer's money. He tried to even matters with the unjust world, and being a weakling he took the easiest course, which is always the dishonest one.

After he had stolen $16,000 he was found out. When disclosure was imminent he became panic stricken. Blackwell's island loomed up before him. He could see the bars of a cell. He was ready to do anything to save himself, for weaklings are always selfish. Suddenly the thought came to him that his wife could help him. His employer had always liked his wife. He (the employer) would listen to her. She could perhaps beg him off and save him from jail. He suggested to her that she try. Perhaps he realized what he was asking; perhaps he knew the kind of bargain his employer would try to drive. If he did he tried not to think of it. All he was anxious about was the jail sentence for himself. But she, not being panic stricken, and being a woman, immediately concluded that he was willing to sell her as the price of his liberty. And she was horrified.

Yet she went to the employer—to his apartments, at night, and offered to discuss the situation with him. She had no reason to believe there was but one price she could pay, or but one settlement she could effect. But that thought was in the air, and so they bandied it back and forth until she, receiving no encouragement, and still groping in the dark, declared she was willing to pay any price demanded, but that it would be with her life.

Then the employer, a gruff but honorable old sea captain, changed the signals and declared that he had always known she was a good woman, that it was only as a good woman that he would bargain with her, and that as a reward for her goodness he would receipt her husband's defalcations. She then returned to the weakling, told him what she had done, shrank at his childish relief at being free, accused him of being the most detestable of creatures, and left him.

It is, as said, an absorbing story because it cuts so closely to the treacherous paths our neighbors tread. Had a foreign dramatist written it there would probably have been no doubt regarding the proposition of the husband to buy his liberty and the wicked employer would have fulfilled the suggestiveness of the situation by actually planning personally to bring about the crucial situation which would have forced the wife into his hands. But even as it stands it is sufficiently vital to offer an exceptional dramatic entertainment and to give excellent promise of the new dramatist's future work.

The four principal characters were acted by Helen Ware as the wife, Guy Bates Post as the weakling, Scott Cooper as the growling, stanch hearted employer, and Albert Brown as a good bachelor with advice and money and all the self-sacrificing qualities the weak husband lacked.

Individually and collectively these players gave an admirable performance. With the truth and incisiveness of Miss Ware's emotional method we are already familiar. She is an unusually easy, natural, and at all times forceful actress, with a definite knowledge of what she is attempting to convey and an abundant technical resource upon which to call to assist her. Mr. Post has also the gift of interpretation as contrasted with superficial "acting," and his haunted weakling, fired periodically with a determination to do and dare, was finely drawn. Mr. Cooper's blustering saint in war paint was excellent, especially in point of makeup, and Mr. Brown's languorous hero was an effective foil to all three. The staging is complete and attractive, the detail being carefully worked out.

Michail Michailoff Sings.

It is a little bit hard on a Russian tenor to ask him to make his American debut in Chicago and then introduce him to a week of damp and dismal rains in which to prepare for the event. Singers declare that our atmospheric conditions are discouragingly hard on voices that have become acclimated and positively ruinous temporarily on those that have not.

However, despite all handicaps, Michail Sigaldi Michailoff, who is famous enough in St. Petersburg to have attracted the attention of Impresario Hammerstein in New York, sang in Orchestra hall for the first time in America yesterday afternoon and created a most favorable impression with those who heard him and understood that his voice could not possibly be at its best under the circumstances.

The fact, therefore, that there were still a few cold, lingering rain drops in the lower voice of the Michailoff organ, marring the tone and causing it to be clouded and uncertain, did not seriously disappoint. Particularly as the singer soon demonstrated that this was practically the only blemish in a voice that was otherwise capable of many true and satisfying tones. Mr. Michailoff is a tenor of the Constantino type. His voice is not impressively big, but it is strong and full, and its lyric quality appealingly sympathetic. Having had considerable operatic experience, he appears enamored of the sustained climax, and twice he put himself to a supreme test that set his stocky frame aquiver and earned for him the spontaneous tribute of applause such efforts are certain to produce. He sang "Di Quella Pira" from "Il Trovatore" and a Tschaikowsky aria expressively, and a Russian folk song with beautiful simplicity.

Miss Myrtle Elvyn, pianiste, furnished a part of the program with the unaffected charm of manner and solid, musicianly attainments characteristic of her. Her exceptional finger technique and perfect taste were beautifully evidenced in an inspiring performance devoted to the Liszt legend of St. Francis and the waves, and in the same group she played exquisitely the second Chopin nocturne, opus 37.

Edith Bowyer Whiffen granted Mr. Michailoff confidence by the discretion and taste with which she played his accompaniments. The concert was for the benefit of the West Side Jewish Hospital association, and the audience was of fair size.

Changes in the Theaters.

"Brewster's Millions" was brought back to Chicago yesterday with Edward Abeles still playing the millions-ridden young son of fortune. The present engagement is being played in McVicker's theater, the large stage of which offers exceptional opportunities for the staging of the yacht scene.

In the Auditorium yesterday "His Honor the Mayor," a musical comedy that was originally staged in the Chicago opera house and was later practically rewritten and restaged in the east, began a return engagement with a comedian named Harry Kelly featured in the cast. A more complete report of these performances is deferred.

SUNDAY EVENING CLUB HEARS DR. M'CLURE ON "CHARACTER."

President of McCormick Seminary Tells Young Men of His Experiences in Influences for the Good and Bad.

The Rev. James G. K. McClure, D. D., president of McCormick Theological seminary, was the speaker last night before the Sunday Evening club in Orchestra hall. In the audience were many young men, former students of Lake Forest university, where Dr. McClure was president for many years.

"Character governs the world and inherits the next," was Dr. McClure's subject. He said that character was influenced by wealth, power, and position, but that more than all else character was made by moral influence. He said that the greatest citizen was not the one who was the most wealthy nor the most powerful. He said that man whose character was controlled by truth, justice, sympathy, and love was the one whose influence was the strongest and best.

Preceding the address by Dr. McClure Clarence Dickinson gave an organ recital. It was announced that the Rev. W. A. Bartlett, pastor of the First Congregational church, would speak next Sunday evening. The attendance at these services Sunday evening has constantly increased.

PROF. STARR IS CRITICISED.

Congo Missionary Declares Anthropologist's Views Regarding Conditions in Africa Are Untrustworthy.

The Rev. Joseph Clark, member of the Congo Reform association, who has been lecturing in America since his return from the Congo last fall, delivered an illustrated lecture yesterday afternoon in the assembly hall of the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A., in which he criticised the report on conditions in Congo made several months ago by Prof. Starr of the University of Chicago.

"Prof. Starr's investigation was not thorough or accurate," declared the speaker. "I have lived twenty-eight years in the state and have had an opportunity to study conditions more closely than this distinguished scholar. The atrocities of the native soldiers have never been exaggerated. I have offered several times to convince this gentleman of my contentions, but he has refused to listen to me."

Mr. Clark advised every one present to write a personal letter to Secretary Root urging him to do everything possible to secure immediate international intervention.

Chicago Actress Stricken.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 10.—[Special.]—Florence Stearns, daughter of A. J. Stearns of the Stearns Range company of Chicago, is seriously ill of scarlet fever in the detention ward of the Michigan University hospital. She was playing here with the "Peter Pan" company two weeks ago, when she was stricken.

LAST CHANCE TO RAISE RAVINIA REDEMPTION FUND.

North Shore Citizens Hustle Today to Get $5,000 Before Time Limit Set by Grosscup Expires.

The Ravinia Park association, composed of business men of the lake shore towns who wish to retain the summer resort's standard as a high class amusement place, today will make a determined effort to raise $5,000 to insure control of the park grounds. The time given the association by Judge Grosscup, receiver for the bankrupt amusement company, expires tonight at 12 o'clock.

C. M. Howe, R. C. Lutkin, and C. B. Stevens, the committee appointed by north shore residents, announced at night that $10,300 had been contributed by citizens of the following communities:

Highland Park	$4,600	Kenilworth	1,000
Evanston	1,000	Glencoe	1,200
Wilmette	500	Winnetka	2,000

C. M. Howe said the amount already in the hands of the committee had been raised with but little work and that he felt assured the required sum would be obtained early today. Women of Evanston may be asked to assist in raising the money.

POLICE BUSY FINDING CHILDREN

Many Wander from Ghetto Because of Sunshine Lure, and Policemen Scour Districts.

Yesterday was a record breaking day for the west side police in finding lost children. More than twenty-five lost children were found and restored to their parents. Yesterday's pleasant weather was responsible for many of the cases reported to the police.

All day long and far into the early hours of the morning detectives from the "Ghetto" district searched for wandering children. Capt. Mahoney said last night it was the busiest day his men had for several years.

"My men found nearly twenty lost children," he said. "That's a record breaker. I suppose the pleasant weather was responsible for most of the cases."

LECTURES BY AN EXPLORER.

Dr. E. R. Young Will Address Presbyterian Ministers Today and Speak in Various Churches During Week.

Dr. Egerton R. Young, the arctic explorer and missionary, will speak today at the Presbyterian ministers' meeting and this evening in Grace Methodist Episcopal church. PLAYS AID MERCY HOSPITAL

Institution Receives Week's Proceeds from Powers' Theater.

LADIES' AUXILIARY PLAN.

Raise Money for Building Fund and to Furnish New Annex.

Mercy hospital will be the beneficiary of the performances of the entire week at Powers' theater. Under an arrangement made with Manager Harry J. Powers of the theater by the Ladies' Auxiliary association of the hospital, the proceeds will be devoted to the hospital building fund and the furnishing of the new annex.

The theatrical program nightly and for the usual matinées will be the double bill, "The Building Fund," by the Irish players of Dublin, Ireland, and the farce, "Twenty Days in the Shade."

The two companies have been playing at the theater for several weeks.

Mercy hospital, throughout the many years of its existence, never before has appealed for aid through a public benefit. Now the friends of the institution are using their best energies to insure the success of the present undertaking.

IN THE SOCIETY WORLD.

The marriage of Miss Mary Beckwith Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Lee, 4724 Drexel boulevard, and Mr. Dickinson H. Bishop of Dowagiac, Mich., will take place Wednesday evening, June 24, at 7:30 o'clock, at the summer home of the bride's parents in Dowagiac. Miss Mabel Easton will be the maid of honor and George Bardeen of Oswego, Mich., will be the best man. Although only close friends and relatives will be the wedding guests, a large reception will follow. The wedding of Miss Beatrice B. Boyd and Mr. Clarence F. Hoy on June 6 will be a home service, celebrated at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Edward K. Boyd, at Wheaton.

Mrs. Alonzo P. Daniels, 152 Saratoga avenue, Downers Grove, will give a luncheon next Thursday at 12:30 o'clock for the benefit of the Millspaugh memorial fountain fund. The luncheon is given to the board of the Cook County league and the Woman's Outdoor Art league, and is to add to the fountain fund in Cook county. A train will leave the Union station for Downers Grove at 11:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Carl Wagner, 625 La Salle avenue, entertained at luncheon and euchre in the Germania Männerchor parlors on Friday, May 8. Mrs. F. H. Burkhardt and Miss Louise Wilke assisted in receiving.

Mrs. Lewis L. Coburn, 1817 Michigan avenue, will give a bridge party next Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Henry H. Jackson, 29 Bellevue place, will entertain Monday afternoon, May 18.

Mrs. Philip C. Dyrenforth, 301 Schiller street, will give a luncheon on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Edward L. Upton of Waukegan, who has just been chosen president of the Chicago Woman's club.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Walker, 1721 Prairie avenue, Mr. Robert Roloson, and Mr. W. C. Comstock will sail for Europe on June 24.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Henely have given up their house at 3424 Vernon avenue and will reside at 3319 Calumet avenue. Miss Helen Henely will be a member of Miss Cole's party, which will sail for Europe on June 6.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. McJunkin and Miss Helen McJunkin, 5025 Michigan avenue, have returned to the city after a month's visit in New York and French Lick Springs.

Prof. and Mrs. Jerome Hall Raymond will leave for New York on Tuesday, sailing on Thursday for an extended European trip. They will return about Oct. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo B. Newburgh, 4658 Vincennes avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nathalie Adele, to Mr. Sol L. Levi of Cincinnati. The wedding will take place in June.

LEITER EMPLOYES PLAN GIFT.

Take Initiative in Collecting Funds for Present to Bride of Chicago Man.

Miss Juliette Williams of Washington, D. C., who is to be the bride of Joseph Leiter in June, will receive a handsome gift from the 800 employés of the Zeigler coal mines at Zeigler, Ill.

A committee of the men wrote to Mrs. L. Z. Leiter asking her advice, and she approved the plan. Employés of the various Chicago enterprises of the Leiter family also are said to be contributing for another present.

"All I know about it," said Mr. Leiter yesterday, "is that employés of the Zeigler Coal company, most of whom I know personally, some time ago expressed a desire to make a suitable gift to the bride. They wrote to my mother asking her advice. There are 800 men at the mines at Zeigler."

SOCIETY AT NATION'S CAPITAL.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. McLean Give a Largely Attended Luncheon at Country Home, Friendship.

The Belgian minister and Baroness Moncheur were guests complimentary to whom Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Lorillard entertained at dinner tonight.

For Each Woman, According to Her Needs.

IN THE SEWING ROOM

Care of the Machine.

Sewing machines need to be given personal attention. If the machine works hard or squeaks, then you may be sure it needs a thorough cleaning. Remove the needle and shuttle and give every joint and bearing in the machine a generous bath of gasoline. You must not have a lamp or fire burning anywhere near this explosive fluid.

With the needle and shuttle still out turn the wheels briskly to allow the gasoline to penetrate every part of the machine and to loosen and clean out all old oil and grime. After the wheels have been turned for a minute or so wipe away all visible oil, grease, and dirt. Cotton rags are the best for wiping away the oil, for they absorb the grease readily.

It is necessary that every drop of oil be removed. Now oil the parts with pure machine oil and run the machine again for a few minutes before reinserting the needle and shuttle.

You will find after this treatment that your machine is in perfect temper and a delight to work with, so smoothly and easily will it run.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE

To Clean Furniture.

Sweet oil will remove finger marks from varnished furniture, and kerosene from oiled furniture.

* *

Toothache Relief.

A little piece of absorbent cotton dipped into essence of peppermint and put in an aching tooth rarely ever fails to bring immediate relief.

* *

To Clean Straw Hats.

Wash the hat with cold water, using nail brush. Then get 10 cents' worth of salt of lemon and scrub the hat well. Wash again in cold water and dry in the sun. The hat will be like new.

Salt of lemon will also remove iron rust.

Wood alcohol removes stains from furniture.

Stop Flow of Blood.

Bind the wound with cobwebs and brown sugar pressed on like lint, or with fine dust of tea. When the blood ceases to flow apply laudanum.

TESTED RECIPES

Salad Dressing.

One cup sugar, worked smoothed with two tablespoons butter; one-half cup vinegar; one-half cup boiling water; one teaspoon mustard; one-half teaspoon salt; put in a double boiler, let it heat, and have ready four eggs, well beaten. Pour the liquid in and beat well; put back in the boiler, let come to a boil.

MISS JULIA JOHNSON.

* *

Veal Loaf.

Chop one veal heart and one veal tongue, one-half pound of calves liver and one-half pound bacon. Add one cup bread crumbs, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, a little salt, grated rind of one lemon, two eggs; mix. Steam three hours.

A. P. SMITHSON.

Spanish Soup.

Soak one-half pound or one pound of white beans over night; boil them the next morning till tender and add one large white cabbage which has been cut up small, a bit of bacon, a whole red pepper, and some salt; boil the whole for an hour; heat some lard or drippings in a sauce pan and fry in it a sliced onion. Put in the soup little by little and stir often with a wooden spoon. A little olive butter and garlic make this a perfect representative of the favorite soup kept for all travelers in Spanish inns.

* *

To Thicken Soft Jelly.

When jelly refuses to thicken quickly, you can add about a teaspoonful of corn starch, dissolved in a little cold water, to one quart of juice, mixing in the contents while boiling will prove satisfactory, and the taste not noticed.

Mushrooms a la Crême.

Mushrooms now should be plentiful and in many places may be had for the gathering. Use half a pound of mushrooms, two ounces of butter, the yolks of two eggs, a gill of cream, a bunch of sweet herbs, salt, pepper, grated nutmeg, and slices of buttered toast.

Peel and stalk the mushrooms. If they are large ones cut them in three or four pieces. Melt the butter, add to it the herbs and mushrooms. Toss them about over a quick fire until the mushrooms are tender; then lift out the herbs, pour off all but a little butter. Beat up the yolks with the cream; pour it into the pan, and stir the mixture over the fire until it is hot.

Season it carefully with salt, pepper, and nutmeg. Arrange it on the slices of toast, and serve it hot.

Mr. Clint G. Ford, who has been identified with the very foremost dramatic attractions, including Gillette's "Secret Service Co.," "David Harum," "The Clansman," etc., has this to say of Newbro's Herpicide:

"For years I was annoyed with dandruff and itching of the scalp, all due to my twenty years of theatrical life with its incumbent "make-up" and wig wearing. At times the itching of the scalp was intense. All remedies failed me until I tried Herpicide, and I soon found that it was giving wonderful results. The itching, and also the dandruff entirely ceased and my hair resumed its natural life and vigor.

"There is no question in my mind about the reality of the dandruff germ, and I unhesitatingly recommend Herpicide to my friends in the profession."

(Signed) CLINT G. FORD.

THEATRICAL FOLK

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Extravagant claims for toilet remedies do not influence theatrical people, because long experience enables them to discriminate intelligently. They demand merit and will rarely use a preparation that is not actually worth as much or more than it costs in dollars and cents.

Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and by actual test does more good than all other hair remedies combined. This accounts for its popularity in theatrical circles.

"Queen Roselle" writes of Newbro's Herpicide

"I take pleasure in announcing the very satisfactory results I have had from the use of Newbro's Herpicide. My hair was falling out so rapidly that I was afraid I would lose it all. A friend advised Herpicide, and after using it faithfully my hair stopped falling out, the dandruff disappeared and my hair is now very soft and glossy.

"I would like to see every lady in the profession try Herpicide, for I am confident that they would be delighted with it."

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Cubs and Pirates celebrated their escape from the sloughs and floods of Pittsburg by breaking even yesterday in a hotly contested double header before a crowd which overtaxed the accommodations of the new Cub plant. The world beaters were victors 6 to 2 in the first game and the Pirates got the long end, if there is any to a 1 to 0 score, in the trailer.

Both affairs were brilliantly fought and airtight, with the exception of the closing rounds of the opener. Mordecai Brown and "Lefty" Leifield were opponents at the start of the afternoon and were making people believe they were going to work all day without letting in a run. Just then "Lefty" lost control for a minute and Harry Steinfeldt broke up the combination with a double, which scored two runs. Before they recovered from the effects of that blow the Pirates blew themselves a bit and the Cubs shot over four more runs in the next round.

Hurlers in Great Battle.

Pfiester and Willis went to the mat in the second game and it was a pitched battle for keeps. Vic held the Cubs to a pair of singles, one of them a scratch, and Jack was almost as stingy. But two of the five hits off Pfiester got together in the seventh and compassed his defeat just at the instant he apparently had pitched himself out of a hole with flaunting laurels.

Overshadowing the work of the hurlers in the eyes of the throng were the performances of two individuals. One was the Pirate chieftain and the other took the place of the Cub boss early in the second game to let Chance nurse the remnants of his Pittsburg cold. Clarke was doing the miraculous in both games. He started his career of highway robbery by pinching a two base hit out of Chance's bat bag in the first game, making a one handed stab for it while running backward in a vain attempt to get under the ball. In the second game Clarke staved off defeat twice by picking long drives off the craniums of the overflow in deep left at imminent risk of his life. Either one of those drives from Steinfeldt's bat would have brought victory in the second game and given the third sacker the honor of winning both. Hofman played not only first base but right field as well, and had ambitions in the direction of second base until Evers shooed him away.

Errorless Play by Cubs.

After their experiences in Smoketown last week the first shirtsleeve weather of the year and the dry sod of the Cub plant looked mighty good to the players of both teams, and so did the big crowd, although it threatened at one time to swamp the whole business. Neither team showed serious effects of the long hibernation it had been through, although the pitchers with the exception of Pfiester were not certain of their control. Jack had his curves tamed so well that he permitted only one walk in eight rounds and that was intentional. The Cubs played errorless baseball in both games and the Pirates came near it, only a foozle of an easy one by Wagner in the bad seventh of the first game marring their work.

The games were twins in that the first half of each was a runless neck and neck struggle. In the first game neither team could score for five innings. The Pirates had the better chance in that time, but Brown's sterling backing helped him out of the one tough situation in which he found himself. That was the third inning, which was blown open by Gibson with a two baser along the left foul line. Leifield sacrificed him to third, and Becker smashed a hot one to Evers' right. John of Troy came up with the ball, however, and shot it home in time to kill off Gibson's run. Leach's grounder closed the hole tightly.

Great Catch by Clarke.

Clarke's burglary of Chance's wallop came off at the start of the second inning and staved off probable runs. Steinfeldt was passed and Evers hit over second for what ought to have been a safe one, but Wagner blocked the ball and recovered in time to force Steiny. Evers stole when they tried to catch him off first, but Tinker flied. Steiny tried to lead the Cubs to glory in the fifth, which he opened with a single. Evers sacrificed, but Tinker and Kling were unequal to the task of breaking the row of ciphers.

The break came in the sixth and after bright hopes had grown dim at that. Brown led off with a walk, but Slagle's bunt toward third forced him at second. Sheckard pulled one safely between first and second, although Abby partially blocked it. Slagle went to third on it. Schulte rapped to Leach, who nailed Slagle at the plate and the chance to score seemed gone. Hofman, however, worked Leifield for a pass, filling the bases, and Steinfeld emptied two of them with a smash to left. Clarke just missed making a circus catch of it. He dived forward and apparently caught the ball, then had to reach behind him on the ground to pick it up and the rooters went madder than March hares at the narrow escape. Sheckard and Schulte scored on the rap. Evers was passed, filling the corners again, but Tinker skied.

Make Game Safe in Seventh.

The seventh made it safe. Kling started it with a double over Wilson's head. Brown bunted and beat it, Leifield misplaying the bound in his effort to get John at third. Leifield got Slagle's grounder and retired him without letting Kling home. Sheckard hit sharply to Swacina, whose throw headed Kling off at home, then John gave them a merry chase, in which he came off victor, because of his tight fitting shirt. Gibson ran Kling back toward third and tossed the ball to Leach, who was confident he could beat John in a fifteen yard sprint. They tore for the plate with Leach gaining an inch at every jump, but the distance was too short and Kling's forward toe scratched the pan before Leach dug the ball into the small of his back—so the umpire said, and he was official judge at the finish.

That upset the Pirate craft. Although Schulte groundered out, Wagner missed an easy chance to retire the side on Hofman's roller, letting in two more runs, and Steinfeldt once more punched out a double, this time to right center, scoring Artie.

Brown Gives Pirates Two Runs.

Having the game sewed up, Brownie rested a bit in the final two innings and the Pirates batted in two runs off him. A single, a double, and an out counted one in the eighth and a triple and an out another in the ninth. Score:

THE CONSPIRACY.

NOTES OF THE CUBS.

Philadelphia next.

Schulte robbed Swacina of a line drive meant for extra bases in the second inning of the first game.

The Cubs have won two of the five games played with the Pirates this year. They still owe the schedule five games.

The first clash between east and west begins today with the eastern clubs as invaders. The Phillies will be here for four games.

After the famine a feast, and the eagerness of the fans to gorge themselves exhausted the resources even of the enlarged grandstand.

The mob was exceedingly well behaved, despite its numbers, only one scrap out in the right field section distracting attention from those on the diamond.

Abby struck out in the ninth and Moran muffed the ball. Abby took a kick at it, hoping to reach first by the trick, but O'Day promptly called him out. Moran's throw beat him anyway.

Howard, batting for Slagle in the ninth inning of the second, soaked a liner close to the ground near first base. Swacina reached and stabbed the hit, which would have made a lot of trouble if he had missed it.

The designer of the league pennant apparently thought the wind always blew from the north in Chicago. Yesterday the breeze came the other way and to read the lettering it would have been necessary to stand on one's head. So far as noticed every one was content to guess.

Swacina lost his life in the fifth of the first game by slipping at the plate when he hit the ball to Tinker. At that he could have regained it if he had not loafed to first. Tinker threw poorly and Hofman muffed the ball, but Artie had time to recover it before the tardy runner reached the bag.

Becker escaped an error in the fifth of the second game. Evers had made the first hit off Willis and played hit and run with Tinker, who raised a high one to right. Evers tore back toward first to escape a double play, but Becker muffed, trying to throw before he caught the ball. Evers then tried for second, but Becker got the ball in time to force him out.

Chance pulled off a funny one in the second game. Although Pfiester had struck out twice, he batted for himself in the eighth after two were out. But when Jack scratched a hit over Abby's head Zimmerman was put on first to run for him and immediately was nailed stealing second. Overall was called in to pitch the ninth and gave three bases on balls, which cost nothing because Leach was caught off first.

The crowd, which was by far the biggest of the season, brought out a weak spot or two in the new arrangements. The overflow from the main stand had to be let out the former way and formed a procession out to right field foul ground. Umpire O'Day ordered the procession stopped between innings. Also there is no way to get from one 50 cent stand to the other when either is crowded. In consequence the third base side overflowed, while there were seats left in the right field stand. These afterward were nearly filled from the crowd on the field.

still, and the men behind them were out to the last notch to help. Twice the Cubs seemed destined to score. In the second inning Hofman led with a pass, and Steinfeldt followed with a smash which sailed far out over left field with Clarke in full cry. Just as he reached the edge of the crowd the Pirate leaped and grabbed the ball, coming down on a promiscuous lot of corns, but spoiling the hit.

In the fourth Sheckard led with another walk and was sacrificed to second. Hofman popped out, but again Steiny lifted a mighty one left fieldward. Again it sailed out to the overflow, and again Clarke jumped and pinched it in broad daylight. This time he went almost out of sight into the mass of humanity, all that was visible being his arms held aloft with the white ball gleaming against his black mitt.

Once it seemed as if the Pirates could not be kept from scoring. Abby led in the fifth with a double past Steinfeldt and was bunted to third by Swacina. Wilson hit slowly to Steiny, who grabbed the ball a-running and fired it at Moran without looking. It beat Abby half a step, and Patsy did the rest. Wilson was nailed stealing.

Pfiester in Bad Hole.

When Leach opened the seventh with a triple just out of Slagle's eager grasp it looked desperate. But Pfiester painstakingly struck out Clarke amid yelps of joy. Then Wagner was passed purposely. With Abby up and Leach still waiting at third, they tried the squeeze play, but Abby missed the ball and Leach was a dead bird, although Wagner reached second on the out. Just as the danger seemed averted, with two men gone, Abby repaired his mistake by swatting a single over second, on which Wagner dashed home with the first, last, and only run. Score:

ARIONS SHUT OUT THE NORMALS

Pitcher Stremmel Allows Only Two Hits—Batting of McKenna and Holmes a Feature.

The Arions shut out the Normals, 5 to 0, yesterday at Normal Park, Phil Stremmel allowing the home team only two hits. Stremmel's pitching and the batting of McKenna and Holmes were the features, along with a sensational throw by Fenton, nailing Dillon at the plate, and a great double play started by Dillon. Score:

Three hard fought games were played in the second round of the City league yesterday. Ten innings were required for the Logan Squares to get the decision over the Athletics, 4 to 3. Both Jimmy Callahan and "Skel" Roach had the best kind of support. Hits in three different sessions gave the home team its runs, while two hits and a wild pitch allowed the Athletics two in the seventh, and in the ninth they tied it up. The winning run was made in the tenth, when "Cal" got a pass and Hertel hit. They pulled off a double steal, and after Campion had struck out, Hayes threw Meinke's grounder wild to the plate, Callahan scoring. Score:

Quality

Some of the raincoats I will sell you today are $30 and $35 sorts, but I'll take $20 for them. The rain came too late for me, but just in time for you. I have some topcoats that have lost the profit from their tickets without losing any of their real value—and some midseason spring suits which ought to be $10 more than $20 and $25. Now let it rain, get colder or warmer. I've aimed at any weather that today brings.

BY CHARLES DRYDEN.

Before a decorous Sabbath gathering that filled the overflow seats the Sox and Naps halved the double header and sent the folks away as happy as could be expected. Pitcher Thielman's freak double beat us 3 to 1 in the ninth round of the opener, and Smith shut the hostiles out, 2 to 0, in the second game.

About the time the big crowd was dismissed fire broke out in the new roof seats back of first base. An alarm brought three ladder trucks, five hose carts, and as many engines, but brave Looie Comiskey squirted on the lurid flames with an extinguisher and put them out before the machinery arrived. It is thought spontaneous combustion set fire to a Merry Widow hat as the wearer was passing out and she dropped a few sparks.

Cincy Castoff Real Goods.

Dr. White opposed Thielman, a Cincy castoff, in the first game, which the Nap pitcher won himself, assisted by the Sox. The Cleveland crew outbatted the locals two to one, making twelve swats off the slender southpaw. Four of the dozen lumped in the ninth decided the combat after the Sox had tied the score at 1 to 1 in the fourth.

Mr. Hickman, who had a host of friends present, started the trouble in the ninth. Jones and Anderson permitted Cheerful Charles' easy fly to drop between them. Perring and Thielman soaked doubles. The last swipe produced two runs and the game.

Jones circled the bases in the fourth on a pass, a hit by Davis, and Anderson's sacrifice fly.

Piano Mover a Winner.

Still another Cincy discard, Mr. Chech, tackled Smith in the second section, and the piano mover beat him to it. Smith's vapor float shut the Naps out with four singles, two of which were scratches. Chech pitched a sterling game, holding the Sox to six hits, three of which figured in the runs. Twice the home team had the corners loaded and none out and but one tally resulted from these grand holiday offerings.

Fred Clarke's brother, Josh, slipped up on a fly that gave the Sox their first run in the fourth after two out, and the second marker came across in the sixth on safeties by Davis and Anderson and a sacrifice fly.

Quick Stop for Hickman.

Josh Clarke introduced the big double bill at 1:30 p. m. by striking out. Stovall singled and Lajoie sacrificed. Bemis poled a liner to right, scoring Stovall. After Bemis stole, Birmingham grounded to Donohue. In the next the ponderous Hickman amazed all beholders by racing out a slow bump to third. But when Hick tried to steal Sullivan flagged him a couple of car lengths from the bag.

Dr. White employed diplomacy in the third. One out, Josh Clarke singled and was advanced by Stovall. While the fearful Lajoie pawed the dirt at the plate the doctor and Sullivan consulted and decided to pass the patient. They walked the dangerous athlete and whiffed Bemis, while the welkin rang with plaudits.

In the local third Lajoie speared a hit from Tannehill by running back and plucking the ball in the bare hand. Sullivan broke the spell with the first hit for the Sox and was forced by White. Dougherty was thrown out by Lajoie.

Naps Fail in Fourth.

A hit by Birmingham and Hinchman's sacrifice put a Nap on second with one out in the fourth. Davis backed into short left for Hickman's pop and Perring lined to left.

Timber Jones, so called to distinguish him from all other Joneses, tied the count in the local fourth. Timber drew a pass, got a flying start, and went to third on a single by Davis. Anderson's long fly to center tallied the run. Donohue grounded to Larry and Atz popped to short. Tannehill started the fifth with a double. Sullivan's tap to the pitcher stopped Tanny at third. White forced Sullivan and Dougherty was chucked out by Lajoie.

Thielman's Double Brings Victory.

One out in the ninth, Jones and Anderson allowed Hickman's fly to fall safe. Perring doubled along the third base line. The infield drew up and Thielman bounced a double over Davis' head, scoring Hickman and Perring. Josh Clarke singled, Stovall struck out, and Lajoie flied to center. Anderson ripped off a single and Donohue flied to short. Atz smote to Thielman and the Sox perished in a double play via second. Score:

Sox Miss Good Chance.

Second game—The south siders missed a noble opening in the first round after the Naps had been disposed of. Bases full, nobody out, and no sign of a tally. Dougherty doubled in a spot too remote for Hickman's large legs. Jones walked and Davis singled to left, filling the corners. Anderson's whack to Perring forced Dougherty at the pan. Donohue did the same for Jones, with Stovall making the assist, and Atz struck out.

That round proved a clearing house for one Chech, all right. Nothing more of a serious nature occurred until the third. Dougherty scratched a safety and hung around first base until Jones and Davis had flied out. Then Chech caught Pat dreaming off the bag and awoke him with a gentle slam to Stovall. After two gone in the fourth, Hinchman made a safety, which Davis tackled on the high side of second and Hickman, the robust walker, fouled out.

Two Base Muff by Josh Clarke.

Brother Josh Clarke contributed a tally to the Sox cause in the fourth. Anderson and Donohue filed out. Atz poked a smart one to left on which Josh made a two base muff. Atz gained the second station by an earth rasping slide and Tannehill counted him with a timely drive to left. Sullivan bumped to Chech.

One gone in the sixth, Lajoie singled, making the third swat for the Naps, and went to second on the out of Nig Clarke. A fine stop by Tannehill disposed of Birmingham.

Again in the sixth the Sox filled the corners and squeezed one run from the combination. Davis and Anderson made hits, the former gaining third on John's swipe. Donohue bumped to Lajoie and they got Davis penned up on the path between third and home. On the dash back to third Nig Clarke's low throw to Perring saved the runner. Atz popped to Hinchman in short left and Davis tallied on the out. Tannehill was thrown out by Chech. Nig Clarke caught Donohue off second and Anderson started for the pan. They chased him to death, Lajoie getting the putout.

No Chance for Naps.

The visitors stood no show whatever against Smith and the stone fence support behind him.

NOTES OF THE WHITE SOX.

No game on the south side until Sunday, May 31.

Tannehill accepted fifteen chances without a slip and batted the winning run across in the second game.

Ropes were stretched around the outfield, but the overflow crowd did not invade that section of the works.

Mr. Perring, who looked like a Herring at short one week ago, played good ball at third, his regular position.

Lajoie launched a swat that Dougherty knocked down close to the rope in left and the Nap chief got but one base.

Atz wrecked a hit for Hickman back of second base in the last game and completed a great play by chucking Cheerful out at first.

Fearless Bill Evans showed up in place of Egan, but O'Loughlin worked both games behind the bat and dusted the plate himself.

A purple M. W. hat two feet high passed along in front of the first base overflow during the Nap rally in the ninth round of the opening.

Manager Jones carried sixteen men, including himself, Owen, Walsh, Smith, White, Altrock, Shaw, for extra catcher, and Parent and Hahn.

When Thielman's freak double bounded over Davis in the ninth with the infield up, Jones came in, got the ball, and almost beat the runner to second.

The Sox pulled out for Philadelphia at 3 o'clock this morning. With any kind of luck they should reach the Quaker stronghold at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning.

After making a hit in the sixth round of the first game, Anderson went to second on a balk. Thielman protested, but O'Loughlin rendered a verdict of guilty.

B. Sullivan appeared in a new green straight front, lashed on with yellow leather galluses crossed at the back. Bill allowed Mr. Bemis to try the new fangled thing.

They sent but one man to third base. Smith was better at the windup than at the start. In the ninth he fanned Nig Clarke and Hinchman. Score:

First Clash Results in a Six to Two Score, While the Second Is Eleven to Four.

St. Louis, Mo., May 10.—Detroit took both games from St. Louis today, the first game by a score of 6 to 2 and the second game by a score of 11 to 4. In the first game Waddell was replaced by Pelty. In the second game Graham started pitching, but was relieved by Dineen. Wild pitching by both men and erratic fielding were responsible for St. Louis' defeat. Scores:

NEW YORK RACING LOSES PRESTIGE.

Crusade Against Betting Estranges Many Former Supporters.

FATE OF SPORT IN DOUBT.

Attendant Evils Draw Converts Standing for Expedient Rather than Principle.

New York, May 10.—[Special.]—Whether or not this is to be the last season of horse racing around New York is a question on which well informed men appear to differ greatly. But to a man from the outside it looks as if the sport steadily was losing ground.

Gov. Hughes' campaign against the tracks is scarcely so effective in its political as in its moral effects.

The wealthy friends of racing cared little for public crusade against the sport so long as the active agitators were largely made up of those popularly regarded as "chronic reformers" in alliance with a few disgruntled poolroom men who had been put out of business by the tracks. But Gov. Hughes' persistent and relentless characterization of the sport as gambling, echoed and reechoed by the press of almost the entire state, has begun to make these men wince. The effect, it is believed, must surely be to diminish the interest in racing among the wealthier classes, even if the sport is not stopped, and racing is dependent upon these wealthier classes for support under its present conditions of $3 admission fee and a $5 limit for wagers.

Reflects Chicago Conditions.

The same effect was observable in Chicago a few years ago. When the papers began a crusade against the tracks it speedily showed results in the class of the attendance.

Many persons who favor the greatest individual license in most matters have become prejudiced against racing because of the widespread hold it has gained on the masses. It is this element which has been aroused by Gov. Hughes. Anti-racing agitators of this brand are similar to those throughout the south, who recently have swung over to the cause of prohibition, not as a matter of principle but as an expedient.

Both the race track men and the "antis" agree that "tipping" has spread the track gambling vice among the masses, who seldom go to the track for the sufficient reason that they cannot afford it.

Escorts May Be Secured.

The metropolitan tracks this season in forbidding the admission of women not accompanied by male escorts has paved the opportunity for bright young men to earn a living during the summer time. Witness the following advertisement which appeared recently:

REFINED, NEAT APPEARING GENTLEMAN will accompany one or more ladies to the races; expenses.

WAR TO OPEN ON RACETRACKS.

Louisiana Legislature to Be Scene of Conflict at Session Which Will Open Today.

Baton Rouge, La., May 10.—Racetrack gambling prohibition, and cotton futures are the three big issues in sight before the opening of the Louisiana legislature here tomorrow. It is believed tonight that the hardest fight will be made to abolish race track gambling and with it the winter racing which for years has been a feature of the season in New Orleans. It is a certainty that if the racetracks escape absolute closing they will be subjected to rigid regulations covering betting.

THE BRONCHO FOALS COLT OF HIGH DEGREE AT PALATINE.

Inbred to Great Speed of George Wilkes in Blood of Both Sire and Dam—James Doble Is Owner.

BY HENRY TEN EYCK WHITE.

The Broncho, 2:00¾, champion pacing mare, holder of twelve world's records, foaled a bay colt at the Dean farm at Palatine, Ill., at noon yesterday. The mare had gone seventeen days over the usual period of gestation, and although she was strong and hearty there naturally had been some anxiety on the part of her attendants.

The colt was sired by Willie Benton, pacing record 2:06¾, a son of Wilton, 2:19¼; he by George Wilkes, 2:22. As The Broncho is by Stormcliffe, 2:13¼, pacing, a grandson of George Wilkes, the colt is inbred to the greatest sire of harness speed.

The Broncho will not be bred this season. As soon as it is wise to separate her for a short time each day from the foal her jogging will be resumed. Later she will be gradually brought along until she is up to a heat in 2:10, when she will be let down again and jogged next winter with a view to the campaign of 1909.

The colt born yesterday is the property of James Doble of Winnipeg, Mr. Rochon having wagered his interest in it on the proposition that it would arrive before May 1. There are now on the Dean farm three pacing colts out of mares that at different periods held the world's record in a race, the others being a pair of 2 year old stallions by Direct Hal, 2:04¼, out of Bessie Bonehill, 2:05¾, and Lady of the Manor, 2:04¼.

SKAT PRIZE TO MILWAUKEEAN.

John Ripple of Brewery City Takes Chief Award in Special Tourney of Chicago League.

A special tournament of the Chicago Skat league was held at the Sherman house yesterday as a final practice for the members that will attend the national tournament to be held in New York City next month. More than 200 players competed, John Ripple of Milwaukee winning first prize with 26 games and 779 points. The prize winners were as follows:

First—J. Ripple, 26 games, 779 points.
Second—P. Conrad, 22 games, 701 points.
Third—Max Wortsmann, club solo against seven matadores.
Fourth—Phil Lochmann, 21 games, 563 points.

GAMES IN SOCCER LEAGUE

Coal City Team Increases Lead for Spalding Cup.

TWO TIED FOR SECOND PLACE

Pullmans Beat the Hyde Park Blues by Score of 2 to 1.

SPALDING CUP SERIES.

	W.	L.	Pts.		W.	L.	Pts.
Coal City	5	0	10	Pullman	1	3	2
Hyde Park	3	1	7	Woodlawns	0	4	0
Cam. Rovers	3	1	7	Campbells	0	3	0

Coal City increased its lead in the Spalding cup contest of the Association Football League of Chicago yesterday by winning from the tailend Campbells, 6 to 1. Hyde Park lost to the Pullmans, 2 to 1, and is tied for second place with the Campbell Rovers, who beat the Woodlawns 3 to 1.

Pullman had out a strong team while the Hyde Park Blues were patched up, Evans being on his way to England, while J. Brown and Andy Watt both were unable to appear. Under these conditions the 2 to 1 victory for Pullman was not a surprise.

Hibbott, a former Blue reserve player, scored both goals against his former team mates. The first came after thirty minutes of play in the first half. In less than two minutes Shallcross centered across the goal mouth and Hibbott made a telling shot. Sheppard scored for the Blues after four minutes of play in the second half. Lineup:

Pullman [2].		Hyde Park [1].
Wettengel	Goal	Burton
G. Kelly	Right back	Heale
Williamson	Right half back	Overberg

Hibbott	Inside right	Leach
Smith	Center	J. Watt
Murray	Inside left	Mair

Goals—Hibbott [2], Sheppard. Referee—Doig.

Rovers Win from Woodlawns.

The Campbell Rovers defeated the Woodlawns on a slow field at Hand's Park 3 goals to 1. The Scotchmen scored once in the first half and added two goals in the second before Linley counted the sole point made by Woodlawn. Lineup:

Woodlawns [1].		Campbell Rovers [3].
Randall	Goal	Soutter
Bowman	Rightback	Watt
Cuthbert	Leftback	Ferguson
Spencer	Right Halfback	Blair
Beeman	Center Halfback	Stevenson

Stevenson	Center	Wyllie

Goals—Davidson [2], Wyllie [1], Linley. Referee—Wilde.

Coal City won its sixth successive victory, defeating the Campbells, 6 to 1, at Coal City. It was a slow and uninteresting game, the visitors playing in a listless manner. Lineup:

Campbells [1].		Coal City [6].
Jameson	Goal	Archibald
Jas. Shallcross	Right back	G. Tallman
Jn. H. Shallcross	Right half back	R. McKean

Referee—Clarke.

In a hard fought match the Hibernians, leaders in the Jackson cup series of the Chicago league of association football, defeated the MacDuffs, their nearest rivals, and secured a clean lead of four points. The Sherman Parks defeated the Davitts, 5 goals to 2, and are tied with them for third place.

The Hibernian-MacDuff match drew a good crowd to the West Side Driving park, the Irishmen winning on a penalty kick, which the Scotchmen claim should not have been allowed.

Sherman park surprised the Davitts by winning at Sherman Park 5 to 2. The victors counted three times in the first half and never were in danger.

Owing to the absence of Referee Dockery the Hammond-Ravenswood match will not stand officially. The Hammonds claim a 0 to 0 draw and the Ravenswoods say they got one goal.

STRANG TO DRIVE AT ALGONQUIN

Auto Expert Will Take Part in Hill Climb, Returning to This City on Thursday.

Lewis Strang, the American auto driver, who, in the last two months, has taken prominent parts in all the big automobile races held in this country, dropped into the city yesterday from Buffalo to visit friends. Strang will pilot a Thomas in the hill climb on Friday at Algonquin. He left last night for New York, where he will make arrangements to ship the "Thomas 90," which he will drive in the Grand Prix at Paris. Strang will return on Thursday in time for the event at Algonquin, but will not do any driving on the hill before the contest.

CLEVER HURLING AT GAELIC PARK.

Champion Delcassians Have a Narrow Escape from Defeat by Shamrocks.

FOOTBALL CONTEST ALSO.

In Match Between Sarsfields and Columbias Former Win Rather Easily.

The champion Delcassians had a narrow escape from defeat at the hands of the Shamrocks in their hurling match yesterday at Gaelic park, the score at one time standing 1 goal 7 points for the cupholders and 1 goal 6 points for their rivals.

A large crowd was in attendance and found the accommodations inadequate. The field was in good shape and the teams showed some clever hurling. The new men secured by both clubs made their presence felt at all times and instilled considerable spirit into the game.

The champions forced the play in the first half and almost immediately after the whistle they scored on a long drive from center field. The Shamrocks played a good defensive game, but were unlucky in their drives on goal, with the result that the Delcassians were a goal to the good at the end of the half hour.

In the last period the going was made all the way by Shamrocks and good combination resulted in a goal shortly before time was called. They were then only two points behind and made strenuous efforts to tie up the match, but a single point more was all they could get. Lineup:

Delcassan's [1 goal, 7 pts.]		Shamr'ks [1 goal, 6 pts.]
P. Sexton	Goal	Tracey
O'Brien	Full back	Leahy
Halloran	Right half back	O'Brien

In the football match the Sarsfields won from the Columbias by 1 goal and 4 points to 4 points. The winners had it easy in the first half and scored four singles, while their opponents could not connect with a count. The firemen, however, did better in the last half and held the Sarsfields well. During this period the play generally was in the latter's territory. Lineup:

Sarsfields [1 goal, 4 points].		Columbias [4 points].

NORTH DIVISION ATHLETES REGARD MEYER AS GOOD OMEN

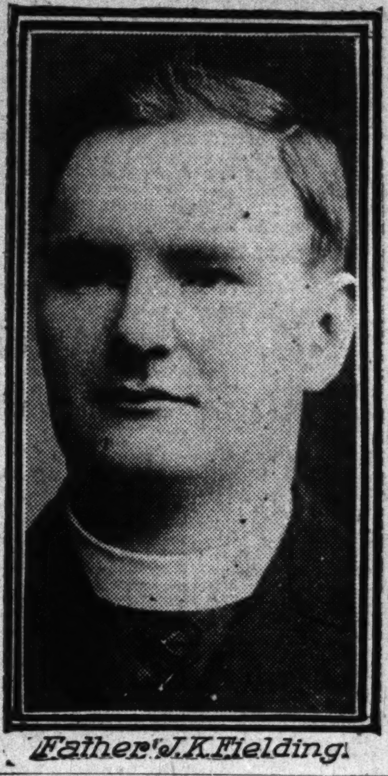

His Competition in the Beloit Interscholastic Meet May Mean Lifting of Ban by Principal Westcott.

The report that Principal Wescott of the North Division high school is preparing to lift the ban placed on athletes last year and allow them to compete in interschool athletics gains credence from the entry of Sidney Meyer in the Beloit interscholastic meet last Saturday. Meyer is the first North Division athlete who has been able to get permission to compete since the boys were thrown out of the league last year. Meyer took part in the Badger state games and won the discus throw.

Hard training is booked for the Oak Park boys who failed to perform as well as expected. Grant Randolph and Ray Barnes, two of the best men, who showed poor form, will work hard to pick up points at Champaign next Saturday. Wendell Phillips is to be feared in the coming event from the way Kuhn gathered in points at Beloit.

The Red and Black captain is in the best kind of condition, as was shown by the good time he made. Lipski was off edge and must do some hard training.

ONE SHORT OF PERFECTION IN SHOOT FOR THE TROPHY.

William Pugh Makes Forty-nine Out of Fifty Targets in Shoot for the Stone Cup.

William Pugh took the feature event in the Chicago Gun club's weekly shoot yesterday afternoon. He carried away the Fred Stone cup with a score of 49 targets out of 50 while set on the eighteen yard mark.

Pugh was closely pressed in this match by Roll and Voltman, who were but one target behind. The largest entry list of the year lined up for the cup and more than 2,000 targets were thrown in this event alone. Summaries:

ATTEL SECURES ANOTHER FIGHT

Will Meet Either Packey McFarland or Winner of the Ganz-Unholz Contest.

San Francisco, Cal., May 10.—[Special.]—Promoter Sam Berger has signed Abe Attel to meet either the winner of the Gans-Unholz fight or Packey McFarland of Chicago on the night of June 4, before his club, at 133 pounds ringside. Attel's opponent is thus something of an uncertainty, but he is willing to meet any one of the three men named and has posted $500 to bind the match.

ATHLETIC RIVALS CLASH THIS WEEK

Maroon and Illinois to Compete at Urbana on Friday and Saturday.

GREAT CONTESTS LIKELY

Track and Baseball Championships Will Be Decided by the Outcome.

Two collegiate championships—track and baseball—will be settled at Urbana on Friday and Saturday of this week in what promises to be a two days' program brimming with good sport. Chicago's athletes will meet their old rivals, the Illini, in two baseball games and a track meet, while the freshman track men also will come together.

Friday afternoon the track teams will meet for what seems to be the deciding of the season's honors. The games will be followed by a baseball contest between the Maroons and the Illini. Saturday afternoon the baseball teams again will face each other. Illinois and Chicago now stand alone in the race for the championship honors.

Director Stagg was well pleased with the showing of his track men in the meet with the C. A. A. athletes. He believes his team will be much stronger in the coming meet than it was in the games Saturday.

Capt. Quigley will resume his training this afternoon in the hope of defeating May of Illinois in the sprints. Quigley's condition, however, does not indicate he will be in good shape.

Stanford's absence from the list of entries in the conference meet caused no small surprise at the Midway. If the men from the coast do not put in an appearance at the intercollegiate games in June the Maroons expect to win a victory. Otherwise, they figure for themselves only a fighting chance.

WILD WEEK IN WHEAT PIT

Speculative Fireworks Touched Off by Government Report.

BULLS HOLD THE WHIP HAND

Shorts Stampede for Shelter When Washington Issues Statement.

Operations in last week's wheat market were enlivened by a burst of speculative fireworks immediately following the issuance of the government's May crop report. Calculating upon a bearish statement, the trade was greatly surprised when the department of agriculture came out with a report that bristled with bullishness. An unexpectedly large decrease of winter wheat acreage and a sharp loss in condition sent oversold shorts scampering for shelter, the result being a big bulge within a few minutes.

Aside from the bullish crop report the market optimists were favored by many other influences, principally an awakening of the export demand, continued lightness of receipts at primary points, and strength in markets abroad. The diminishing reserves at home and in Europe have served as one of the principal items in the bulls' argument. According to the popular method of computation, the government's statement indicated a winter wheat yield of about 460,000,000 bu, against a harvest of about 410,000,000 bu last year. The condition of wheat on May 1 was given at 89, against 91.3 a month before. The trade in general had looked for a condition of between 91 and 93, being prompted in their belief by a steady and general run of fine crop reports from both winter and spring wheat territories.

Bullish Crop Advices Received.

Late in the week important producing counties of Kansas and Oklahoma sent word that the plant was showing marked deterioration, a result of drought, too much moisture in the lowlands, and invasion by Hessian flies and chinch bugs. Bears, after recovering from the shock in the government report, figured that crop conditions were favorable after all, pointing out that the principal losses were in the comparatively unimportant sections of the Pacific coast. Saturday morning witnessed a heavy selling movement, prices going back sharply, but before the short session ended it was apparent that the selling had been overdone, rebuying causing a sharp reaction. Week end quotations represented net gains of 1⅞c for May, 2¾@2⅞c for July, and 2⅜c for September, compared to those of the week before.

A good part of the foreign strength was based on lightness of Argentine exports and a tightening of cargo offerings off the English coast. While France reported weather too cold, conditions in Germany, Hungary, and other parts of the continent showed improvement. Response of most of the foreign marts to the big bulge here on Friday was painfully disappointing to the bulls, Budapest and Berlin actually showing declines in the face of the 3c rise born of the government report.

World's Exports Running Light.

World's exports are weekly running well under current requirements, and advices from the leading export nations do not indicate that the near future will show much of an improvement. Experts calculated that last week's total shipments would be not more than 6,000,000 bu, or about 4,000,000 bu less than those of the corresponding period last year. Supplies on ocean passage are showing big decreases regularly, and the falling off in the visible supply is strongly pointed to by the believers in high prices. The public as yet has not taken much interest in the market, but commission houses believe that the time is not far away when the outside element will return to the market.

Cash Wheat Premiums High.

Premiums for cash wheat are soaring and stocks of the actual grain at leading distributing centers are far from burdensome. The general flour demand has been only moderate at best, but students of the situation feel that an early marked improvement will come. Duluth reported enormous sales of durum and Manitoba wheat to Europe and the seaboard noted some improvement in the European call for red winter. The big bulge on this side of the water served to check the export inquiry, but exporters all over the country believe that the foreigners eventually must flock to America for their grain.

Sound Tone to Corn.

Strength was characteristic of the week in corn, developments in the May being of the sensational order. That month bounded up to 75c, the loftiest level reached since 1902. Heavy deliveries were so readily cared for that shorts became frantic early in the week in their endeavor to reach shelter. Patten and his following confidently believe that prices will go considerably higher and that they will have no difficulty in merchandising their heavy holdings. Week end quotations showed 3¾@3½c for the current month, ½c off for July, and ¼@⅜c firmer for September.

Traders in general are banking much more strongly on weather conditions, general wetness last week serving the bulls in good stead. Planting in important sections has been retarded by heavy and steady rains, which have interfered with shipping operations. Students of the market believe that there still is a heavy short interest in the current month, which, they believe, will work higher before all are satisfied. The movement to primary points ran light again, and there was considerable improvement in the cash demand from the east, where stocks are said to be much lighter than is generally believed. Late in the week offerings by Iowa, Nebraska, and Illinois assumed such heavy proportions that prices had difficulty in keeping from declining sharply. The visible supply was reduced about 700,000 bu last week and the bulls are counting strongly on further important losses in the near future. The speculative trade during the week was largely of a professional character, the Patten-Bartlett crowd leading in the operations.

Oats Trade Is Nervous.

Trading in the oats market was nervous the greater part of the time, with more activity being shown. Easiness prevailed in the earlier sessions, but later in the week covering by shorts who became uneasy over possible wet weather results, resulted in a marked stiffening of values. Week end quotations showed 2¼c firmer for old May, 1⅜c for new May, ½c for old July, ½c for new July, and ⅛c easier for September.

The Patten interests are in control of the situation and they believe that they will have no difficulty in merchandising their heavy holdings. It is gossiped that there still is an important short interest in the current month. The grain is being moved out as rapidly as possible. Total stocks in all positions showed an increase of 167,000 bu for the week. While the current month delivery may show "fireworks" at any moment, the trade is devoting most of its attention to the new crop months, which will be influenced almost entirely by weather conditions from now on.

Provision Trade Moves Cautiously.

Last week's trade in the provision market was of the easy going, careful sort, with the undertone generally firm. Heavy receipts of swine at the leading western packing centers and quietness in the cash markets were the principal drawbacks to bullish endeavor, but the strength in the grain list prevented the bears from making much headway at any time. The week's western packing, while showing an increase, still shows under that of a year ago.

Week in Live Stock Trade.

Lighter supplies of steers counterbalanced a restricted consumptive demand for dressed beef and sent the average price for fat lightweight cattle to the highest point reached in the last five years, while the choice heavy beef steers were within a few cents of the best price ever attained in the history of the trade. At the close conditions were favorable for continued strength and activity in the market for prime medium weight cattle, as many orders for these were carried over unfilled, owing to the insufficient offerings, while it was expected that farmers will take advantage of the more favorable weather to devote more time to their field work, which will prevent excessive marketings. Advices from abroad were to the effect that offerings of American beeves on the foreign markets were light, and a broader demand from exporters is expected, as they have been but moderate buyers the last two weeks. Although increased receipts of hogs had been predicted, the week's run exceeded all expectations, but prices were remarkably well maintained, the close being only 9c lower than that of a week ago, while the average price for the week showed a slight gain. Packers were the mainstay of the hog market and took the bulk of the receipts, while shippers secured only their usual quota. The quality of the offerings was about the best of the season, and despite the heavy run the final clearance was the most satisfactory in several weeks. Advices from the country indicate the supply of hogs back in the feed lots still is liberal, but traders do not look for another week of heavy receipts, as they think farmers will be too busy for the next few days to do much marketing. Lighter receipts of sheep and lambs the last few days of the week, with a brisker demand from local and outside buyers were reflected in prices, but the situation did not look exceptionally healthy and shippers were advised to market their stock conservatively, as traders fear that lower values will follow any increase in the arrivals.

BETTER TONE IN STOCK LIST; WALL STREET IS ENCOURAGED

[FROM THE NEW YORK TIMES' FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, May 10.—[Special.]—At a slower pace the stock market continued last week the advance under way for a month or more. Such irregularity as the movement betrayed appeared to be due mainly to profit taking on the part of small speculators who had followed the operations of their more important brethren at a respectful distance.

On the part of those in actual control of the market there seemed to be no wavering and no liquidation of moment was to be traced to this source. Participation in the market by the public was entirely lacking, and the business of Wall street commission houses seems in no way to have derived substantial advantage from the sustained and active speculation in stocks.

Actual news developments of the week were not of sufficient importance to explain the immediate strength of prices, which is, of course, only another way of saying that the movement is still professional and based by those having it in charge upon prospects rather than on present conditions. Nevertheless to many observers the market appears to be outrunning even prospects.

Pennsylvania Loan Has Good Effect.

So far as the investment market proper is concerned, it is already bringing its reward to those who were courageous enough to form opinion months ago and stand by them. The success of the Pennsylvania offering has been made conspicuous, of course, but many of the smaller bond houses in the financial district have succeeded in disposing of numerous issues of securities at good prices. The sale of the Interborough 6 per cent notes in such fashion as to yield a bid of 2¾ per cent to members of the underwriting syndicate was a noteworthy event. Good crops seem fairly well assured, at least so far as they can be at this season of the year, and presidential perplexities are slowly dissolving.

Evidence of improvement in the general trade situation comes to hand slowly. As one section begins to feel the touch of reviving demand another is running entirely out of orders, and the result is conflicting reports. Bank clearings, however, continue to show improvement at many inland cities and in others hold their own in surprising degree. The situation is reflected also in the railroad world, where many important lines are beginning to report smaller decreases from last year's gross figures, although inequality is also apparent here.

Feeling of Depression in London.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, May 10.—Local markets were adversely affected last week both by home and foreign news. Indian unrest depressed consols and other gilt edged securities, and, although Mr. Asquith's budgetary proposals were highly commended by such authorities as the editor of the Economist, the city generally takes the worst possible view of governmental finance. Consequently, despite ease of the money market, the business of the stock exchange has been restricted and prices are down. The American market has been irregular.

More Buoyant in Paris.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, May 10.—Good news from America exerted a beneficial influence last week, and bourse prices in all departments generally are higher and trading more active than it has been for a long time. An excellent impression was made by the success of the Pennsylvania issue, strengthened by the announcement of more borrowing by the Union Pacific. French financiers believe this presages a fresh era of industrial activity.

TRADE IN WHOLESALE LINES.

Retailers took advantage of a lull in the consumptive demand for warm weather fabrics, due to unseasonable weather, to replenish depleted stocks, and dry goods jobbers booked a satisfactory volume of orders the last week. The low temperatures also served to retard the ripening of the fresh fruits, and extended the canned goods season several weeks, giving wholesale grocers a chance to liquidate burdensome stocks of old crop goods. Reports of crop damage to growing fruits in several sections were reflected in more energetic ordering of goods for future delivery, and, on the whole, dry goods merchants and wholesale grocers had a satisfactory week, while the fact that retailers' stocks are being rapidly depleted warrants anticipations of continued activity.

Uncertainty as to the stability of prices has acted as a restrictive factor in the steel industry, and, although some orders were booked, much business which has been held back for months remained unplaced. Demoralization continued in the pig iron market and further concessions were made in orders for pig and miscellaneous fabricated shapes. Recently noted improvements in the lumber market were maintained and renewed activity was reported in the logging camps of the north, while prospects of higher prices in the southern woods were more promising. Quarry products, builders' hardware, cement, and plumbing materials also reflected wider absorption. Illinois coal miners were reported to have voted to return to work, and while a settlement of the controversy between the miners and operators is expected to relieve the tension that has marked the general coal situation the last week, it will have a depressing influence on prices and declines are anticipated.

Plan for "Memorial Sunday."

Members of Old Glory post, Grand Army of the Republic, yesterday arranged a program for "Memorial Sunday," May 24. The exercises in the morning will be at the Second Presbyterian church, Michigan avenue and Twentieth street. At noon the post will serve luncheon at its headquarters, and in the afternoon an "open meeting" will be held.

BLACKSMITH IN THE PULPIT

Labor Sunday Sermon Preached by President of Brotherhood.

PASTORS LAUD THE UNIONS.

New Minister for Millard Avenue Church Is Coming This Week.

Labor Sunday was observed yesterday in many of the Presbyterian churches of the city as well as in some churches of other denominations. The sermons generally were on the relation of the churches to the workers.

A novelty of the day was a blacksmith occupying the pulpit. James W. Kline, president of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers, addressed the congregation in the Halsted Street Institutional church at night on "Myself and the Other Man."

He said he believed it was just as important for the ministers to offer prayers for the prosperity of the union labor organizations as it was to pray for the president of the United States or the members of the national house of congress.

"Nonunionists derive all the benefits of the labor organizations," he went on. "Whenever wages are increased, those who are not in the organizations reap the same benefit as those who have fought for the increase."

Makes Plea for Co-operation.

In Forty-first Street Presbyterian church the Rev. William Chalmers Covert said among other things:

"The day of organized human interests is here to stay, and through that organized effort, both in the work of capital and that of labor, the world is going forward as it has never done. The day for rancor and mutual bitterness must pass. Men whose sayings and doings affect so vitally the peace and progress of our national life in all its departments must get together in sympathetic and intelligent agreement.

"The labor union is selfish, but its selfishness is modified by its spirit of mutuality and coöperation. It seeks to help. It stands for the weak and helps the once helpless. There must be calm and reasonable approach towards the questions that divide labor and capital by those that differ."

The Rev. Daniel W. Fisher, who has just returned from a tour around the world, addressed the same audience on his observations of economic conditions in New Zealand.

Praise for Labor Unions.

The Rev. W. H. Head of Chicago Heights Methodist Episcopal church preached on "The Religiousness of the Labor Movement."

"The religious labor movement," he said, "is an attempt to occupy two hemispheres of man's existence. There are those who deprecate the labor movement, who would crush it if they could, who see in it only a source of unrest, rebellion, and anarchy.

"It has not stirred up unrest but simply has taken the already existing unrest and put it into concrete expression and attempted to direct it so that it would have intelligent purpose. It has not brought on strikes, but has used strikes to force from an unwilling avarice rights that a true Christian spirit should unsolicited have granted. Some ruffianism and quite a deal of violence have accompanied the labor movement, but these are but the growing pains of a rapidly growing young giant. The labor union stands for fraternity."

Christian Science Criticised.

Christian Science was criticised by the Rev. Ernest Wray Oneal of First Methodist Episcopal church.

"The bible gives no warrant for the belief that bodily cures are at the command of personal faith," he said. "We may not demand by faith what is not pledged to faith. We may not appropriate what is not put at our disposal. God's will may be better served by endurance of suffering than by deliverance from it."

The Rev. H. R. Waldo, who resigned the pulpit of First Baptist church at Winchester, Ill., to accept the pastorate of Millard Avenue Baptist church in this city, will arrive here this week. A farewell union service in his honor was held last night in the church at Winchester.

REAL ESTATE MEN TO FORM A NATIONAL ORGANIZATION.

Delegates from All Over the Country Will Attend Sessions, Which Begin Tomorrow.

In the national convention of real estate exchanges of the United States, which will open in Chicago tomorrow and continue Wednesday and Thursday, there will be delegates from the following cities: San Francisco, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Seattle, Tacoma, Salt Lake City, Denver, Omaha, Sioux City, St. Louis, Kansas City, Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Rockford, Gary, Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston, and Chicago.

Notification to this effect has been received from these cities by Edward A. Halsey, chairman of the national organization committee of the Chicago real estate board, which has charge of the arrangements for the convention. The delegations from the respective cities will vary in size according to the distance from Chicago. The total number of delegates expected from outside of Chicago will be nearly 200.

The sessions of the convention will be held in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian association, 153 La Salle street, beginning at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and closing probably after a morning session on Thursday.

On Tuesday there will be morning, afternoon, and evening sessions. In the evening an address of welcome will be made by Controller Walter H. Wilson. After a response to this greeting there will be a discussion of the topic, "The Value of Organization to Real Estate Men." Representatives of a dozen or more of the leading exchanges will give five minute addresses.

At the morning and afternoon sessions on Tuesday and at the morning session on Wednesday the convention will devote itself to business. It is planned to perfect some form of union which shall bind together in a practical and effective way the real estate men of the United States to their mutual profit and the development of the interests of greatest importance to them.

Wednesday afternoon the visiting delegates will be the guests of the Chicago real estate board. They will be taken for a ride about the city. The members of the Chicago board will provide automobiles. At 6 o'clock on Wednesday the delegates will be entertained at a dinner at the Midday club on the seventeenth floor of the First National Bank building.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS MEET HERE.

National Convention of the Order Will Open Tomorrow at Auditorium Hotel and Continue Five Days.

The national convention of the Royal Neighbors of America will begin tomorrow morning at the Auditorium hotel, ninth floor, and continue in session throughout the week.

Mrs. E. D. Watt of Omaha, Neb., the retiring supreme oracle; Mrs. L. M. Collins of St. Paul, chairman of the supreme board of managers, and Mrs. Mary Fay Hawes of Rock Island, wife of Head Clerk Hawes of the Modern Woodmen of America, are candidates for supreme oracle.

Miss Myrtle E. Dade of Rock Island, the present beneficiary recorder, is a candidate for supreme recorder. Dr. Hada Benkhart of Rock Island is a candidate for supreme physician.

FOREIGN MAIL SCHEDULE.

FOREIGN MAILS WILL CLOSE AT CHICAGO postoffice as follows:

GLORIOUS WEATHER BRIEF; CHICAGO PARADISE FOR DAY.

More Rains and Squalls Coming After Respite, During Which People Crowd Parks and Boulevards.

A shining sun and summer temperature brought the people outdoors in thousands yesterday—the first fine Sunday of the year. The parks were filled and the baseball grounds accommodated hordes.

The mercury began rising from the 55 degree mark early in the morning and by 3 o'clock had mounted to 79 degrees, and women wearing white shirt waists appeared on the boulevards.

However, it is too good to last. The weather man has a storm center up his sleeve out in the middle west, and he says it is going to pour down its showers on Chicago today and tomorrow.

WRONG MEDICINE KILLS CHILD.

Two Year Old Henry Filler Dies When He Is Given Drug Intended for His Father.

A dose of medicine intended for his father caused the death of 2 year old Henry Filler yesterday. The child had been ill for several days, and a physician had been called. When a prescription given by the doctor had been filled a bottle similar to one containing medicine for Mr. Filler was used. The family resides at 986 California avenue.

AUTOMOBILES.

COEY

Automobile Livery Co.

The "COEY" way is the only way.

When you rent an automobile, you want one that will take you where you want to go and bring you back.

You want any size you ask for carrying from two to fourteen people.

We are the only livery in the city that can supply all demands, from our taximeter cabs, carrying from two to four, our limousine cars carrying seven and our theater buses accommodating fourteen, are always at your disposal.

We have but one garage, and that is as large as any other four in Chicago.

We use nothing but the "Thomas Flyer," the car that will take you there and bring you safely home.

No delays, no overcharges, and no green chauffeurs to take you over the wrong roads.

Call us up either DAY or NIGHT.

No disappointments.
